VOL. V.

The FOUR-LEGG'D ELDER: Or a Horrible
Relation of a DOG and an Elder's MAID.

By Sir John Burtonhead.

ALL Christians and Lay-Elders too,
A For Shame amend your Lives;
I I'll tell you of a Dog-trick now,
Which much concerns you Wives:

VOL. V.

B

Aa

An Elder's Maid near Temple-Bar,

(Ah! what a Quean was she?)

Did take an ugly Mastiff Cur,

Where Christians use to be.

Help House of Commons, House of Peers,

Oh now or never help!

Th' Assembly hath not sat Four Years.

Yet hath brought forth a Whelp.

One Evening late she slept aside,

Pretending to fetch Eggs;

And there she made her self a Bride,

To one that had Four Legs:

Her Master heard a Rumblement,

And wonder she did tarry;

Not dreaming (without his consent)

His Dog would ever Marry.

Help House of Commons, &c.

He went to peep, but was afraid,

And hastily did run,

To fetch a Staff to help his Maid,

Not knowing what was done:

He took his Ruling Elders Cane,

And cry'd out help, help, here;

For Swash our Mastiff, and poor Jane,

Are now fight Dog, fight Bear.

Help House of Commons, &c.

But when he came he was full sorry,

For he perceiv'd their Strife;

That according to the Directory,

They Two were Dog and Wife:

Ah! (then said he) thou cruel Quean,

Why hast thou me beguil'd?

I wonder Swash was grown so lean,

Poor Dog he's almost spoil'd.

Help House of Commons, &c.

I thought thou hadst no Carnal Sense,

But what's in our Lasses:

And could have quench'd thy Cupiscence,

According to the Classes:

PILLS to Purge Melancholy.

But all the Parish see it plain,
Since thou art in this pickle;
Thou art an Independent Quean,
And lov'st a Conventicle.

Help House of Commons, &c.

Alas now each Malignant Rogue,
Will all the World perswade;
That she that's Spouse unto a Dog,
May be an Elder's Maid:
They'll jeer us if abroad we stir,
Good Master Elder stay;
Sir, of what Classis is your Cur?
And then what can we say?

Help House of Commons,

They'll many graceless Ballads sing,
Of a Presbyterian;
That a Lay-Elder is a thing
Made up half Dog, half Man:
Out, out, said he, (and smote her down)
Was Mankind grown so scant?
There's scarce another Dog in Town,
Had took the Covenant.

Help House of Commons, &c.

Then Swash began to look full grim,
And Jane did thus reply;
Sir, you thought nought too good for him,
You fed your Dog too high:
Tis true he took me in the lurch,
And leap'd into my Arms;
But (as I hope to come at Church)
I did your Dog no harm.

Help House of Commons, &c.

Then she was brought to Newgate Goal,
And there was Naked Stripp'd;
They whipp'd her till the Cords did fail,
As Dogs us'd to be whipp'd:
Poor City Maids shed many a Tear,
When she was lash'd and bang'd;

And had she been a Cavalier,
Surely she had been hang'd.
Help House of Commons, &c.

Hers was but Fornication found,
For which she felt the Lash;
But his was Bugg'ry presum'd,
Therefore they hanged Swash:
What will become of Bishops then,
Or Independency?
For now we find both Dogs and Men,
Stand up for Presbytry.
Help House of Commons, &c.

She might have took a Sow-gelder,
With Synod-men good store,
But she would have a Lay-Elder,
With Two Legs and Two more:
Go tell the Assembly of Divines,
Tell Adoniram blue;
Tell Burgefs, Marshall, Case and Vines,
Tell Now-and-Anon too.
Help House of Commons, &c.

Some say she was a Scottish Girl,
Or else (at least) a Witch;
But she was born in Colchester,
Was ever such a Bitch:
Take heed all Christian Virgins now,
The Dog-star now prevails;
Ladys beware your Monkeys too,
For Monkeys have long Tails.
Help House of Commons, &c.

Bless King and Queen, and send us Peace,
As we had Seven Years since:
For we remember no Dog-days,
While we enjoy'd our Prince:
Bless sweet Prince Charles, Two Dukes, Three Girls,
Lord save his Majesty;
Grant that his Commons, Lords, and Earls,
May lead such Lives as He.
Help House of Commons, &c.

PILLS to Purge Melancholy.

Plain Proof Ruin'd:

Or, a Grand CHEAT Discover'd.

B Old Impudent Fuller invented a Plot,
And all to discover the Devil knows what ;
About a young Bantling strangely begot.
Which no body can deny.

The better to cheat both the Fools and the Wise,
He Impos'd on the Nation a Hundred of Lies ;
That none but a Knight of the Post could devise.
Which no body can deny.

He tells us he had the Honour to peep,
 In the Warming-pan where the Welch Infant did sleep,
 And found out a Plot which was Damnable deep,
Which no Body can believe.

Then to the Wise Senate he suddenly went,
 Where he told all the Lies that he then could invent,
 For which he was Voted a Rogue by consent,
Which no Body can deny.

And tho' he was Punish'd for that his Offence,
 He has almost forgot it, it was so long since,
 Therefore the old Game he began to Commence,
Which no Body can deny.

Then he to the Lords his bold Letters did send,
 And told the high Peers, that the Plot he could mend,
 And make it as plain, as he first did pretend,
Which no Body can deny.

He told them his Witnesses were mighty Men,
 That wou'd come to the Town, tho' the Devil knows
 And make William Fuller once famous agen, (when,
Which no Body can deny.

The Lords they were Generous, Noble and Kind,
 And allowed him Freedom his 'Squires to find,
 The which he will do when the Devil is Blind,
Which no Body can deny.

So the Peers they declar'd him a scandalous Sot,
 And none thinks him fit to manage a Plot,
 If Newgate and Tyburn does fall to his Lot,
There's no Body will deny.

They gave him no more time than himself did require,
 To find out his Jones and the wandering 'Squire,
 But the time being come, they were never the nigher,
Which no Body can deny.

The brave House of Commons next for him do send,
To hear what the Block-headly Fool wou'd pretend,
Who humbly request, that they wou'd him befriend,
Which no Body can deny.

One day he declar'd they were near London Town,
But the very next Day into Wales they were flown,
Such nimble Heel'd Witnesseis never were known,
Which no Body can deny.

When being Examin'd about his sham Plot,
He answered as though he had minded them not,
Perhaps the Young Rogue had his Lesson forgot,
Which no Body can deny.

But after some Study and impudent Tales,
Ask'd for a Commission to march into Wales,
And be Chang'd to a Herse, as Rogues goes to Goals,
Which no Body can deny.

But seeing his Impudence still to abound,
To go search for the Men who were not to be found,
They immediately sent him back to Fleet Pound,
Which no Body can deny.

From the Fleet to the Cart may he quickly advance
To learn the true Steps of old Oates's New Dance,
And something beside, or it is a great Chance,
Which no Body can deny.

He has made it a Trade to be doing of Wrong,
In Swearing, and Lying, and Cheating so long,
For all his Life time, he's been at it ding dong,
Which no Body can deny.

Welch Taffy he raves and cries Splutterdenails,
He's abused hur Highness with Lies and with Tales,
Hur will hang hur if e'er hur can catch hur in Wales,
Which no Body will deny.

The Woman Warrior.

Who liv'd in COW-CROSS near WEST-SMITH-FIELD; who changing her Apparrel, entered her self on Board in Quality of a Soldier, and sailed to IRELAND, where she Valiantly behaved her self, particularly at the Siege of CORK, where she lost her Toes, and received a Mortal Wound in her Body, of which she since Died in her return to LONDON.

LET the Females attend,
 To the Lines which are penn'd,
 For here I shall give a Relation;
 Of a Young marry'd Wife,
 Who did venture her Life,
 For a Soldier, a Soldier she went from the Nation
 She

she her Husband did leave,
 And did likewise receive
 Her Arms, and on Board she did enter;
 And right valiantly went,
 With a Resolution bent,
 To the Ocean, the Ocean her Life there to venture.

Yet of all the Ships Crew,
 Not a Seaman that knew,
 They then had a Woman so near 'em;
 On the Ocean so deep,
 she her Council did keep,
 Ay, and therefore, and therefore she never did fear 'em.

she was valiant and bold,
 And would not be controul'd,
 By any that dare to offend her;
 If a Quarrel arose,
 she would give him dry Blows,
 And the Captain, the Captain did highly commend her.

For he took her to be,
 Then of no mean Degree,
 A Gentleman's Son or a 'Squire;
 With a Hand white and fair,
 There was none could compare,
 Which the Captain, the Captain did often admire.

On the Irish Shore,
 Where the Cannons did roar,
 With many stout Lads she was landed;
 There her Life to expose,
 she lost two of her Toes,
 And in Battle, in Battle was daily commended.

Under Grafton she fought,
 Like a brave Hero stout,
 And made the proud Tories retire;
 she in Field did appear,
 With a Heart void of Fear,
 And she bravely, she bravely did charge and give fire.

While the battering Balls,
 Did assault the strong Walls,
 Of Cork and the sweet Trumpets founded ;
 She did bravely advance,
 Where by unhappy Chance,
 This young Female, young Female alas she was (wounded.

At the End of the Fray,
 Still she languishing lay,
 Then over the Ocean they brought her ;
 To her own Native Shore,
 Now they ne'er knew before,
 That a Woman, a Woman had been in that Slaugh(ter.

What she long had conceal'd,
 Now at length she reveal'd,
 That she was a Woman that ventur'd ;
 Then to London with care,
 She did straitways repair,
 At she dy'd, oh she dy'd e'er the City she enter'd.

When her Parents beheld,
 They with Sorrow was fill'd,
 For why they did dearly adore her :
 In her Grave now she lies,
 'Tis not watery Eyes,
 No nor Sighing, nor Sighing that e'er can restore (her.

PILLS to Purge Melancholy.

II

A Medly, Compos'd out of several SONGS.

State and Ambition, all Joy to great Cesary, Sawney shall ne'er be my Colly my Cow ;
 All Hail to the Shades, all Joy to the Bridegroom,
 And call upon Dobbin with Hi, Je, ho :
 Remember ye Whigs, what was formerly done ;
 And Jenny come tye my bonny Cravat,
 If I live to grow old for I find I go down,
 For I cannot come every Day to Wooc.

Jove in his Throne was a Fumbler, Tom Farthing,
 And Jockey and Jenny together did lie ;
 Oh Mother Roger: Boys, fill us a Bumper,
 For why will ye die my poor Calia, ah why?

Mark!

Hark! how thundring Cannons do roar,
 Ladies of London both wealthy and fair;
Charon make hast and Ferry me over,
 Lilli burlero bullen a lah.

Chloris awake, Four-pence-half-penny-farthing,
 Give me the Lads that is true Country bred;
 Like John of Gaunt I walk in Covent-Garden,
 I am a Maid and a very good Maid:
 Twa bonny Lads was Sawney and Jockey,
 The Delights of the Bottle and Charms of good Wine;
 Wading the Water so deep my sweet Moggy,
 Cold and Raw, let it run in the right Line.

Old Obadiab sings Ave-Maria,
 Sing Lulla-by-Baby with a Dildo;
 The old Woman and her Cat sat by the Fire,
 Now this is my Love d'y' like her ho?
 Old Charon thus preach'd to his Pupil Achilles,
 And under this Stone here lies Gabriel John;
 Happy was I at the sight of Fair Phyllis,
 What should a Young Woman do with an Old Man?

There's old Father Peters with his Romish Creatures,
 There was an old Woman sold Pudding and Pies;
 Cannons with Thunder shall fill them with Wonder,
 I once lov'd a Lads that had bright rowling Eyes:
 There's my Maid Mary, she does mind her Dairy,
 I took to my Heels and away I did run;
 And bids him prepare to be happy to Morrow,
 Alas! I don't know the right end of a Gun.

My Life and Death does lye both in your Power,
 And every Man to his Mind, Shrewsbury for me;
 On the Bank of a Brook as I sat Fishing,
 Shall I die a Maid and never Married be;
 Uds bobs let Oliver now be forgotten,
Joan is as good as my Lady in the Dark;
 Cuckolds are Christians Boys all the World over,
 And here's a full Bumper to Robin John Clark.

The TROOPER Watering his NAGG.

Here was an old Woman liv'd under a Hill;
 Sing Trolly lolly, lolly, lolly, lo;
 She had good Beer and Ale for to sell,
 Ho, ho, had she so, had she so, had she so;
 She had a Daughter her name was Siss,
 Sing Trolly lolly, lolly, lolly, lo;
 She kept her at Home for to welcome her Guest,
 Ho, ho, did she so, did she so, did she so.

There came a Trooper riding by,
 Sing trolly, &c.
 He call'd for Drink most plentifully,
 Ho, ho, did he so, &c.
 When one Pot was out he call'd for another,
 Sing trolly, &c.
 He kill'd the Daughter before the Mother,
 Ho, ho, did he so, &c.

And when Night came on to Bed they went,
 Sing trolly, &c.
 It was with the Mother's own Consent,
 Ho, ho, was it so, &c.

Quoth

Quoth she what is this so stiff and warm,
Sing trolly &c.

'Tis Ball my Nag he will do you no harm,
Ho, ho, wont he so, &c.

But what is this hangs under his Chin,
Sing trolly, &c.

'Tis the Bag he puts his Provender in,
Ho, ho, is it so, &c.

Quoth he what is this? Quoth she 'tis a Well
Sing trolly, &c.

Where Ball your Nag may drink his fill,
Ho, ho, may he so, &c.

But what if my Nag should chance to slip in
Sing trolly, &c.

Then catch hold of the Grass that grows on the brim
Ho, ho, must I so, &c.

But what if the Grass should chance to fail,
Sing trolly, &c.

Shove him in by the Head, pull him out by the Tail
Ho, ho, must I so, &c.

Ome bring us Wine in Plenty,
 We've Money enough to spend ;
 ate to see the Pots empty,
 A Man cannot drink to's Friend :
 en drawer bring up more Wine,
 d merrily let it pass ;
 I'll drink till our Faces do shine,
 that wont may look like an Ass :
 and we'll tell him so to his Face,
 he offers to baulk his Glass,
 or we defy all such dull Society.

is drinking makes us merry,
 And Mirth diverts all Care ;
 Song of hey down derry,
 Is better than heavy Air :
 Make ready quickly my Boys,
 and fill up your Glasses higher ;
 or we'll present with Huzzas,
 and merrily all give fire ;
 Once drinking's our desire,
 and friendship we admire,
 or here we'll stay, ne'er call Drawer what's to pay.

The GOOD FELLOW.

Let's be jolly, fill our Glasses,
 Madneſs 'tis for us to think,
 How the World is rul'd by Aſſes,
 That o'erſway the Wiſe with Chink:
 Let not ſuch vain Thoughts oppreſs us,
 Riches prove to them a Snare;
 We are all as rich as Craſſus,
 Drink your Glasses, take no care.

Wine will make us freſh as Roſes,
 And our Sorrows all forgot;
 Let us fuddle well our Noſes,
 Drink our ſelves quite out of Debt:
 When grim Death is looking for us,
 Whiſt we're ſinging o'er our Bowls;
Bacchus joyning in our Chorus,
 Death depart, here's none but Souls.

Key's Escape from DUNDEE; and the Parsons Daughter whom he had Mow'd.

Where gott'st thou the Haver-mill bonack?
Blind Booby can'st thou not see;
I got it out of the Scotch-man's Wallet,
As he lig lousing him under a Tree:
me fill up my Cup, come fill up my Can,
me Saddle my Horse, and call up my Man;
Come open the Gates, and let me go free,
And shew me the Way to bonny Duadec.

For

For I have neither robbed nor stole,
 Nor have I done any injury;
 But I have gotten a Fair Maid with Child,
 The Minister's Daughter of bonny Dundee:
*Come fill up my Cup, come fill up my Can,
 Come saddle my Horse and call up my Man,
 Come open the Gates and let me go free,
 And Ise gang no more to bonny Dundee.*

Altho' Ise gotten her Maiden-head,
 Geud se th Ise given her mine in lieu;
 For when at her Daddy's Ise gang to Bed,
 Ise mow'd her without any more to do?
 Ise cuddle her close, and gave her a Kiss,
 Pray tell now where is the harm of this,
*Then open the Gates and let me go free,
 And Ise gang no more to bonny Dundee.*

All Scotland ne'er afforded a Lass
 So bonny and blith as Jenny my dear;
 Ise gave her a Gown of green on the Grass,
 But now Ise no longer must tarry here:
 Then saddle my Nag that's bonny and gay,
 For now it is time to gang hence away,
*Then open the Gates and let me go free,
 She's ken me no more unto bonny Dundee.*

In Liberty still I reckon to Reign,
 For why I have done no honest Man wrong;
 The Parson may take his Daughter again,
 For she'll be a Mammy before it is long:
 And have a young Lad or Lass of my breed,
 Ise think I have done her a generous deed;
*Then open the Gates and let me go free,
 For Ise gang no more to bonny Dundee.*

Since Jenny the Fair was willing and kind,
 And came to my Arms with a ready good will;
 A token of love Ise left her behind,
 Thus I have requited her kindness still;

O' Jenny the Fair I often had mow'd,
 Other may reap the harvest I sow'd,
Then open the Gates and let me go free,
He's ken me no more to bonny Dundee.

My Daddy would have me to make her my Bride,
 But have and to hold I ne'er could endure;
 From bonny Dundee this Day I will ride,
 It being a place not safe and secure:
 When Jenny farewell my Joy and my dear,
 With Sword in my Hand the passage I'll clear;
Then open the Gates and let me go free,
For I'll gang no more to bonny Dundee.

My Father he is a muckle good Leard,
 My Mother a Lady bonny and gay;
 When while I have strength to handle a Sward,
 The Parson's request I'll never obey:
 When Sawny my Man be thou of my Mind,
 From bonny Dundee we'll ne'er be confin'd,
The Gates we will force to set our selves free,
And never come more to bonny Dundee.

When Sawny reply'd I'll never refuse,
 To fight for a Leard so valiant and bold;
 While I have a drop of Blood for to lose,
 E'er any fickle Loon shall keep us in hold:
 With this Sward in my Hand I'll valiantly weild,
 And fight by your side to kill or be kill'd,
For forcing the Gates and set our selves free,
And so bid adieu to bonny Dundee.

With Sward ready drawn they rid to the Gate,
 Where being denied an Entrance thro'
 The Master and Man they fought at that rate,
 That some ran away, and others they slew:
 Thus Jockey the Leard and Sawny the Man,
 They valiantly fought as Highlanders can,
In spite of the Loons they set themselves free,
And so bid adieu to bonny Dundee.

A SONG Sung by Mr. Dogget.

Let's sing of Stage-Coaches, and fear no Re-—proaches; for ri-ding in one, but dai-ly be, jogging, while whistling, and flogging, while whistling and flogging, the Coach-man drives on;

with a hey geeup, geeup hey ho, with a hey gee

Dobin hey ho, hey, geeup, geeup, geeup hey ho,

geeup, geeup, geeup hey ho, with a hey, gee

dobin hey ho.

In Coaches thus strowling,
Who wou'd not be rowling ;
 With Nymphs on each side,
Still Pratling and Playing ;
Our Knees interlaying,
 We merrily ride.
 With a hey, &c.

Here chance kindly mixes,
All sorts and all Sexes,
 More Females than Men,
We squeeze 'em, we ease 'em,
The jolting does please 'em,
 Drive jollily then,
 With a hey, &c.

The harder you're driving,
The more 'tis reviving,
 Nor fear we to tell,
For if the Coach tumble,
We'll have a rare Jumble,
 And then uptails all.
 With a hey, &c.

The

The Crafty Cracks of East-Smith-Field, pick't up a Master Colour upon Tower-Hill whom they Plunder'd of a Purse of Silver, w above Threescore Guineas.

YOU Master Colours pray draw near,
 And listen to my Report ;
 My Grief is great, for lo of late,
 Two Ladies I chanc'd to Court :
 Who did meet me on Tower-Hill,
 Their Beauties I did behold :
 Those Crafty Jades have learnt their Trades,
 And plunder'd me of my Gold.

tell you how it came to pass,
 This sorrowful Story is thus:
 Guineas bright a glorious Sight,
 I had in a Cat-skin Purse:
 The Value of near Fourscore Pounds,
 As good as e'er I had told,
These Crafty Jades have learnt their Trades,
And plunder'd me of my Gold.

I saw two poor distressed Men,
 Who lay upon Tower-Hill,
 To whom in brief I gave Relief,
 According to my good Will:
 Two wanton Misses drawing near,
 My Guineas they did behold;
 They laid a Plot by which they got,
 My Silver and yellow Gold.

They both address'd themselves to me,
 And thus they was pleas'd to say;
 Good Sir, indeed, we stand in need,
 Altho' we are fine and gay:
 Give some Relief which you may give,
 I thought they were something bold;
 The Plot was laid, I was betray'd,
 And plunder'd of all my Gold.

Alas 'tis pity, then I cry'd,
 Such Ladies of good Repute,
 Should want Relief, therefore in brief,
 I gave 'em a kind Salute:
 I thought I of them I'll have my Will,
 Altho' I am something old;
 They were I see too wise for me,
 They plunder'd me of my Gold.

Then

Then to East-Smithfield was I led,
And there I was entertain'd;
With Kisses fine and Brandy Wine,
In Merriment we remain'd:
Methought it was the happiest Day,
That ever I did behold;
Sweet Meat alas! had sower Sauce,
They plunder'd me of my Gold.

Time after Time to pay their Shot,
My Guineas I would lug out;
Those Misses they wou'd make me stay,
And rally the other bout:
I took my Fill of Pleasures then
Altho' I was something old;
Those Joys are past, they would not last,
I'm plunder'd of all my Gold.

As I was at the wanton Game,
My Pocker they fairly pick'd;
And all my Wealth they took by stealth,
Thus was a poor Colour trick'd:
Let me therefore a Warning be,
To Merchants both young and old;
For now of late hard was my Fate,
I'm plunder'd of all my Gold.

They got three Pounds in Silver bright,
And Guineas above Threescore,
Such sharpening Cracks breaks Merchants Backs,
I'll never come near them more:
Sure now I have enough of them,
My Sorrow cannot be told;
That crafty Crew makes me look Blew,
I'm plunder'd of all my Gold.

The Dance of the USURER and the Devil.

AST Christmas 'twas my chance,
 To be in Paris City;
 There I did see a Dance,
 In my conceit was very pretty—By men of France.

First came the Lord of Pool,
 And he begun his Measure;
 The next came in a Fool,
 And Danc'd with him for pleasure—With his Tool.

The next a Knight came in,
 Who look'd as he would swagger;
 And after followed him
 A merry needy Beggar — Dancing in.

The next a Gentleman,
 On him a Servant tending;
 And there the Dance began,
 With nimble Bodies bending—Like two Friends.

Then in a Lawyer came,
With him a Knave came leaping;
And as they Danc'd in Frame,
So Hand in Hand went skipping—To the Term

The next a Citizen,
And he a Cuckold leading;
So round about the Room,
Their Masque they fell a treading—And fain they (would

The next an Usurer,
Old fat Guts he came grunting;
The Devil left all care,
For joy he fell a Jumping—To see him there.

And ending then their Masque,
The Fool his Lord he carries
Upon his Back in haste,
No longer there he tarries—But left the place.

The Beggar took the Knight,
Who took it in Derision;
The Searjeant took in Spite,
The Gentleman to Prison—For all his might.

The Cuckold, silly Man,
Altho' he was abhorred;
He took the Citizen,
And led him by the Forehead—And out he ran.

The Devil lik'd it well,
His lot it was to carry;
The Usurer to Hell,
And there with him to tarry.

PILLS to Purge Melancholy.

The SUBURBS is a fine place: To the Tune of LONDON is a fine Town.

THE Suburbs is a fine Place belonging to the City,
It has no Government at all, alack the more the Pity;
A Wife, a silly Animal, esteem'd in that same Place,
For there a civil Woman now's a sham'd to shew her Face:
The Misses there have each Man's Time, his Money, (nay, his Heart,
Then all in all, both great and small, & all in ev'ry Part.

Which Part it is a thorough-fair so open and so large,
One well might sail through ev'ry Tail even in a (western Barge;
These Cracks that Coach it now, when first they came (to Town,
Did turn up Tail for a Pot of Ale in Linsey Wolfey Gown.

The Bullies first debauch'd 'em, in Baudy Covent-Garden,
That filthy place, where ne'er a Wench was ever worth
(a Farthing;
And when their Maiden-heads are sold to sneaking Lords,
Which Lords are Clapt at least nine-fold for taking of (their Words.
And then my Lord, that many tries, the looks so Innocent,
Believing he Infects her, he makes a Settlement;
These are your Cracks, who skill'd in all kind of De-(bauches,
Do daily piss, spue & whore in their own glass Coaches.

Now Miss turn Night-walker, till Lord Mayor's Me
 (the mee
 O'er night she's Drunk, next Day she's finely flogged (thro' London streets
 After their Rooms of State are chang'd to Bulks or (Coblers Stall
 'Till Poverty and Pox agree they dying in Hospitals.

This Suburbs gallant Fop that takes delight in Roaring
 He spends his time in Huffing, Swearing, Drinking,
 (and in Whoring
 And if an honest Man and his Wife meet them in the Dar
 Makes nothing to run the Husband through to get th (name of Spark

But when the Constable appears, the Gallant, let me telly
 His Heart defiles his Breeches, and sinks into his Belly
 These are the silly Rogues that think it fine and witty
 To laugh and joak at Alderme, n the Rulers of the City

They'd kiss our Wives, but hold, for all their plotting Pate
 While they would get us Children, we are getting (their Estates
 And still in vain they Court pretending it their Care
 That their Estates may thus descend unto the Law (Heir

Their Play-houses I hate, are Shops to set off Wenche
 Where Fop and Miss, like Dog and Bitch, do couple (under Benches

That I might advise the chiefest Play-house monger,
 I have a Sister of my own both Handsomer and Younger

She lives not far off in the Parish of St. Clements,
 She never lived in Cellar nor sold Oranges and Lemons
 Then why should Play-house Trulls with Paint and (such Temptation

Be an Eye sore to me & more to the best part o'th' Nation

Now you that all this while have listened to my Dig
 With streightned Hands pray drink a Health unto th (noble City

And let us pray to Jove, these Suburb folks to mend,
 And having now no more to say, I think it fit to end.

The Old Woman's WISH.

AS I went by an Hospital,
 I heard an Old Woman cry,
 Kind Sir, quoth she, be kind to me,
 Once more before I Die,
 And grant to me those Joys,
 That belong to Woman-kind,
 And the Fates above reward your Love,
 To an Old Woman Poor and Blind.

I find an itching in my Blood,
 Altho' it be something Cold,
 Therefore Good Man do what you can,
 To comfort me now I'm Old.

And Grant to me those Joys,
That belong to Woman-kind,
And the Fates above Reward your Love,
To an Old Woman Poor and Blind.

Altho' I cannot see the Day,
Nor never a glance of light ;
Kind Sir, I swear and do declare,
I honour the Joys of Night :
Then grant to me those Joys,
That belong to Woman-kind,
And the Fates above Reward you Love,
To an Old Woman Poor and Blind.

When I was in my blooming Youth,
My vigorous Love was Hot ;
Now in my Age I dare Engage,
A fancy I still have got :
Then give to me those Joys,
That belong to Woman-kind,
And the Fates above Reward your Love,
To an Old Woman Poor and Blind.

You shalt miss of a Reward,
If Readily you comply ;
Then do not Blush but touch my flesh,
This minute before I die :
O let me tast those Joys,
That belong to Woman-kind,
And the Fates above Reward your Love,
To an Old Woman Poor and Blind.

I Forty Shillings would freely give,
'Tis all the Mony I have ;
Which I full long have begged for,
To carry me to my Grave :
This I would give to have the Bliss,
That belongs to Woman kind,
And the Fates above reward your Love,
To an Old Woman Poor and Blind,

had a Husband in my Youth,
As very well 'tis known,
The truth to tell he pleased me well,
But now I am left alone;
And long to tast the good Old Game,
That belongs to Woman-kind:
And the Fates above Reward your Love,
To an Old Woman Poor and Blind.

Forty Shillings will not do,
My Petticoat and my Gown;
My Smock also shall freely go,
To make up the other Crown:
Then Sir, pray Grant that kind Request,
That belongs to Woman-kind;
And the Fates above Reward your Love,
To an Old Woman Poor and Blind.

Tho' I am Fourscore Years of Age,
I Love with a Right good Will;
And what in truth I want in Youth,
I have it in perfect Skill:
Then grant to me that Charming Bliss,
That belongs to Woman-kind;
And the Fates above Reward your Love,
To an Old Woman Poor and Blind.

Now if you do not pleasure me,
And give me the thing I crave;
I do protest I shall not rest,
When I am laid in my Grave:
Therefore kind Sir, grant me the Joys,
That belong to Woman-kind;
And the Fates above Reward your Love,
To an Old Woman Poor and Blind.

The Mad-Man's SONG.

CHO.

T Here can be no Glad-man compar'd to the Mad-man
 His Mind is still void of Care;
 His Fits and his Fancies, are above all Mischances,
 And Mirth is his ordinary Fare.

*Then be thou Mad, Mad, Mad let's be,
 Nor shall the foul Fiend be Madder than we.*

The Wise and the Witty, in Court and in City,
 Are subject to Sorrow and Pain;
 While he that is Mad, knows not why to be Sad,
 Nor has any cause to complain:

Then be thou Mad, &c

We

Do laugh at you Wise Men, that thus do despise Men,
 Whose Senses you think to Decline;
 Mark well and you'll see, what you count but Frenzy,
 Is indeed but Raptures Divine.

Then be thou Mad, &c.

At the Grave and the Wife, pluck out their Eyes,
 To set forth a Book worth a Groat;
 The Mad-men are quicker, grow Learn'd with good
 And Chirp a merry Note. (Liquor,

Then be thou Mad, &c.

Art thou lost thy Estate Man, why, care not for that What Wealth may'st not fancy thy own; (Man
 More than Queen Dido, or her Afs-Ear'd Midas,
 That great Philosopher's stone.

Then be thou Mad, &c.

Pompey was a Mad-man, and so long a Glad-man,
 But at length he was forc'd to flee;
 For Cesar from Gallia beat him in Pharsalia, Cause a madder Fellow than he.

Then be thou Mad, &c.

Was this Extasie brave, that the great Courage gave,
 If your Eyes were but open'd and would see;
 The great Alexander, that mighty Commander,
 As Mad a Fellow as could be.

Then be thou Mad, &c.

When around goes a Health to the Lady o'th' House,
 If any Man here does forsake it;
 For a Fool let him go, we know better Manners,
 And so we mean to take it.

Then be thou Mad, &c.

There's no Night Mirth's going, nor any Lad wooing,
 But Mad-men are privy unto it;
 For the Stars so peep, into every such thing,
 And wink upon us as you do it.

Then be thou Mad, &c.

When the Frost, Ice and Snow, do benumb things be
 We Chirp as merry as Larks; (low
 Our Sack and our Madness, consumes cold and sadness
 And we are the Jovial Sparks.
Then be thou Mad, &c.

Has thy Mistress frown'd on thee, or thy Rival one (gone thee
 Let Sober and Wise Fellows pine;
 Whilst bright Miralind and goodly Dulcinda,
 And the rest of the Faries are thine.
Then be thou Mad, &c.

A Mad-man needs baulk no manner of talk,
 His Tongue's never guilty with Treason;
 But a wise Knave would suffer, if the same he should
 For a wise Man's Guilt is his Reason. (utter
Then be thou Mad, &c.

A S O N G.

A Shepherd kept Sheep on a Hill so high, fa, la, la, &c.
 And there came a pretty Maid passing by, fa, la, &c.
 Shepherd, quoth she, dost thou want e'er a Wife,
 No by my troth I'm not weary of my Life, fa, la, la, &c.

Shepherd for thee I care not a Fly, fa, la, la,
 For thou'lt not the Face with a fair Maid to lie, fa, la, &c.
 How now my Damsel, say'lt thou me so,
 Thou shalt tast of my bottle before thou dost go, fa, la, &c.

Then he took her and laid her upon the Ground, fa, la, &c.
 And made her believe that the World went round, fa, la, &c.
 Look yonder my Shepherd, look yonder I spy,
 There are fine pretty Babies that dance in the Sky, fa, la, &c.

And now they are vanisht, and now they appear, fa, la, &c.
 Sure they will tell Stories of what we do here, fa, la, la, &c.
 Lie still my dear Chloris, enjoy thy Conceit,
 For the Babes are too young & too little to prate, fa, la, la, &c.

See how the Heavens fly swifter than Day, fa, la, la, &c.
 Rise quickly, or they will all run away, fa, la, la, &c.
 Rise quickly my Shepherd, quickly I tell ye,
 For the Sun, Moon & Stars are got all in my Belly, fa, la, &c.

O dear, where am I? pray shew me the way, fa, la, la, &c.
 Unto my Father's House hard by, fa, la, la, &c.

If he chance to Chide me for staying so long,
I'll tell him the fumes of your Bottle were strong, fa, la, la

And now thou hast brought my Body to Shame, fa, la, la
I prithee now tell me what is thy Name, fa, la, la,
Why Robin in the Rushes my Name is, quoth he,
But I think I told her quite contrary, fa, la, la.

Then for Robin in the Rushes, she did enquire, fa, la, la
But he hung down his Head, and he would not come

(nigh her, fa, la, la)

He wink'd with one Eye, as if he had been Blind,
And he drew one Leg after a great way behind, fa, la, la

A S O N G.

S I was a walking under a Grove,
 Within my self, as I suppos'd ;
 My Mind did oftentimes remove,
 And by no means could be disclosed:
 At length by chance a Friend I met,
 Which caused me long time to tarry ;
 And thus of me she did intreat,
 To tell her when I meant to Marry.

Sweet-heart, quoth I, if you would know,
 Then hear the Words, and I'll reveal it ;
 Once in your Mind you bear it so,
 And in your Heart you will conceal it :
 She promised me she'd make no Words,
 But of such things she would be wary ;
 And thus in brief I did begin,
 To tell her when I meant to Marry.

When Shrove-tide falls in Easter week,
 And Christmas in the midst of July ;
 When Lawyers for no Fees will Plead,
 And *Taylor*s they prove Just and Truly :
 When all Deceits are quite put down,
 And Truth by all Men is preferred ;
 And Indigo dies Red and Brown,
 O then my Love and I'll be Married.

When Men and Beasts in the Ocean flow,
 And Fishes in green Fields are feeding ;
 When Muscle-shells in the Streets grow,
 And Swans upon dry Rocks be breeding :
 When Cockle-shells are Diamond Rings,
 And Glass to Pearl may be compared ;
 Gold is made of a Grey-goose Wings,
 O then my Love and I'll be Married.

When Hostesses do reckon true,
 And Dutchmen leave off drinking Brandy ;
 When Cats do bark, and Dogs do Mew,
 And Brimstone is took for Sugar-candy :

Or when that Witsontide do fall,
 Within the Month of January ;
 And a Cobler works without an Awl,
 O then my, &c.

When Women know not how to Scold,
 And Maids on Sweet-hearts ne'er are thinking;
 When Men in the Fire complain of Cold,
 And Ships on Salisbury Plain fear sinking:
 Or when Horse-Courfers turn honest Men,
 And London into York is carried ;
 And out of One you can take Ten,
 O then, &c.

When Candlesticks do serve for Bells,
 And Frying-pans they do use for Ladles;
 When in the Sea they dig for Wells,
 And Porridge-pots they use for Cradles :
 When Maids forget to go a Maying,
 And a Man on his Back an Ox can carry;
 Or when the Mice with the Cat be playing,
 O then, &c.

Good Sir, since you have told me when,
 That you're resolved for to Marry ;
 I wish with all my Heart till then,
 That for a Wife you still may tarry :
 But if all young Men were of your mind,
 And Maids no better were preferred ;
 I think it were when the D—l were blind,
 That we and our Lovers should be Married.

Gilderoy's last Farewel. To a New Tune

Gilderoy was a bonny Boy,
 Had Roses tull his shun,
 His Stockings were made of the finest Silk,
 His Garters hanging down:
 Was a comely sight to see,
 He was so trim a Boy;
 He was my Joy and Heart's Delight,
 My Handsom Gilderoy.

Oh like a charming Eye he had,
 A Breath as sweet as a Rose,
 He never wore a Hiland-plad,
 But costly silken Cloaths :
 He gain'd the Love of Ladies gay,
 There's none to him was Coy ;
 Ah, wa's me, I'e mourn this Day,
For my Dear Gilderoy.

My Gilderoy and I was born,
 Both in one Town together ;
 Not past Seven years of Age,
 Since one did Love each other :
 Our Daddies and our Mammies both,
 Were cloath'd with mickle Joy ;
 To think upon the Bridal Day,
Betwixt I and my Gilderoy.

For Gilderoy, that Love of mine,
 Geud faith I'e freely bought ;
 A Wedding-sark of Holland fine,
 With Silk in Flowers wrought :
 And he gave me a Wedding Ring,
 Which I receiv'd with Joy ;
 No Lads or Lasses e'er could Sing,
Like my sweet Gilderoy.

In mickle Joy we spent our time,
 Till we was both Fifteen ;
 Then gently he did lay me down,
 Amongst the leaves so green :
 When he had done what he could do,
 He rose and he gang'd his way ;
 But ever since I lov'd the Man,
My Handsome Gilderoy.

While we did both together play,
 He kiss'd me o'er and o'er ;
 Geud faith it was as blith a Day,
 As e'er I saw before :

fill'd my Heart in every Vein,
With Love and mickle Joy ;
no was my Love and Hearts delight,
Mine own sweet Gilderoy.

never, never shall I see,
The cause of past Delight ;
like a lovely Lad as he,
Transport my Ravish'd sight :
The Law forbids what Love enjoyns,
And does prevent our Joy ;
though just and fair were the Designs,
Of me and Gilderoy.

use Gilderoy had done amiss,
Must he be punish'd then ;
what kind of Cruelty is this
To hang such Handsom Men ?
The Flower of the Scotish land,
A sweet and lovely Boy ;
likewise had a Lady's Hand,
My Handsom Gilderoy,

Leith they took my Gilderoy,
And there God wot they bang'd him :
erry'd him to fair Edenburgh ;
And there God wot they hang'd him :
they hang'd him up above the rest,
He was so trim a Boy ;
only Love and Heart's Delight,
My Handsom Gilderoy.

us having yielded up his Breath,
In Cypress he was laid ;
then for my dearest, after Death,
A Funeral I made :
over his Grave a Marble-stone,
I fixed for my Joy ;
now I am left to weep alone,
For my Dear Gilderoy.

The SCOTCH Wedding

Between JOCKEY and JENNY.

THEN Jockey wou'd a Wooing away,
On our Feast-day when he was foo ;
Then Jenny put on her best Array,
VVhen she thought Jockey would come to VVoo

If I thought Jockey. were come to Town,
It wad be for the leve of me ;
Then wad I put on beth Hat and Goown,
Because I'd seem worstsome in his Eye.

Then Jenny prick'd up a brant breeght broow,
She was as breeght as onny clock ;
As Moggy always used to do,
For fear her Sweet-heart shou'd her mock.

Then Jenny shoo tripped up the Stairs,
And secretly to shift her Smock ;
But leard how loud her Mother swears,
O hast away Jenny, and come to Jock.

Jenny came tripping down the Stairs,
 Leard so nimbly tripped she;
 how Jockey began to stare,
 when he beheld hur fair Beauty!

Jenny made a Curtshy low,
 til the Stairs did touch her Dock;
 heard how loud her Mother did lough,
 when shoo Jenny was come to Jock.

Jockey tuke Jenny by the Nease,
 sing my dear Lovey canst thou loof me?
 Father is Dead and has left me Land,
 ne fair ould Houses twa or three.

Thou shalt be the Lady o'er them aw,
 foot, quod Jenny you do me mock;
 as my saw, quoth Jockey, then,
 come to woo thee Jenny, quoth Jock.

This to be said after the SONG.

When they gang'd to the Kirk to be wad; noow they use to wad in Scotland as they wad in England, they gang to the Kirk, and they take the Donkin by Rocket, and say, good morn Sir Donkin, says Sir kin, ah Jockey sen ater me, wit ta ha Jenny to thy led VVife? ay by her Lady quoth Jockey and ta twa, we aw my Heart; ah Jenny sen ater me, ta ha Jockey to thy wadded Loon, to have and to for aver an aver, forsaking aw other Loons, lubbers, black Lips, blue Nases, an aw Swiggbell'd caves?
 in these twa be'nt as weel wadded as e'er I wadded in Scotland, the Deel and St. Andrew part ya.

A Scotch SONG made to the Irish JIG
Sung to the King at Whitehall.

Lately as thorough the fair Edinborough,
To view the fair Meadows as I was gangin'
Jockey and Moggy were walking and talking,
Of Love and Religion, thus closely Haranguin'
Never says Moggy, come near me false Jockey,
For thou art a Whig, and I mean to abhor thee
Ize be no Bride, nor will lig by thy side,
For no sneaking Rebel shall lift a Leg o'er me.

Fairest and Dearest,
 And to my Heart nearest,
 To live with thy Frowns I no longer am able ;
 I am so loving,
 And thou art so moving,
 Each Hair of thy Head ties me fast as a Cable :
 Thou hast that in thee,
 Ife sure to win me,
 To Jew, Turk or Atheist, so much I adore thee ;
 Nothing I'd shun,
 That is under the Sun,
 So I have the pleasure to lift a Leg o'er thee.

y. Plotters and Traytors,
 And Associators,
 every degree thou shalt swear to oppose 'em ;
 Swimmers and Trimmers,
 The Nations Redeemers,
 and for thy Reward thou shalt sleep in my Bosom :
 I had a Dad,
 VVas a Royal brave Lad,
 and as true as the Sun to his Monarch before me ;
 Moggy he cry'd,
 The same hour that he Dy'd,
 et no sneaking Rebel e'er lift a Leg o'er thee.

ey. Adieu then ye Crew then,
 Of Protestant Blue Men,
 No Faction his Moggy from Jeckey shall sever ;
 Thou shalt at Court,
 My Conversion Report,
 am not the first VVhig by his VVife brought in Ife never deal, (favour ;
 For the dull Common VVeal,
 To fight for true Monarchy shall be my Glory ;
 Lull'd with thy Charms,
 Then I die in your Arms,
 VVhen I have the Pleasure to lift a Leg o'er thee.

The

The Fair Lads of ISLINGTON

THere was a Lads of Islington,
 As I have heard many tell;
 And she would to fair London go,
 Fine Apples and Pears to sell:
 And as along the Streets she flung,
 With her Basket on her Arm;
 Her Pears to sell, you may know it right well,
 This fair Maid meant no harm.

But as she tript along the Street,
 Her pleasant Fruit to sell;
 A Vintner did with her meet,
 Who lik'd this Maid full well:
 Quoth he, fair Maid, what have you there?
 In Basket decked brave;
 Fine Pears, quoth she, and if it please ye
 A Taste Sir you shall have.

The Vintner he took a Taste,
 And lik'd it well, for why;
 This Maid he thought of all the rest,
 Most pleasing to his Eye:
 Quoth he, fair Maid I have a Ship,
 That you to me must grant;
 Which if I find you be so kind,
 Nothing that you shall want.

Beauty doth so please my Eye,
 It dazles so my sight;
 I now of all my Liberty,
 Am deprived quite:
 I prithee now consent to me,
 And do not put me by;
 But one small courtesie,
 Night with you to lie.

If you lie with me one Night,
 I you propound to me;
 I expect that you should prove,
 As courteous, kind and free:
 For to tell you all in short,
 It will cost you Five Pound,
 Match, a Match, the Vintner said,
 And so let this go round.

When he had lain with her all Night,
 For Money she did crave,
 He say, quoth he, the other Night,
 And thy Money thou shalt have:
 I cannot stay, nor I will not stay,
 My needs must now be gone,
 Then thou may'st thy Money go look,
 For Money I'll pay thee none.

The Maid she made no more ado,
 And to a Justice went;
 And unto him she made her moan,
 Who did her Case Lament:
 He said she had a Cellar Let out,
 To a Vintner in the Town;
 And how that he did then agree,
 To give Pound to pay her down.

Now, quoth she, the Case is thus,
 No Rent that he will pay;
 Therefore your Worship I beseech,
 To send for him this Day:

Then

Then strait the Justice for him sent,
And asked the Reason why;
That he would pay this Maid no Rent?
To which he did Reply,

Although I hired a Cellar of her,
And the Possession was mine?
I ne'er put any thing into it,
But one poor Pipe of Wine:
Therefore my Bargain it was hard,
As you may plainly see;
I from my Freedom was Debarr'd,
Then good Sir favour me.

This Fair Maid being ripe of Wit,
She strait Reply'd again;
There were two Butts more at the Door,
VVhy did you not roul them in?
You had your Freedom and your VVill,
As is to you well known;
Therefore I do desire still,
For to receive my own.

The Justice hearing of their Case,
Did then give Order strait;
That he the Money should pay down,
She should no longer wait:
VVithal he told the Vintner plain
If he a Tennant be;
He must expect to pay the same,
For he could not sit Rent-free.

But when the Money she had got,
She put it in her Purse:
And clapt her Hand on the Cellar Door,
And said it was never the worse:
VVhich caused the People all to Laugh,
To see this Vintner Fine;
Out-witted by a Country Girl,
About his Pipe of VVine.

The most Famous BALLAD

of King HENRY the 5th; his Victory over the French at Agencourt.

Council grave our King did hold,
With many a Lord and Knight :
That he might truly understand,
That France did hold his Right.

to the King of France therefore,
Embassadors he sent ;
That he might truly understand,
His Mind and whole Intent.

iring him in friendly sort,
His lawful Right to yield ;
Else he swore by dint of Sword,
To win it in the Field.

the King of France with all his Lords,
Did hear this Message plain,
And to our brave Embassador,
Did answer with Disdain.

And said our King was yet too young,
And of but tender Age ;
Therefore they pass not for his Threats,
Nor fear not his Courage.

His Knowledge yet in Feats of Arms,
As yet is very small ;
His tender Joints more fitter are,
To toss a Tennis-ball.

A Tun of Tennis-balls therefore,
In Pride and great Disdain ;
He sent unto this Royal King,
To recompence his Pain.

Which Answer when our King did hear,
He waxed wroth in Heart ;
And swore he would provide such Balls,
Should make all France to smart.

An Army then our King did hold,
Which was both good and strong ;
And from Southampton is our King,
With all his Navy gone.

In France he landed safe and sound ;
Both he and all his Train ;
And to the Town of Husle then
He marched up again.

Which when he had besieg'd the Town,
Against the fenced Walls ;
To batter down the stately Towers,
He sent his English Balls.

When this was done our King did march,
Then up and down the Land ;
And not a Frenchman for his Life,
Durst once his Force withstand.

til he came to Agencourt,
Whereas it was his chance;
find the King in readiness,
With all the Power of France.

mighty Host he had prepar'd,
Of Armed Soldiers then;
which were no less by just Account,
Than Forty Thousand Men.

which fight did much amaze our King,
for he and all his Host;
passing Fifteen Thousand had,
accounted with the most.

the King of France who well did know,
The Number of our Men;
vaunting Pride and great Disdain,
Did send an Herald then:

understand what he would give,
for Ransom of his Life;
when they in Field had taken him,
amongst the bloody strife.

when our King with cheerful Heart,
This answer then did make;
before that it does come to pass,
some of your Hearts will ake.

and to your proud presumptuous King,
Declare this thing, quoth he;
own Heart's-blood will pay the Price,
Nought else he gets of me.

then spake the noble Duke of Norfolk,
O noble King, quoth he,
the Leading of this Battle brave,
it doth belong to me.

God-a-mercy Cousin York, he said,
 I grant thee thy Request;
 Then lead thou on courageously,
 And I will lead the rest.

Then came the bragging Frenchmen down,
 With cruel Force and Might;
 With whom our Noble King began,
 A fierce and dreadful Fight.

The Archers they discharg'd their Shafts,
 As thick as Hail from Skie;
 And many a Frenchman in the Field,
 That happy Day did die.

Their Horses tumbled on the Stakes,
 And so their Lives they lost;
 And many a Frenchman there was ta'en,
 As Prisoners to their cost.

Ten Thousand Men that Day was slain,
 As Enemies in the Field;
 And eke as many Prisoners,
 Were forc'd that Day to yield.

Thus had our King a happy Day,
 And Victory over France;
 And brought them quickly under foot
 That late in Pride did prance.

God save our King, and bless this Land,
 And grant to him likewise;
 The upper-hand and Victory,
 Of all his Enemies.

The Lady ISABELLA's Tragedy: Or, the Step-Mother's Cruelty. To the foregoing Tune.

There was a Lord of worthy Fame,
And a Hunting he would ride,
Attended by a noble Train,
Of Gentry on each side.

And whilst he did in Chace remain,
To see both Sport and Play;
His Lady went as she did feign,
Unto the Church to pray.

This Lord he had a Daughter Fair,
Whose Beauty shin'd so bright;
He was belov'd both far and near,
Of many a Lord and Knight:

Fair Isabella was she call'd,
A Creature Fair was she;
He was her Father's only Joy,
As you shall after see.

But yet her Cruel Step-Mother,
Did Envy her so much;
That Day by Day she sought her Life,
He Malice it was such.

He bargain'd with the Master-Cook,
To take her Life away;
And taking of her Daughter's Book,
She thus to her did say.

Go home, sweet Daughter, I thee pray.
Go hasten presently;
And tell unto the Master-Cook,
These Words which I tell thee.

And bid him dress to Dinner straight,
That fair and milk-white Doe;
That in the Park doth shine so bright,
There's none so fair to show.

This Lady fearing of no harm,
Obey'd her Mother's Will;
And presently she hasted home,
Her Mind for to fulfil.

She straight into the Kitchen went,
Her Message for to tell;
And there the Master-Cook she spy'd,
Who did with Malice swell.

Now Master-Cook it must be so,
Do that which I thee tell;
You needs must dress the milk-white Doe,
Which you do know full well.

Then straight his cruel bloody Hands,
He on the Lady laid;
Who quivering and shaking stands,
While thus to her he said:

Thou art the Doe that I must dress,
See here, behold my Knife;
For it is Pointed presently,
To rid thee of thy Life.

O then cry'd out the Scullion Boy,
As loud as loud might be;
O save her Life, good Master-Cook,
And make your Pies of me?

For pity sake do not destroy
My Lady with your Knife;
You know she is her Father's Joy,
For Christ's sake save her Life.

I will not save her Life he said,
Nor make my Pies of thee;

PILLS to Purge Melancholy.

Yet if thou dost this Deed betray,
Thy Butcher I will be ;

Now when this Lord he did come home,
For to sit down to Meat;
He called for his Daughter dear,
To come and carve his Meat.

Now sit you down, his Lady said,
O sit you down to Meat;
Into some Nunnery she's gone,
Your Daughter dear forget.

Then solemnly he made a Vow,
Before the Company;
That he would neither eat nor drink,
Until he did her see.

Then bespoke the Scullion Boy,
With a loud Voice so high ;
That you will your Daughter see
My Lord cut up the Pye.

Wherein her Flesh is minced small,
And parched with the Fire ;
All caused by her Step-Mother,
Who did her Death desire.

And cursed be the Master-Cook,
O cursed may he be!
Who proffer'd him my own Heart's Blood,
From Death to set her free.

Then all in Black this Lord did Mourn,
And for his Daughter's sake ;
He judg'd for her Step-Mother,
To be burnt at a Stake.

Likewise he judg'd the Master-Cook,
In boyling Lead to stand ;
He made the simple Scullion Boy,
The Heir to all his Land.

A BALLAD

In Praise of a certain Commander in the City

A Heroe of no small Renown,
 But noted for a Man of Mettle;
 Thro' all the Parts of London Town,
 No Gentleman, nor yet a Clown,
 No grave wise man, nor stupid Beetle.

By many Deeds of Prowess done,
 He's gain'd a matchless Reputation;
 Perform'd by neither Sword nor Gun,
 But by what means you'll know anon,
 And how he work'd his Preservation.

His Conduct did alone secure him.

th Pistol cock'd he made demand,
And told them he must have their Money;
The Major wisely would not stand,
On his Pistols clap a Hand,
He was not such a fighting Tony.

He spur'd away as swift as Wind,
No Elk or Tyger could run faster;
As ever Man so stout and kind,
To leave his frighted Wife behind,
Expos'd to such a sad Disaster.

Her Necklace, Cloaths and Diamond Ring,
The greedy Robber quickly fell to;
The Petticoat he let her bring
Away with Smock, and t'other Thing,
To let her noble Heroe smell to.

His Slight bred sad domestick Strife,
Altho' the Man's to be commended;
For what's a loving handsome Wife,
For a Man's Money or his Life,
For all is lost when that is ended.

As I who thank'd him too:
Why, my Maiden-head is lost,

In sorrowful sort I cry'd,
 And may now for ever rue;
 The Pain lies in my Back and Side,
I cannot tell what to do.

Alas I was kind and mild,
 But now the same I rue;

Lasses that hear my Moan,

ne of as good a Race,

 cost a great deal bringing up,
 at a little Thing laid me down.

The Jovial Tinker.

THERE was a Jovial Tinker,
 Which was a good Ale drinker ;
 He never was a Shrinker,
 Believe me this is true ;
 And he came from the wild of Kent,
 When all his Money was gone and spent,
 Which made him look like a Jack-a-Lent,
And Joan's Ale is new,
And Joan's Ale is new Boys,
And Joan's Ale is new.

The Tinker he did settle,
 Most like a Man of Mettle,
 And vow'd to pawn his Kettle,
 Now mark what did ensue ;
 His Neighbours they flock'd in apace,
 To see Tom Tinker's comely Face,
 Where they drank soundly for a space,
Whilst Joan's Ale, &c.

The Cocker and the Broom Man,
 Came next into the Room, Man,
 And said they would drink for boon Man,
 Let each one take his due ;
 But when good Liquor they had found,
 They cast their Caps upon the Ground,
 And so the Tinker he drank round,
Whilst Joan's Ale, &c.

The Rag-man being weary,
 With the Burden he did carry,
 He swore he would be merry,
 And spend a Shilling or two ;
 And he told his Hostels to her Face,
 The Chimney-corner was his Place,
 And he began to drink apace,
And Joan's Ale, &c.

The Pedlar he drew nigher,
 For it was his desire,
 To throw the Rags i'th' Fire,
 And burn the bundle blue ;

Whilst they drank whole Flasches,
threw about the Glasses,
Rags were burnt to Ashes,
and Joan's Ale, &c.

The Second PART.

AND then came in a Hatter,
To see what was the matter,
scorn'd to drink cold Water,
amongst that Jovial Crew;
like a Man of Courage stout,
took the Quart-Pot by the Snout,
never left till all was out,
Joan's Ale, &c.

Taylor being nimble,
with Bodkin, Shears and Thimble,
did no whit dissemble,
think his Name was True;
said that he was like to choak,
he call'd so fast for Lap and Smoak,
till he had pawn'd the Vinegar Cloak,
for Joan's Ale, &c.

Then came a pitiful Porter,
which often did resort there,
both he, I'll shew some Sport here,
Amongst the Jovial Crew;
the Porter he had very bad luck,
before that it was ten a Clock,
the Fool got Drunk, and lost his Frock,
for Joan's Ale, &c.

The bonny brave Shoe-maker,
brave Tobacco taker,
scorn'd to be a Quaker,
think his Name was Hugh;
he call'd for Liquor in so fast,
till he forgot his Awl and Last,
and up the Reckoning he did cast,
Whilst Joan's Ale, &c.

And

And then came in the Weaver,
 You never saw a braver,
 With a Silk Man and a Glover,
Torn Tinker for to view;
 And so to welcom him to Town,
 They every Man spent half a Crown,
 And so the Drink went merrily down,
For Joan's Ale, &c.

Then came a Drunken Dutchman,
 And he would have a touch, Man,
 But he soon took too much, Man,
 Which made them after rue;
 He drank so long as I suppose,
 'Till greasie Drops fell from his Nose,
 And like a Beast befoul'd his Hose,
Whilst Joan's Ale, &c.

A Welchman he came next, Sir,
 With Joy and Sorrow mixt, Sir,
 VVho being partly vex'd, Sir,
 He out his Dagger drew;
 Cuts-plutter-a-nails, quoth Taffy then,
 A Welchman is a Shentleman,
 Come Hostess fill's the other Cann,
For Joan's Ale, &c.

Thus like to Men of Courage stout,
 Couragiously they drank about,
 Till such time all the Ale was out,
 As I may tell to you;
 And when the Business was done,
 They every man departed home,
 And promis'd Joan again to come,
When she had Brew'd anew.

The well approved Doctor:

Infallible Cure for CUCKOLDS. To the foregoing Tune.

HERE is a fine Doctor now come to Town,
whose practice in Physick hath gain'd him Renown,
of Cuckolds he hath the best Skill,
giving one Dose of his approved Pill.

It is well known, and his Practice is great,
come to the Doctor before 'tis too late;
his medicines are safe, and the Doctor is sure,
as none in Hand but he perfects, the Cure.

The Doctor himself he doth freely unfold,
he can Cure Cuckolds tho' never so old;
he cures this Distemper in all sorts of Men,
Twenty and Fifty, yea, Threescore and Ten.

There was an old Man lived near to the Strand,
old and Feeble, scarce able to stand;
he had been a Cuckold full Forty long Years,
telling of this how he prick'd up his Ears.

When to the Doctor he went with all speed,
he struck a bargain, they soon were agreed;
he told his Forehead that nothing was seen,
now he's as brisk as a Youth of Fifteen.

When this being known, how his Fame it did ring, unto the Doctor much trading did bring;
he came to the Doctor out of every Shire,
all Parts and Places, yea both far and near.

Dutchmen and Scotchmen to London did ride,
Shonny-ap-Morgan, and Thousands beside;
all sorts and sizes, both rich Men and poor,
came in whole Cart-loads to this Doctor's door.
Some

Some whining, some weeping, some careful and
And some was contented, and others born mad
Some crooked, some trait Horns, and some over-
The like in all Ages I think was ne'er known.

Some rich and brave flourishing Cuckolds were
That came in whole Droyes, Sir, as if to Horn-
For now there is hopes to be cur'd of their Grief
The Doctor declares in the Fall of the Leaf.

Let none be so foolish as now to neglect,
This Doctor's great Kindness and civil Respect,
Tho' rich Men may pay, yet the Poor may go
So kind and so courteous a Doctor is he.

'Tis known he so worthy a Conscience doth make Poor Cuckolds he'll cure them for Charity sake;
Nay, farther than this still his Love does enlarge
Providing for them at his own Cost and Charge.

But some are so wicked, that they will exclaim
Against their poor Wives, making 'em bare the Bed
And will not look out in the least for a Cure,
But all their sad Pains and their Tortures endure.

But 'tis without reason, for he that is born
Under such a Planet, is Heir to the Horn:
Then come to the Doctor both rich Men and Poor He'll carefully cure you, what would you have?

The Term of his Time here the Doctor does make
From six in the Morning 'till seven at Night;
Where in his own Chamber he still will remain,
At the Sign of the Woodcock in Vinegar-lane.

Doctor doth here likewise present you with the Receipt of his Infallible Medicine, that those which have no occasion for it themselves, may do good to their Neighbours and Acquaintances :
And take it here as followeth.

TAKE five Pound of Brains of your December Flies,
And forty true Tears from a Crocodile's Eyes;
The Wit of a Weasel, the Wool of a Frog,
And an Ounce of Conserve of Michaelmas Fog.

And make him a Poultis when he goes to Bed,
And bind to his Temples behind of his Head ;
Not as the Patient he well can endure,
But this is for Cuckolds an absolute Cure.

A S O N G.

GOOD Neighbour why do you look awry,
You are a wond'rous Stranger ;
You walk about, you huff and pout,
As if you'd burst with Anger :
For that your Fortune's great,
Or you so Wealthy are ?
To live so high there's none a-nigh
That can with you compare ?
The other Day I heard one say,
Your Husband durst not show his Ears,
Like a Lout does walk about,
So full of Sighs and Fears :
And Mrs. Tart, I caren't a Fart,
For you nor all your Jears.

Your Husband's known for to be one,
That is most Chast and pure ;
And so would be continually,
But for such Jades as you are :

You wash, you lick, you smug, you trick,
 You toss a twire a grin;
 You nod and wink, and in his Drink,
 You strive to draw him in:
 You Lie you Punck, you're always Drunk,
 And now you Scold and make a Strife,
 And like a Whore you run o'th' Score,
 And lead him a weary Life;
 Tell me so again you dirty Quean,
 And I'll pull you by the Quoif.

Go dress those Brats, those nasty Rats,
 That have a Lear so drowzy;
 With Vermin spread they look like Dead,
 Good Faith they're always Lousie;
 Pray hold you there, and do not swear,
 You are not half so sweet;
 You feed yours up with bit and sup,
 And give them a dirty Teat:
 My Girls, my Boys, my only Joys,
 Are better fed and taught than yours;
 You lie you Flirt, you look like Dirt,
 And I'll kick you out of Doors;
 A very good Jest, pray do your best,
 And Faith I'll quit your Scores.

Go, go you are a nasty Bear,
 Your Husband cannot bear it;
 A nasty Quean as e'er was seen,
 Your Neighbours all can swear it:
 A fulsome Trot and good for nought,
 Unless it be to chat;
 You stole a Spoon out of the Room,
 Last Christning you were at:
 You lye you Bitch you've got the Itch,
 Your Neighbours know you are not sound;
 Look how you Claw with your nasty Paw,
 And I'll fell you to the Ground;
 You've tore my Hood, you shall make it good
 If it cost me Forry Pound.

The Jovial COBLER of St. Hellens.

Am a jovial Cöbler bold and brave,
 And as for Employment enough I have :
 To keep jogging my Hammer and Awl,
 Whilst I sit Singing and Whistling in my Stall,
 Stall, Stall, whilst I sit Singing and Whistling in my Stall.

there's Dick the Carman, and Hodge who drives the Sixteen, or Eighteen Pence a Day, (Dray
 e in the Dirt, whilst I with my Awl, et more Money, sitting, sitting in my Stall, &c.

there's Tom the Porter, Companion of the Pot,
 o stands in the Street with his Rope and Knot,
 ting at a Corner to hear who will him call,
 whilst I am getting Money, Money in my Stall, &c.

there's the jolly Broom-man, his Bread for to get,
 s Brooms up and down in the open Street,
 one crys broken Glasses tho' ne'er so small,
 whilst I am getting Money, Money in my Stall, &c.

And there's another gang of poor smutty Souls,
Doth trudge up and down to cry Small-coals ;
With a Sack on their Back, at a Door stand and call
Whilst I am getting Money, Money in my Stall, &c.

And there's another sort of Notes,
Who crys up and down old Suits and Coats ;
And perhaps some Days get nothing at all,
Whilst I sit getting Money, Money in my Stall, &c.

And there's the Jolly Cooper with his Hoops at his
Who trudgeth up and down to see who lack (Ba
Their Casks to be made rite, with Hoops great and sm
Whilst I sit getting Money, Money in my Stall, &c.

And there's a Jolly Tinker that loves a bonny Laff
Who trudges up and down to mend old Brais ;
With his long smutty Punch to force holes withal
Whilst I sit getting Money, Money in my Stall, &c.

And there is another old Tom Terrah,
Who up and down the City drives his Barrow ;
To sell his Fruit both great and small,
Whilst I sit getting Money, Money in my Stall, &c.

And there is the Blind and Lame, with a wooden L
Who up and down the City they forced are to beg
Some Crumbs of Comfort, the which are but small,
Whilst I sit getting Money, Money in my Stall, &c.

And there's a gang of Wenches who Oysters sell,
And Powder Moll with her sweet smell ;
She trudges up and down with Powder and Ball,
Whilst I sit getting Money, Money in my Stall, &c.

And there's the jovial Girls with their Milking-P
Who trudge up and down with their Draggie Tail
Elip flapping at their Heels for Custom they call,
Whilst I sit getting Money, Money in my Stall, &c.

these are the Gang who take great Pain,
it is those who do me maintain;
when it blows and rains I do pity them all,
see them trudge about while I am in my Stall, &c.

there's many more who slave and toil,
for living to get, but it is not worth while,
mention them, so I'll sing in my Stall,
I am the happiest Mortal, Mortal of them all,
all, all, I am the happiest Mortal, Mortal of them all.

The Merchant and the Fiddler's W I F E.

was a Rich Merchant Man,
That had both Ship and all;
he would cross the salt Seas,
tho' his cunning it was but small.

Fidler and his Wife,
they being nigh at hand;
ould needs go sail along with him,
from Dover unto Scotland.

The Fidler's Wife look'd brisk,
Which made the Merchant smile ;
He made no doubt to bring it about,
The Fidler to beguile.

Is this thy Wife the Merchant said,
She looks like an honest Spouse ;
Ay that she is, the Fidler said,
That ever trod on Shoes.

Thy Confidence is very great,
The Merchant then did say ;
If thou a Wager darest to bet,
I'll tell thee what I will lay.

I'll lay my Ship against thy Fiddle,
And all my Venture too ;
So Peggy may gang along with me,
My Cabin for to View.

If she continues one Hour with me,
Thy true and constant Wife ;
Then shalt thou have my Ship and be,
A Merchant all thy Life.

The Fidler was content,
He Danc'd and Leap'd for joy ;
And twang'd his Fiddle in merriment,
For Peggy he thought was Coy.

Then Peggy she went along,
His Cabin for to View ;
And after her the Merchant-Man,
Did follow, we found it true.

When they were once together,
The Fidler was afraid ;
For he crep'd near in pitious fear,
And thus to Peggy he said.

hold out, sweet Peggy hold out,
for the space of two half Hours;
thou hold out, I make no doubt,
but the Ship and Goods are ours.

roth, sweet Robin, I cannot le hath got me about the Middle;
s lusty and strong, and hath laid me along,
Robin thou'lt lost thy Fiddle.

have lost my Fiddle,
then am I a Man undone;
Fiddle whereon I so often play'd, way I needs must run.

ay the Merchant said,
and thou shalt keep thy place;
thou shalt have thy Fiddle again,
but Peggy shall carry the Case.

er Robin hearing that,
le look'd with a Merry-cheer;
Wife she was pleas'd, and the Merchant was eas'd,
and jolly and brisk they were.

e Fidler he was mad,
but valu'd it not a Fig;
en Peggy unto her Husband said,
kind Robin play us a Jigg.

en he took up his Fiddle,
And merrily he did play;
e Scottish Jigg and the Horn-pipe,
And eke the Irish Hey.

was but in vain to grieve,
The Deed it was done and past;
or Robin was born to carry the Horn,
For Peggy could not be Chast.

Then Fiddlers all beware,
Your Wives are kind you see ;
And he that's made for the Fiddling Trade,
Must never a Merchant be.

For Peggy she knew right well,
Although she was but a Woman;
That Gamesters Drink, and Fiddlers Wives,
They are ever Free and Common.

The Unconstant Woman.

DID you not hear of a gallant Sailor,
Whose Pockets they were lin'd with Gold ;
He fell in Love with a pretty Creature,
As I to you the Truth unfold :
With a kind Salute, and without Dispute,
He thought to gain her for his own,
Unconstant Woman proves true to no Man,
She has gone and left me all alone.

Don't you remember my pretty Peggy,
The Oaths and Vows which you made to me:
In the Chamber we were together,
That you would ne'er unconstant be:
You prove strange Love, and from me range,
And leave me here to Sigh and Moan;
*Constant Woman is true to no Man;
She's gone and left me all alone.*

I have Gold you shall have Treasure;
Or any dainty kind of thing;
You may'st command all Delights and Pleasure,
And what you'd have, Love, I would you bring:
You prove shy, and at last deny,
Them that admires you alone;
*Constant Woman proves true to no Man,
She's left me here to make my moan.*

When first I saw your charming Beauty,
I stood like one all in amaze;
I wou'd only how to pay Dury,
And could not speak but only gaze,
At last said I, fair Maid comply,
And ease a wretched Lover's Moan;
*Constant Woman proves true to no Man,
She's gone and left me here alone.*

I made her Presents of Rings and Jewels,
With Diamond Stones I gave her too;
She took them kindly, and call'd me Jewel,
And said her Love to me was true:
In the end she prov'd unkind,
When I thought she had been my own;
Constant Woman, &c.

For three Months time we saw each other,
And she oft said she'd be my Wife;
And her Father's Consent and Mother,
I thought to have liv'd a happy Life:
I laugh and toy both Night and Day,
But at length she chang'd her Tone;
*Constant Woman proves true to no Man,
She's left me now to make my Moan.*

Many a time we have walk'd together,
 Both Hand in Hand to an Arbour green;
 Where Tales of Love in Sun-shiny Weather,
 We did discourse and were not seen:
 With a kind Salute we did dispute,
 While we together were alone:
*Unconstant Woman she's true to no Man,
 She's gone and left me here alone.*

Since Peggy has my kindness slighted,
 I'll never trust a VVoman more;
 'Twas in her alone I e'er delighted,
 But since she's false I'll leave the Shoar:
 In Ship I'll enter, on Seas I'll venture,
 And sail the VVorld where I'm not known:
*Unconstant Woman proves true to no Man,
 She's gone and left me here alone.*

Sorrow banish'd in a MUG. The Words
 Sir Edward Morgan.

Sorrow the Tyrant invade thy Breast,
 Haul out the foul Fiend by the Lug, the Lug,
 nought of to morrow disturb thy Rest,
 ut dash out his Brains with a Mug, a Mug,
 usiness unluckily goes not well,
 et the fond Fools their Affections hug,
 shew our Allegiance we'll go to the Bell,
 and banish Despair in a Mug, a Mug.

hy VVife proves not one of the Best, the Best,
 ut admits no time but to think, to think,
 the weight of thy Forehead bow down thy Crest,
 ivert the dull Damon with Drink, with Drink,
 Miss prove peevish and will not gee,
 e'er pine, ne'er pine at the wanton Pug,
 find out a fairer, a kinder than she,
 and banish Dispair in a Mug, a Mug.

ear Assignation be crost, be crost,
 and Mistress go home in a rage, a rage;
 not thy poor Heart like a Ship be tost,
 but with a brisk Brimmer engage:
 hat if the fine Fop and the Mask fall out,
 And the one Hug, and t'other Tug, hile they pish and fie, we will frolick in Stout, i
 And banish all Care in a Mug, a Mug.

If toying young Damon by Sylvia's Charms,
 At length should look pale and perplexed be;
 To cure the Distemper and ease those harms,
 Go strait to the Globe and ask Number three:
 These Beauties like Venus thou canst not lack,
 Be kind to them, they will sweetly hug;
 There's choice of the Fairest, the Brown or the Black
 Then banish Despair in a Mug, a Mug.

Let then no Misfortune e'er make thee dull,
 But drink away Care in a Jug, a Jug;
 Then let not thy Tide steal away, but pull,
 Carouse away though in a Mug, a Mug:
 While others for Greatness and Fortune's doom,
 While they for their Ambition tug;
 We'll sit close and snug in a Sea-coal Room,
 And banish Despair in a Mug, a Mug.

Let Zealots o'er Coffee new Plots devise,
 And lace with fresh Treason the Pagan Drug;
 Whilst our Loyal Blood flows, our Veins shall thrive,
 Like our Faces inspir'd with a Mug, a Mug:
 Let Sectaries dream of Alarms, Alarms,
 And Fools still for new changes tug;
 While fam'd for our Loyalty we'll stand to our Arms
 And drink the King's Health in a Mug, a Mug.

Come then to the Queen let the next Advance,
 And all Loyal Lads of true English Race;
 Who hate the stam Poison of Spain and France,
 Or to Bourdeaux or Burgundy do give place;
 The Flask and the Bottle breeds Ach and Gout,
 Whilst we, we all the Season lie snug;
 Neither Spaniard nor Flemming, can vie with our Stomach
 And shall submit to the Mug, the Mug.

Good Fellow. Words by Mr. Alex. Brome.

Stay, stay, shut the Gates,
 Stother Quart, faith, it is not so late
 As you're thinking,
 Those Stars which you see,
 In this Hemisphere be,

But the Studs in your Cheeks by your Drinking:
 Sun is gone to Tiple all Night in the Sea Boys,
 Morrow he'll blush that he's paler than we Boys,
 No Wine, give him VVater, 'tis Sack makes us jee (Boys.

Fill, fill up the Glass,
 To the next merry Lad let it pass,
 Come away with't:

Come

Come set Foot to Foot,
 And but give our Minds to't,
 'Tis Heretical Six that doth slay Wit,
 No Helicon like to the Juice of the Vine is,
 For Phæbus had never had Wit, nor Diviness,
 Had his Face been bow dy'd as thine, his, and mine.

Drink, drink off your Bowls,
 We'll enrich both our Heads and our Souls
 With Canary;
 A Carbuncled Face,
 Saves a tedious Race,
 For the Indies about us we carry:
 Then hang up good Faces, we'll drink till our N
 Give freedom to speak what our Fancy disposes,
 Beneath whose protection is under the Roses.

This, this must go round,
 Off your Hats, till that the Pavement be Crow
 With your Beavers;
 A Red-coated Face,
 Frights a Searjeant at Mace,
 And the Constable trembles to shivers:
 In state march our Faces like those of the Quorum,
 When the Wenches fall down and the Vulgar adore
 And our Noses, like Link-Boys, run shining before

The Nymphs Holiday. The Tune of the Nightingale

Pon a Holiday, when Nymphs had leave to play,
 I walk'd unseen, on a pleasant Green,
 ere I heard a Maid in an angry Spleen, complaining to a Swain, to leave his drudging Pain,
 sport with her upon the Plain;

But he the silly Clown,
 regardless of her Moan, did leave her all alone,
 still she cry'd, come away, come away bonny Lad, (come away,
 cannot come, I will not come, I cannot come, my (Work's not done,
 Was all the Words this Clown did say.

vex'd in her Mind to hear this Lad's Reply,
Venus she went, in great Discontent,
 desire her Boy with his Bow ready bent,
 take a nimble Dart, and strike him to the Heart,
 for disobeying her Commandment:

Cupid then gave the Swain such a Bang,
 made him to gang with this bonny Lass along,
 Still she cry'd, come away, come away bonny Lad,
 (come hither,

come, I come, I come, I come, I come, I come,
 So they gang'd along together.

Good

Good Honest Trooper take warning by DONALD COOPER. To the Tune of Daniel Coopers

A Bonny Lad came to the Court,
 His Name was Donald Cooper ;
 And he Petition'd to the King,
 That he might be a Trooper :
 He said that he,
 By Land and Sea,
 Had fought to Admiration ;
 And with Montrose
 Had many blows,
 Both for his King and Nation.

The King did his Petition grant,
 And said he lik'd him dearly ;
 Which gave to Donald more content,
 Than Twenty Shillings yearly :

This wily Leard
Rode in the Guard,
lov'd a strong Beer Barrel;
Yet stout enough,
To Fight and Cuff,
was not given to Quarrel.

On a Saturday at Night,
walked in the Park, Sir;
there he kenn'd a well fair Lass,
when it was almost dark, Sir:

Poor Donald he Drew near to see,
kiss her bonny Mow, Sir;
He laid her flat
Upon her Back,
bang'd her side Weam too, Sir.

ok her by the Lilly white Hand,
kiss'd his bonny Mary;
they did to the Tavern go,
ere thy did drink Canary:

When he was Drunk,
In came a Punck,
ask'd gan he would Mow her;
Then he again,
With Might and Main,
travely lay her o'er, Sir.

Donald he rose up again,
nothing did him ail, Sir;
ttle kenn'd this bonny Lass,
d Fire about her Tail, Sir:

When Night was spent
Then Home he went,
told it with a Hark, Sir;
How he did Kiss
A dainty Miss, litted up the Sark, Sir.

er a Month had gone about,
or Donald walked sadly;

And

And every yeane enquir'd of him,
 What gar'd him leue so badly:
 A Wench, quoth he,
 Gave Snuff to me,
 Out of her Placket box, Sir;
 And I am sure,
 She prov'd a Whore,
 And given to me the Pox, Sir.

Poor Donald he being almost Dead,
 Was turn'd out of the Guard, Sir;
 And never could get in again,
 Although he was a Leard, Sir:
 When Mars doth meet
 VVith Venus sweet,
 And struggles to surrender;
 The Triumph's lost,
 Then never trust
 A Feminine Commander.

Poor Donald he went home again,
 Because he lost his Place, Sir;
 For playing of a Game at VVhisk,
 And turning up an Ace, Sir:
 Ye Soldiers all,
 Both great and small,
 A Foot-man or a Trooper;
 VVhen you behold,
 A VVench that's bold
 Remember Donald Cooper.

The Jovial Drinker.

Fox on those Fools, who exclaim against Wine,
 And fly the dear sweets that the Bottle doth bring;
 Brightens the Fancy, the Wit does refine,
 And he that was first Drunk was made the first King.

The help of good Claret old Age becomes Youth,
 And sick Men still find this the only Physitian;
 And largely, you'll know by experience, the Truth,
 That he that drinks most is the best Politician.

Victory this leads on the brave Cavalier,
 And makes all the Terrors of War, but Delight;
 Flushes his Courage, and beats off base Fear,
 Was that taught Cæsar and Pompey to fight.

Supports all our Friends, and knocks down our Foes,
 Makes us all Loyal Men from Courtier to Clown;
 Dutchmen from Brandy, from this our Strength (grows
 This Wine, noble Wine, that's a Friend to the Crown.

The

The Sexton's SONG.

Sung by BEN. JOHNSON, in the Play of let Prince of Denmark, acting the Grave

ONce more to these Arms my lov'd Pick-axe
(S)
With the rest of the Tools that belong to my Trade
I that Buried others am rose from the Dead,
With a Ring, a Ring, Ring, a Ring, and Dig a Dig,

My Thoughts are grown easie, my Mind is at rest
Since Things at the worst are now grown to the best
And I and the Worms that long fasted shall Feast,
With a Ring, &c.

How I long to be Measuring and cleaving the Ground
And commending the Soil for the Sculls shall be found
Whose thickness alone, not the Soil makes them found
With a Ring, &c.

you Masters, I'll cry, may the Saints ne'er me
ben't as well contriv'd sort of a Grave, (save,
Man could wish on such occasion to have,
a Ring, &c.

ve but the make of't, I'll by you be try'd,
the Coffin so fresh there that lies on that side,
fty Years since he that owns it has dy'd,
a Ring, &c.

to remember your Friend in a Bowl,
nest good Gentleman, God rest his Soul,
is that for a Duckett is worth a Pistole,
a Ring, &c.

riages next I'll affirm it and swear,
Bride would be private so great was my Care,
not a Soul knew that the Priest joyn'd the Pair,
a Ring, &c.

I my self whisper'd and told it about,
Door they'd go in at, what Door they'd go out,
ceive the Salutes of the Rabble and Rout,
a Ring, &c.

rist'nings I'll sit with abundance of Joy,
rink to the Health of the Girl or the Boy,
e same I wish that Fate both would destroy,
t I may Ring, &c.

e'er's my Religion, my Meaning's to Thrive,
e Child that is born, to the Font but survive,
atter how short it's continuance alive,
t I may Ring, &c.

then my good Neighbours attend to my cry,
bravely get Children, and decently die,
exton now breathing shall use you as I,
a Ring a Ring, Ring a Ring, Dig a Dig, Dig.

The

The Great BOO BEE.

MY Friend if you would understand,
 My Fortunes what they are;
 I once had Cattle House and Land,
 But now I am never the near:
 My Father left a good Estate,
 As I may tell to thee;
 I couzened was of all I had,
Like a great Boobee.

I went to School with a good intent,
 And for to learn my Book;
 And all the Day I went to play,
 In it I never did look:
 Full seven Years, or very nigh,
 As I may tell to thee;
 I could hardly say my Criss-Cross-Row,
Like a great Boobee.

My Father then in all the hast,
 Did set me to the Plow;

For to lash the Horse about,
 I knew not how :
 My Father took his Whip in Hand,
 And soundly lashed me;
 He call'd me Fool and Country Clown,
 A great Boobee.

He did from my Father run,
 I would Plow no more ;
 For he had so lashed me,
 He made my sides so sore :
 I will go to London Town,
 To see the Fashions for to see ;
 I came there they call'd me Clown,
 A great Boobee.

I went along the Street,
 I carried my Hat in my Hand ;
 To every one that I did meet,
 I sweetly Kiss'd my Hand :
 Some did laugh, and some did scoff,
 And some did mock at me ;
 Some did say I was a Woodcock,
 A great Boobee.

I did walk in haste to Paul's
 Steeple for to view ;
 When I heard some People say,
 It should be builded new :
 I got up unto the Top,
 To see the City for to see ;
 So high it made me cry,
 A great Boobee.

Thence I went to Westminster,
 For to see the Tombs ;
 And I, what a House is here,
 With an infinite sight of Rooms :
 As the Abby Bells did Ring,
 'Twas a fine sight to see ;
 I thought I was going to Heav'n in a String.
 A great Boobee.

But

But as I went along the Street,
The most part of the Day;
Many Gallants I did meet,
Methought they were very gay:
I blew my Nose and pist my Hose,
Some People did me see;
They said I was a beastly Fool,
And a great Boobee.

Next Day I thro' Pye-corner past,
The Roast-meat on the Stall;
Invited me to take a Taste,
My Money was but small:
The Meat I pickt, the Cook me kickt,
As I may tell to thee;
He beat me fore and made me roar,
Like a great Boobee.

As I thro' Smithfield lately walkt,
A gallant Lads I met;
Familiarly with me she talkt,
Which I cannot forget:
She profer'd me a Pint of Wine,
Methought she was wondrous free,
To the Tavern then I went with her,
Like a great Boobee.

She told me we were near of Kin,
And call'd for Wine good store;
Before the Reckoning was brought in,
My Cousin prov'd a Whore:
My Purse she pickt, and went away,
My Cousin couzened me,
The Vintner kickt me out of Door;
Like a great Boobee.

At the Exchange when I came there,
I saw most gallant things;
I thought the Pictures living were,
Of all our English Kings:

ft my Hat and made a Leg,
nd kneeled on my Knee;
People laugh'd and call'd me Fool,
nd a great Boobee.

Paris-Garden then I went,
Where there is great resort;
Pleasure was my Punishment,
Did not like the Sport:
Garden-Bull with his stout Horns,
n high then tossed me;
beyond my self with fear,
ke a great Boobee.

Bearward went to save me then,
e People flock'd about;
l the Bear-Garden-Men,
y Guts they were almost out:
said I stunk most grievously,
Man would pity me;
call'd me witless Fool and Ass,
d a great Boobee.

o'er the water I did pass,
you shall understand;
t into the Thames, alas,
ore I came to Land:
Waterman did help me out,
d thus did say to me;
ot thy fortune to be drown'd,
t a great Boobee.

have learned so much Wit,
l shorten all my Cares;
n but a Licence get,
play before the Bears:
ld be a gallant Place indeed,
I may tell to thee:
who dares call me Fool or Ass,
reat Boobee.

Set by Mr. Jeremiah Clark,

Sung by Mr. LEVERIDGE.

When Maids live to Thirty, yet never repented,
 When Europe's at Peace and all England contented,
 When Gamesters won't Swear, and no bribery thrives,
 When Wives love old Husbands, young Husbands old (Wives;
 When Landlords love Taxes, and Soldiers love Peace:
 Lawyers forget a rich Client to Fleece:
 When an old Face shall please as well as a new,
 When Husbands, and Lovers will ever be true.

When Bullies leave huffing and Cowards their Trembling,
 Courtiers and Women and Priests their Dissembling,
 When these shall do nothing against what they teach,
 When Lies hate, and we mind what they Preach:
 When Vintners leave Brewing to draw the Wine pure,
 When Quacks by their Medicines kill less than they Cure,
 When an old Face shall please as well as a new,
 When Husbands and Lovers will ever be true.

Words to a Tune of Mr. BARRET's, call CATHERINE.

the pleasant Month of May,
When the merry, merry Birds began to sing
The Blossoms fresh and gay ;
Er'd in the welcome Spring,
When the long cold Winter's gone,
And the bright enticing Moon,
In the Evening sweetly shon:
The bonny Men and Maids tript it on the Grass;
At a jolly Country Fair,
When the Nymphs in the best appear ;
Solv'd to be free, with a Fiddle and a She,
By Shepherd and his Lads.

In the middle of the Sport,
When the Fiddle went brisk and the Glass went round,
The Pretty gay Nymphs for Court,
With their Merry Feet beat the Ground ;
Little Cupid arm'd unseen,
With a Bow and Dart stole in,
With a conquering Air and Mein,
Empt'y'd his Bow thro' the Nymphs and the Swains;
E'ery Shepherd and his Mate,
Soon felt their pleasing Fate,
Longing to try in Enjoyment to die,
And reign'd o'er all the Plains.

The sighing Swain gave o'er,
The wearied Nymphs could dance no more,
Were other Thoughts that mov'd,
The pretty kind Pair that Lov'd :
In the Woods the Shepherds lay,
And mourn'd the time away,
And the Nymphs as well as they,
Wish'd to taste what it is that their Senses cloy,
Till at last by consent of Eyes,
E'ery Swain with his pretty Nymph flies,
Buxom She retires with her He,
And Love's solid Joys.

A Scotch SONG. Sung by Mrs. LUCAS
the Old THEATRE.

Moon-light on the Green,
 Our bonny Lasses Cooing;
 dancing there I've seen,
 who seem'd alone worth Wooing :
 Skin like driven Snow,
 Her Hair brown as a Berry :
 Eyes black as a Slow,
 Her Lips red as a Cherry.

Now she tript it, skipt it,
 apt it, stept it, whist it,
 it it, whirld it, twirl'd it,
 swimming, springing, starting :
 pick, the tune to nick,
 with a heave and a toss:
 a jerk at parting,
 with a heave, and a toss, and a jerk at parting.

He sat down I bowed;
 and veil'd my bonnet to her;
 then took her from the Crowd,
 with Honey words to woo her;
 yet blitheft Lass, quoth I,
 being bleaky Weather:
 thee let us try,
 another Dance together;
 now she, &c.

VVhilst suing thus I stood,
Quoth she, pray leave your fooling;
Some Dancing heats the Blood,
But yours I fear lacks cooling:
Still for a Dance I pray'd,
And we at last had Seven;
And whilst the Fiddle play'd,
She thought her self in Heaven,
Oh how she, &c.

At last she with a Smile,
To Dance again desir'd me;
Quoth I, pray stay a while,
For now good faith ye've tir'd me:
VVith that she look'd on me,
And sigh'd with muckle sorrow;
Than gang ye'ar gate, quoth she,
But Dance again to morrow.

QUAKER'S SONG. Sung by Mrs. Willis.
at the New Play-House.

Mongst the pure ones all,
Which Conscience doth profess;
yet that sort of Conscience,
doth practice nothing less:
than the Sect of those Elect,
that's ioath to live by Merit;
it leads their Lives with other Mens VVives,
according unto the Spirit.

E 5

One:

One met with a Holy Sister of ours,
A Saint who dearly lov'd him :
And fain he would have kiss'd her,
Because the Spirit mov'd him :
But she deny'd, and he reply'd,
You're damn'd unless you do it;
Therefore consent, do not repent,
For the Spirit doth move me to it.

She not willing to offend, poor Soul,
Yielded unto his Motion ;
And what these two did intend,
Was out of pure Devotion :
To lye with a Friend and a Brother,
She thought she shou'd die no Sinner,
But e'er five Months were past,
The Spirit was quick within her.

But what will the VVicked say,
VVhen they shall here of this Rumour ;
They'd laugh at us every Day,
And Scoff us in every Corner :
Let 'em do so still if that they will,
VVe mean not to follow their Fashion,
They're none of our Sect, nor of our Elect,
Nor none of our Congregation.

But when the time was come,
That she was to be laid ;
It was no very great Crime,
Committed by her they said :
'Cause they did know, and she did show,
'Twas done by a Friend and a Brother,
But a very great Sin they said it had been,
If it had been done by another.

A SONG.

Oyster Nam stood by her Tub,
 To shew her vicious Inclination;
 gave her noblest Parts a Scrub,
 and sigh'd for want of Copulation:
 Wintner of no little Fame,
 Who excellent Red and White can sell ye,
 sold the little dirty Dame,
 as she stood scratching of her Belly.

Come:

Come in, says he, you silly Slut,
 'Tis now a rare convenient Minute;
 I'll lay the Itching of your Scut,
 Except some greedy Devil be in it:
 With that the Flat-capt Fusby smil'd,
 And would have blush'd, but that she cou'd not;
 Alas! says she, we're soon beguill'd,
 By Men to do those things we shou'd not.

From Door they went behind the Bar,
 As it's by common Fame reported;
 And there upon a Turkey Chair,
 Unseen the loving Couple sported:
 But being call'd by Company,
 As he was taking pains to please her;
 I'm coming, coming Sir, says he,
 My Dear, and so am I, says she, Sir.

Her Mole-hill Beily swell'd about,
 Into a Mountain quickly after;
 And when the pretty Mouse crept out,
 The Creature caus'd a mighty Laughter:
 And now she has learnt the pleasing Game,
 Altho' much Pain and Shame it cost her;
 She daily ventures at the same,
 And shuts and opens like an Oyster.

The I R I S H Figg : Or, the Night Ramble

E Night in my Ramble I chanc'd to see,
 A thing like a Spirit, it frightned me;
 I'd up my Hat and resolv'd to look big,
 Ereight fell a Tuning the Irish Jigg.

Devil drew nearer and nearer in short;
 And it was one of the Petticoat sort;
 Years being over, I car'd not a Fig,
 Till I kept tuning the Irish Jigg.

Then I went to her, resolving to try her;
 Her agog of a longing desire;
 And her I'd give her a Whip for her Gig,
 A Scourge to the Tune of the Irish Jigg.

Nothing but Dancing our Fancy could please,
 Lay on the Grass and Danc'd at our ease;
 I w'd with my Breeches and off with my Whigg,
 We fell a Dancing the Irish Jigg.

Thank you, kind Sir, for your kindness, said she,
 Scholar's as Wise as the Master can be;
 If you should chance to get me with Kid,
 I'll pay the poor Brat to the Irish Jigg.

Dance being ended as you may see,
 Rose by Consent and we both went away;
 Lay on my Cloaths and left her to grow big,
 So I went Roaring the Irish Jigg.

A S O N G.

IT was a happy Golden Day,
 When fair Althea Kind and Gay,
 Put all but Love and me away ;
 I arm'd with soft Words did Address,
 Sweet and kind Kisses far express,
 A greater Joy and Happiness.

Nature the best Instrufteress cry'd,
 Her Ivory Pillows to divide,
 That Love might Sail with Wind and Tide ;
 She rais'd the Mast and sail'd by it,
 That Day two Tides together met,
 Drove him on Shore soon dropping wet.

A S O N G.

H! Calla how can you be Cruel and Fair?

Since removing,

The Charms that are loving,

would make a poor Lover Despair;

true, I have lov'd you these seven long Years & more,

long for a Man that ne'er was in Love before:

and if longer you my Caresses deny,

then am resolv'd to give over my Flames and die.

Love

Love fires the Heart of him that is Brave,
 Charms the Spirit
 Of him that is merit,
 And makes the poor Lover a Slave;
 Dull sordid Souls that never knew how to Love,
 Where Nature is plung'd, 'tis a shame to the best
 And if any longer you my Caresses deny,
 I then am resolv'd to give over my Flames and

A SONG.

THERE was a Knight and he was Young,
 A riding along the way, Sir;
 And there he met a Lady fair,
 Among the Cocks of Hay, Sir;

he, shall you and I Lady,
 on the Grass lye down a ;
 will have a special Care,
 rumpling of your Gown a.

will go along with me,
 to my Father's Hall, Sir ;
 all enjoy my Maiden-head,
 my Estate and all, Sir :
 mounted her on a milk-white Steed,
 self upon another ;
 then they rid upon the Road,
 Sister and like Brother.

when she came to her Father's House,
 which was moated round about, Sir ;
 popped streight within the Gate,
 shut this Young Knight out, Sir,
 a Purse of Gold, she said,
 for your Pains, Sir ;
 will send my Father's Man,
 to home with you again, Sir.

you meet a Lady fair,
 you go thro' the next Town, Sir ;
 must not fear the Dew of the Grass,
 the rumpling of her Gown, Sir :
 you meet a Lady Gay,
 you go by the Hill, Sir ;
 will not when you may,
 shall not when you will, Sir.

is a Dew upon the Grass, spoil your Damask Gown a ;
 has cost your Father dear,
 by Shilling and Crown a :
 is a Wind blows from the West,
 will dry the Ground a ;
 will have a special Care,
 the rumpling of my Gown a.

A S O N G.

Slaves to London I'll deceive you,
 For the Country now I leave you :
 Who can bear, and not be Mad,
 Wine so dear, and yet so bad :
 Such a Noise and Air so smoaky,
 That to stun, this to choak ye ;
 Men so selfish, false and rude,
 Nymphs so young and yet so lew'd.

Quiet harmless Country Pleasure,
 Shall at home engross my Leisure ;
 Farewel London, I'll repair,
 To my Native Country Air :
 I leave all thy Pleasures behind me,
 But at home my Wife will find me ;
 Oh the Gods! 'tis ten times worse,
London is a milder Curse.

Duke of ORMOND's March.

Set by Mr. CHURCH.

YE brave Boys and Tars,
 That design for the Wars,
 Remember the Action at Vigo;
 And where ORMOND Commands,
 Let us all joyn our Hands,
 Where he goes, may you go, and I go.

Let Conquest and Fame,
 The Honour proclaim,
 ORMOND has gotten at Vigo;
 Let the Trumpets now sound,
 And the Ecchoes around,
 Where he goes, may you go, and I go.

Let the Glories be Sung,
 Which the ORMONDS have won,
 Before this great Action at Vigo;

They're

They're so Loyal and Just,
And so true to their Trust,
That where he goes, may you go, and I go.

Old Records of Fame,
Of the ORMONDS great Name,
Their Actions, like these were of Vigo;
And since this Prince exceeds,
In his Fore-Father's Deeds,
Then where he goes, may you go, and I go.

'Tis the Praise of our Crown,
That such Men of Renown,
Shou'd lead on the Van, as at Vigo;
Where such Lives and Estates
Are expos'd for our sakes,
Then where he goes, may you go, and I go.

'Twas the whole Nation's Voice,
And we all did rejoyce,
When we heard he Commanded for Vigo;
To ANNA so True,
All her Foes to pursue,
Then where he goes, may you go, and I go.

'Tis the Voice of the Town,
And our Zeal for the Crown,
To serve ORMOND to France, Spain, or Vigo;
So Noble and brave,
Both to Conquer and save,
Then where he goes, may you go, and I go.

To the Soldiers so kind,
And so humbly inclin'd,
To wave his Applause gain'd at Vigo;
Yet so kind and so true,
He gave all Men their due,
Then where he goes, may you go, and I go.

We justly do own,
All the Honour that's won,
In Flanders, as well as at Vigo;

PILLS to Purge Melancholy.

117

But our Subject and Theme,
Is of ORMOND's great Name,
where he goes, may you go, and I go.

Then take off the Bowl,
To that Generous Soul,
Commanded so bravely at Vigo;
And may ANNA approve,
Of our Duty and Love,
where he goes, may you go, and I go.

A Cure for Melancholy.

Are

ARE you grown so Melancholy,
 That you think on nought but Folly;
 Are you sad,
 Are you Mad,
 Are you worse;
 Do you think,
 Want of Chink
 Is a Curse:
 Do you wish for to have,
 Longer Life, or a Grave,
Thus would I Cure ye.

First I would have a Bag of Gold,
 That should ten Thousand Pieces hold,
 And all that,
 In thy Hat,
 Would I pour;
 For to spend,
 On thy Friend,
 Or thy Whore:
 For to cast away at Dice,
 Or to shift you of your Lice,
Thus would I Cure ye.

Next I would have a soft Bed made,
 Wherein a Virgin should be laid;
 That would Play,
 Any way
 You'll devise;
 That would stick
 Like a Tick,
 To your Thighs,
 That would bill like a Dove,
 Lye beneath or above,
Thus would I Cure ye.

Next that same Bowl, where Jove Divine,
 Drank Nectar in, I'd fill with Wine;
 That whereas,
 You should pause,

You should quaff;
Like a Greek,
Till your Cheek,
erres and to Venus,
acchus and Silenus,
us would I Cure ye.

of all there should appear,
Eunuchs sphere-like Singing here,
In the Praise,
Of those Ways,
Of delights;
Venus can,
Use with Man,
In the Night:
n he strives to adorn,
m's Head with a HORN,
us would I Cure ye.

f not Gold, nor Woman can,
Wine, nor Songs, make merry then;
Let the Batt,
Be thy Mate,
And the Owl;
Let a Pain,
In thy Brain,
Make thee Howl;
he Pox be thy Friend,
the Plague work thy end,
us I would Cure you.

To his fairest VALENTINE Mrs. A.

COME pretty Birds present your Lays,
 And learn to chaunt a Goddess Praise;
 Ye Wood-Nymphs let your Voices be,
 Employ'd to serve her Deity :
 And warble forth, ye Virgins Nine,
Some Musick to my Valentine.

Her Bosom is Loves Paradise,
 There is no Heav'n but in her Eyes ;

chaster than the Turtle-Dove,
fairer than the Queen of Love:
all Perfections do combine,
beautifie my Valentine.

Nature's choicest Cabinet,
e Honour, Beauty, Wóth and Wit;
ll united in her Breast,
Graces claim an Interest:
vertures that are most Divine,
clearest in my Valentine.

A BALLAD.

Or, COLLIN'S Adventure.

L. V.

G

As

AS Collin went from his Sheep to unfold,
In a Morning of April, as grey as 'twas
In a Thicket he heard a Voice it self spread;
Which was, O, O, I am almost dead.

He peep'd in the Bushes, and spy'd where there
His Mistress, whose Countenance made April
But in her looks some sadness was read,
Crying O, O, I am almost dead.

He rush'd in to her, and cry'd what's the matter,
Ah! Collin, quoth she, why will you come at her
Who by the false Swain, hath often been misled,
For which O, O, I am almost dead.

He turn'd her Milk-pail, and there down he sat,
His Hands stroak'd his Beard, on his Knee lay his
But, O, still Mopsa cry'd, before ought was said,
Collin, O, O, I am almost dead.

No more, quoth stout Collin! I ever was true,
Thou gav'st me a Handkerchief all hemm'd with
A Pin-box I gave thee, and a Girdle so Red,
Yet still she cry'd, O, O, I am almost dead.

Delaying, quoth she, hath made me thus Ill,
For I never fear'd Sarah that dwelt at the Mill,
Since in the Ev'ning late her Hogs thou hast fed
For which, O, O, I am almost dead.

Collin then chuck'd her under the Chin,
Cheer up, for to love thee I never will lin,
Says she, I'll believe it when the Parson has read
'Till then O, O, I am almost dead.

Uds boars, quoth Collin, I'll new my shon,
And e'er the Week pass, by the Mass it shall be
You might have done this before, then she said,
But now, O, O, I am almost dead,

ave her a twitch that quite turn'd her round,
 said, I'm the truest that e'er trod on Ground,
 e settle thy Milk-Pail fast on thy Head,
 No more O, O, I am almost dead.

y then I perceive thou'l't not leave me in the Lurch,
 on my best Cloths and streight to the Church:
 on, merry Collin, jog on before,
 r I Faith, I Faith, I'll dye no more.

Town-Rakes, A SONG: Set by Mr. Daniel
Purcell: Sung by Mr. EDWARDS.

What Life can compare with the jolly Town-Rakes,
 When in his full swing of all Pleasure he takes?
 Noon he gets up for a wet and to Dine, (Wine, Wings the swift Hours with Mirth, Musick, and en jogs to the Play-house and chats with the Malques, thence to the Rose where he takes his three Flasks,
 ere great as a Cesar he revels when drunk,
 scours all he meets as he reels, as he reels to his Punk, finds the dear Girl in his Arms when he wakes, at Life can compare to the jolly Town-Rakes, the (jolly Town-Rakes.

Like the Great Turk has his favourite She,
 the Town's his Seraglio, and still he lives free;
 etimes she's a Lady, but as he must range,
 ck Betty, or Oyster Moll serve for a Change:
 he varies his Sports his whole Life is a Feast;
 thinks him that is soberest is most like a Beast:
 Houses of Pleasure, breaks Windows and Doors,
 ks Bullies and Cullies, then lies with their Whores:
 e work for the Surgeon and Midwife he makes,
 at Life can Compare with the jolly Town-Rakes.

as in Covent-Garden he makes his Campaigns,
 no Coffee-House haunts but to settle his Brains;
 laughs at dry Mortals, and never does think,
 ess 'tis to get the best VVenches and Drink:
 dwells in a Tavern, and lives ev'ry where,
 improving his Hour, lives an age in a Year:
 as Life is uncertain, he loves to make haste,
 thus he lives longest because he lives fast:
 en leaps in the Dark, and his Exit he makes,
 hat Death can compare with the jolly Town-Rakes,

A SONG: Set by Mr. CLARK.

Young Coridon and Phillis
 Sate in a lovely Grove;
 Contriving Crowns of Lillies,
 Repeating Tales of Love:
And something else, but what I dare not, &c.

But as they were a Playing,
 She oagled so the Swain;
 It sav'd her plainly saying,
 Let's kifs to ease our Pain:
And something else, &c.

A thousand times he kifs'd her,
 Laying her on the Green;
 But as he farther press'd her,
 Her pretty Leg was seen:
And something else, &c.

any Beauties removing,
 s Ardor still increas'd;
 greater Joys pursuing,
 wander'd o'er her Breast:
something else, &c.

Effort she trying,
 s Passion to withstand;
 d, but it was faintly crying,
 ay take away your Hand:
something else, &c.

ing Coridon grown bolder,
 he Minute would improve;
 is the Time he told her,
 o shew you how I love;
something else, &c.

Nymph seem'd almost dying,
 solv'd in amorous Heat;
 kiss'd, and told him sighing,
 y Dear your Love is great:
something else, &c.

Phillis did recover
 uch sooner than the Swain;
 blushing ask'd her Lover,
 hall we not Kiss again:
something else, &c.

s Love his Revels keeping,
 Till Nature at a stand:
 m talk they fell to Sleeping,
 Holding each others Hand;
something else, &c.

The Amorous BARBER's Passion of Love for
Dear BRIDGET.

With my Strings of small Wire lo I come,
 And a Cittern made of Wood;
 And a Song altho' you are Deaf and Dumb,
 May be heard and understood.

Dumb, dumb, —

Oh! take Pity on me, my Dear,
 Me thy Slave, and me thy Vassal,
 And be not Cruel, as it were,
 Like to some strong well built old Castle.

Dumb, dumb —

Left as thou passest along the Street,
 Braver every Day and braver;
 Every one that does thee meet,
 Will say there goes a Woman-shaver.

Dumb, dumb —

and again will think fit,
 And to say they will determine;
 There goes she that with Tongue killed Clip-Chops,
 As a Man with his Thumbs kill Vermine.

Dumb, dumb ———

If thou dost then, farewell Pelf,
 Farewell Bridget, for I vow I'll:
 Ever in my Bason hang my self,
 Or drown me in my Towel,

Dumb, dumb ———

BALLAD, made by a Gentleman in Ireland, who could not have Access to a Lady whom he went to visit, because the Maid the Night before had over-laid her pretty Bitch. To the Tune of, O Hone, O Hone.

OH! let no Eyes be dry,
Oh Hone, Oh Hone,
 But let's lament and cry,
Oh Hone, O Hone,
 We're quite undone almost,
 For Daphne on this Coast,
 Has yielded up the Ghost,
Oh Hone, O Hone.

Daphne my dearest Bitch,
Oh Hone, O Hone,
 Who did all Dogs bewitch,
Oh Hone, &c.
 Was by a careless Maid,
 Pox take her for a Jade,
 In the Night over-laid,
Oh Hone, &c.

Oh may she never more
Oh Hone, &c.
 Sleep quietly, but snore,
Oh Hone, &c.
 May never Irish Lad,
 Sue for her Maiden-head,
 Until it stinks I Gad,
Oh Hone, &c.

Oh may she never keep
Oh Hone, Oh Hone;
 Her Water in her Sleep,
Oh Hone, Oh Hone:
 May never Pence nor Pounds,
 Come more within the Bounds,
 Of her Pocket Ad-sounds,
Oh Hone, Oh Hone.

AMON forsaken. Set by Mr. WROTH.

WHEN that young Damon blest'd my Heart,
 And in soft Words did move;
 How did I hug the pleasing Dart,
 And thank'd the God of Love:
 And, said I, my best lov'd Lamb,
 That in my Bosom lives:
 To thee, for kindling this dear Flame,
 To thee, kind God, I'll give.

But

But prying Friends o'er-heard my Vow,
 And murmur'd in my Ear;
Damon hath neither Flocks nor Plough,
 Girl what thou dost beware:
 They us'd so long their cursed Art,
 And damn'd deluding sham;
 That I agreed with them to part,
 Nor offer'd up my Lamb.

Cupid ask'd for his Offering,
 'Cause I refus'd to pay;
 He took my Damon on his Wing,
 And carry'd him quite away:
 Pitch'd him before Olinda's Charms,
 Those Wonders of the Plain;
 Commanding her into her Arms,
 To take the dearest Swain.

The envy'd Nymph, soon, soon obey'd,
 And bore away the Prize;
 'Tis well she did, for had she stay'd,
 I'd snatch'd him from her Eyes:
 My Lamb was with gay Garlands dress'd,
 The Pile prepar'd to burn;
 Hoping that if the God pleas'd,
 My Damon might return.

But oh! in vain he's gone, he's gone,
Phillis he can't be thine;
 I by Obedience am undone,
 Was ever Fate like mine:
Olinda do, try all thy Charms,
 Yet I will have a part;
 For whilst you have him in your Arms,
 I'll have him in my Heart.

Apparition to the Filted Lover. Set by Mr.
W. ROTH.

THINK wretched Mortal, think no more,
 How to prolong thy Breath:
 For thee there are no Joys in store,
 But in a welcome Death:
 Then seek to lay thee under Ground,
 The Grave cures all Despair;
 And healeth every bitter Wound,
 Giv'n by th' ungrateful Fair.

How cou'dst thou Faith in Woman think,
 Women are Syrens all;
 And when Men in Loves Ocean sink,
 Take Pride to see 'em fall:
 Women were never real yet,
 But always truth despise:
 Constant to nothing but Deceit,
 False Oaths and flattering Lies.

Ah! Coridon bid Life adieu,
 The Gods will thee prefer;
 Their Gates are open'd wide for you,
 But bolted against her:
 Do thou be true, you vow'd to Love,
Phillis or Death you'll have;
 Now since the Nymph doth perjured prove,
 Be just unto the Grave.

A SONG.

Heaven first created Woman to be Kind,
Both to be belov'd, and for to Love;
You contradict what Heav'n has design'd,
You'll be condemn'd by all the Pow'rs above;

Then

Then no more dispute me, for I am rashly bent,
 To subject your Beauty
 To kind Nature's Duty,
 Let me than salute you by Consent.

Arguments and fair Intreats did I use,
 But with her Consent could not prevail;
 She the Blessing modestly would still refuse,
 Seeming for to slight my amorous Tale:
 Sometimes she would cry Sir, prithee Dear be gone
 Oh Sir, pray Sir, why Sir?
 Pray now, nay now, fye Sir,
 I would sooner die Sir, than be rude.

I began to treat her then another way,
 Modestly I melted with a Kiss;
 She then blushing look'd like the rising Day,
 Fitting for me to attempt the Bliss:
 I gave her a fall Sir, she began to tear,
 Crying she would call Sir,
 Loud as she could bawl Sir,
 But is prov'd as false, Sir, as she's Fair.

RALPH's going to the Wars.

O the Wars I must alas,
Though I do not like the Game,
I hold him to be an Ass,
That will lose his Life for Fame:
These Guns are such pestilent things,
That a Pellet in ones Brow;
Perlongs off ch've heard some say,
Will kill a Man he knows not how.

In the Bow, Bill, Zword and Dagger,
Were us'd all in vighting;
I heard my Father swear and swagger,
That it was but a Flea-biting:
These Guns, &c.

Could vight with the best of our Parish,
And play at Whisters with Mary;
I thump the Vootball, yerk the Morrie,
And box at Visticuffs with any:
These Guns, &c.

Well Dick, Tom, Ralph and Hugh.
Maypoles make all heretofore;
Well Doll, Kate, Zis and Zue,
I shall never zee you more:
These Guns are such pestilent things,
That a Pellet in ones Brow;
Perlongs off ch've heard some say,
Will kill a Man he knows not how.

PILLS to Purge Melancholy.
A SONG in Praise of Punch.

COME fill up the Bowl with the Liqueur that
And much more Divine is,
Than now a-days Wine is, with all their Art,
None here can controul:
The Vintner despising, tho' Brandy be rising,
'Tis Punch that must chear the Heart:
The Lovers complaining, 'twill cure in a trice,
And Calia disdaining, shall cease to be nice,
Come fill up the Bowl, &c.

Thus soon you'll discover, the cheat of each LOV
When free from all Care you'll quickly find,
As Nature intended 'em willing and kind:
Come fill up the Bowl, &c.

A SONG.

BONNY Peggy Ramsey that any Man may see,
 And bonny was her Face, with a fair freckel'd Eye;
 'Tis her Body made, and she hath good Skill,
 Square is her Wethergig made like a Mill,
 With a hey trolodel, hey trolodel, hey trolodel lill,
 My Peggy Ramsey she gives weel her Mill.

To the Mill is gone to grind a Bowl of Maule,
 Mill it wanted Water, and was not that a fault;
 She pull'd her Petticoats and piss'd into the Dam,
 Six Days and seven Nights she made the Mill to gang:
 With a hey, &c.

They call her Peggy, and some call her Jeon,
 Some calls her Midsummer, but they all are mista'en;
Peggy is a bonny Lass, and grinds well her Mill,
 She will be Occupied when others they lay still:
 With a hey, &c.

She and Ise grin a poke, and we to War will leanes,
 Lay thee flat upon thy Back and then lay to the steanes;
 Make hopper titter totter, haud the Mouth as still,
 Sit a while, and ease stand, merrily grind the Mill:
 With a hey, &c.

Up

Up goes the Clap, and in goes the Corn,
 Betwixt twa rough steans Peggy not to learn;
 With a Dam full of Water that she holdeth still
 To pour upon the Clap for burning of the Mill-
With a hey, &c.

Up she pull'd the Dam sure and let the Water in
 The Wheel went about, and the Mill began to go
 The spindle it was hardy, and the steans were the

And the Meal fell in the Mill Trough, and ye me
(come)
With a hey trolodel, hey trolodel, hey trolodel lill,
Bonny Peggy Ramsey she gives weel her Mill.

 In a sweet smelling Grove went smiling along,
 'Till the Youth gave a vent to his Heart with his Tongue
 Ah Sylvia! said he, (and sigh'd when he spoke)
 Your cruel resolves will you never revoke?
 No never, she said, how never, he cry'd,
 'Tis the Damn'd that shall only that Sentence abide

She turn'd her about to look all around,
 Then blush'd, and her pretty Eyes cast on the Ground
 She kiss'd his warm Cheeks, then play'd with his Hair
 And urg'd that his Reason his Passion would cheer
 Ah Philander! she said, 'tis a dangerous Bliss,
 Ah! never ask more and I'll give thee a Kiss;
 How never? he cry'd, then shiver'd all o'er,
 No never, she said, then tripp'd to a Bower:

 as if she were dead, she slept and lay still,
 en in Death bequeath'd him a smile:
 embolden'd the Youth his Charms to apply,
 he bore still about him to cure those that die.

A SONG.

Withee send me back my Heart,
 Since I cannot have thine:
 If from yours you will not part,
 Why then should you have mine.

Now I think on't, let it be,
 To send it me is vain;

Thou

Thou hast a Thief in either Eye,
Will steal it back again.

Why should two Hearts in one Breast be,
And yet not be together;
Or Love, where is thy Sympathy,
If thou our Hearts do sever?

But Love is such a Mystery,
I cannot find it out;
For when I think I am best resolv'd,
Then I am most in Doubt.

Then farewell Care, then farewell Woe,
I will no longer pine;
But I'll believe I have her Heart,
As well as she hath mine.

BACCHUS turn'd Doctor. The Words by JOHNSON.

T Soldiers fight for Pay and Praise,
 And Money be Misers with ;
 Scholars study all their Days,
 And Gluttons glory in their Dish :
Tis Wine, pure Wine, revives sad Souls,
Therefore give us chearing Bowls.

Minions marshal in their Hair,
 And in a Lover's lock delight ;
 Artificial Colours wear,
 And have the Native Red and White.
Tis Wine, &c.

Pheasant, Pout, and Culver Salmon, &c.
 And how to please your Palates think :
 As a salt Westphalia-Gammon,
 Is Meat to eat, but Meat to drink.
Tis Wine, &c.

And the backward Spirits brave,
 That lively, that before was dull ;
 Grow good Fellows that are grave,
 And kindness flows from Cups brim full,
Tis Wine, &c.

Have the Prysick, some the Rhume,
 Some have the Palsie, some the Gout ;
 Some swell with Fat, and some consume,
 They are found that drink all out.
Tis Wine, &c.

Men want Youth, and some want Health,
 Some want a Wife, and some a Punk ;
 Men want Wit, and some want Wealth,
 Some wants nothing that is drunk.
Tis Wine, pure Wine, revives sad Souls,
Therefore give us chearing Bowls.

JENNY

JENNY making Hay.

P OOR Jenny and I we toiled,
 In a long Summer's Day;
 Till we were almost foiled,
 With making of the Hay:
 Her Kerchief was of Holland clear,
 Bound low upon her Brow;
 Ife whisper'd something in her Ear,
But what's that to you?

Stockings were of Kersey green,
 Well sticht with yellow Silk;
 Like a Leg was never seen,
 Her Skin as white as Milk:
 Hair as black as any Crow,
 And sweet her Mouth was too;
 Jenny daintily can mow,
 &c.

Petticoats were not so low,
 As Ladies they do wear them;
 Needed not a Page I trow,
 For I was by to bear them:
 Took them up all in my Hand,
 And I think her Linnen too;
 Which made me for to make a stand;
 &c.

Salomon had Wives enough,
 And Concubines a Number;
 He possess more happines,
 And he had more of Cumber;
 Boys surmount a wedded Life,
 With fear she lets me mow her;
 Which is better than a Wife,
 &c.

Lilly and the Rose combine,
 To make my Jenny fair;
 There's no Contentment like as mine;
 Almost void of Care:
 Yet I fear my Jenny's Face,
 Will cause more Men to woe;
 Which if she should, as I do fear,
 What is that to you?

The Knotting SONG. The Words by Sir CHARLES
SIDNEY.

Ears not my Philis how the Birds,
 Their feather'd Mates salute:
 Tell their Passion in their VVords,
 Must I alone, must I alone be mute:
 Without a frown or smile,
 Knotted, & knotted, & knotted, and knotted all the while.

God of Love in thy bright Eyes,
 Does like a Tyrant Reign;
 In thy Heart a Child he lies,
 Without a Dart or Flame.
 &c.

Many Months in silence past,
 And yet in raging Love;
 I well deserve one word at last,
 My Passion should approve.
 &c.

When your faithful Swain expire,
 I not one look obtain;
 To sooth his fond desire,
 I pleasingly explain.
 &c.

The FRENCH KING in a foaming Passion for loss of his Potent Army in the NETHERLANDS which were Routed by his Grace the Duke MALBOROUGH.

ED Lewis le Grand,
 He raves like a Fury,
 and calls for Mercury;
 Oh he, if I can,
 I finish my Days;
 why should I live?
 the Fates will not give me affable smile:
 at Marlborough Conquers,
 at Marlborough Conquers,
 in ruin'd the while.

Flower of France,
 and Troops of my Palace which march'd from Versailles
 vow'd to Advance,
 With Conquering Sword,

 what will become of my Grand-Son in Spain.

fortify'd Throne,
 kept up by Oppression,

 needs must I own,
 my Glory decays:

Bold Marlborough comes
 With ratling Drums,
 And thundering Shot,
 He drives all before him,
 He drives all before him,
 Oh! Where am I got?

He pushes for Crowns,
 And slays my Commanders,
 And Forces in Flanders;
 Great Capital Towns,
 For CHARLES has declar'd:
 These things like a Dart,
 Has pierced my Heart,
 And threatens my Death;
 Here do I lye sighing,
 Here do I lye sighing,
 And Panting for Breath.

This passionate Grief,
 Draws on my Diseases,
 Which fatally ceases
 My Spirits in chief,
 A fit of the Gout,
 The Gravel and Stone,
 I have 'tis well known,
 At this horrid News,
 Of Marlborough's Triumph,
 Of Marlborough's Triumph,
 All Battles I lose.

Wherever he comes,
 He is bold and Victorious,
 Successful and glorious,
 My two Royal Thumbs
 With anguish I bite:
 To hear his Success;
 Yet nevertheless,
 My passion's in vain:
 I pity my Darling,
 I pity my Darling,

 Would you lead a Life Divine?

 In a lussy Dose of Wine
 If the Nymph has no Compassion,
 Vain it is to sigh and groan:

THough the Pride of my Passion fair Sylvia betrays
 And frowns at the Love I impart ;
 Though kindly her Eyes twist amorous Rays,
 To tye a more fortunate Heart :
 Yet her Charms are so great, I'll be bold in my Pain
 His Heart is too tender,
 Too tender, that's struck with Disdain.

Still my Heart is so just to my Passionate Eyes,
 It dissolves with Delight while I gaze :
 And he that loves on, though Sylvia denies,
 His Love but his Duty obeys :
 I no more can refrain her neglects to pursue,
 Than the force, the force
 Of her Beauty can cease to subdue.

A S O N G.

WHEN first I fair Celinda knew,
Her Kindness then was great :
Eyes I cou'd with Pleasure view,
And friendly Rays did meet :
Delights we past the time,
That could Diversion move ;
You would kindly hear me Rhime
Upon some others Love :
*You would kindly hear me Rhime,
Upon some others Love.*

Oh! at last I grew too bold,
And by my growing Flame ;
When my Passion I had told,
You hated ev'n my Name :
As I that cou'd her Friendship boast,
And did her Love pursue ;
You taught Contentment at the cost,
Of Love and Friendship too.

A SONG.

Set by Mr. FISHBURNE.

LONG had Damon been admir'd
By the Beauties of the Plain;
Ev'ry Breast warm Love inspir'd,
For the proper handsome Swain:
The choicest Nymph Sicilia bred,
Was won by his resitless Charms:
Soft Looks, and Verſe as ſmooth, had led
And left the Captive in his Arms.

our Damon's Soul aspires,
 a Goddess of his Race;

 fatal News no sooner blown Whispers up the Chesnut Row;

 casts all the Lawrels on his Brow.

A SONG.

Set by Mr. FISHEURN.

Pretty Floramel, no Tongue can ever tell,
 The Charms that in thee dwell;
 Those Soul-melting Pleasures,
 Shou'd the mighty Jove once view, he'd be in Love
 And plunder all above,
 To rain down his Treasure:
 Ah! said the Nymph in the Shepherd's Arms,
 Had you half so much Love as you say I have Charms,
 There's not a Soul, created for Man and Love,
 More true than Floramel wou'd prove,
 I'd o'er the World with thee rove.

Love that's truly free, had never Jealousie,
 But artful Love may be
 Both doubtful and wooing;
 Ah! dear Shepherdess, ne'er doubt, for you may see
 My Heart will prove no less,
 Than ever endless loving:
 Then cries the Nymph, like the Sun thou shalt be
 And I, like kind Earth, will produce all to thee;
 Of ev'ry Flower in Love's Garden I'll Off'ring bring
 To my Saint. Nay then pray
 Take not those dear Eyes away.

SONG. Set by by. Mr. ROBERT KING.

Shady Woods and purling Streams,
 Spend my Life in pleasing Dreams;
 Would not for the World be thought
 Change my false delightful Thought:
 No, alafs! can happy be,
 Does the Truth of all things see?
 No, alafs! can happy be,
 Does the Truth of all things see.

A SONG. Sett by Mr. HENRY PURCELL.

IN Chloris all soft Charms agree,
 Enchanting Humour, pow'rful Wit;
 Beauty from Affectation free,
 And for Eternal Empire fit :
 Where-e'er she goes, Love waits her Eyes,
 The Women Envy, Men adore ;
 Tho' did she less the Triumph Prize,
 She wou'd deserve the Conquest more.

Vanity so much prevails,
 begs what else none can deny her ;
 with inviting treach'rous Smiles
 her hopes which ev'n prevent desire :
 at every trifling Heart,
 grows warm with ev'ry glimm'ring Flame ;
 common Prey so dead's her Dart,
 scarce can wound a noble Game.

Old lye Ages at her Feet,
 are her careless of my Pain ;
 tender Vows her Rigour meet,
 fair, love on, and not complain :
 passion from all change secur'd,
 ours may rise, no Frown controuls ;
 Torment can endure,
 hoping with a crowd of Fools.

SONG. Set by Mr. THO. FARMER.

WHEN busie Fame o'er all the Plain,
Velinda's Praises rung ;
 And on their Oaten Pipes each Swain
 Her matchless Beauty sung :
 The Envious Nymphs were forc'd to yield
 She had the sweetest Face ;
 No emulous disputes were held,
 But for the second place.

Young Coridon, whose stubborn Heart
 No Beauty e'er could move ;
 But smil'd at Cupid's Bow and Dart,
 And brav'd the God of Love :
 Would view this Nymph, and pleas'd at first
 Such silent Charms to see ;
 With Wonder gaz'd, then sigh'd, and curs'd
 His Curiosity.

A SONG. Set by Mr. FISHBURNE.

Why am I the only Creature,
Must a ruin'd Love pursue;
Or Passions yield to Nature,
When there's nothing can subdue:
The Glory of Possessing,
Monarch wishes gave me ease,
And more the mighty Blessings
Did my raging Pains encrease.

Nor

Nor could Jealousie relieve me,
 Tho' it ever waited near;
 Cloath'd in gawdy Pow'r to grieve me,
 Still the Monster would appear:
 That, nor Time, nor Absence neither,
 Nor Despair removes my Pain;
 I endure them all together,
 Yet my Torments still remain.

Had alone her matchless beauty,
 Set my amorous Heart on Fire,
 Age at last would do its Duty,
 Fuel ceasing, Flames expire.
 But her Mind immortal grows,
 Makes my Love immortal too;
 Nature ne'er created Faces,
 Can the Charms of Souls undoe.

And to make my Loss the greater,
 She laments it as her own;
 Could she scorn me, I might hate her,
 But alas! she shews me none:
 Then since Fortune is my Ruin,
 In Retirement I'll Complain;
 And in rage for my undoing,
 Ne'er come in its Power again.

A SONG.

Arinda, who did love Disdain,
For whom had languish'd many a Swain:
ling her bleating Flocks to drink,
Spy'd upon a River's brink
youth, whose Eyes did well declare,
much he lov'd, but lov'd not her.

At

At first she laugh'd, but gaz'd a while,
Which soon it lessen'd to a smile;
Thence to Surprize and Wonder came,
Her Breast to heave, her Heart to flame:
Then cry'd she out, Ah! now I prove
Thou art a God most mighty Jove.

She would have spoke, but shame deny'd,
And bid her first consult her Pride;
But soon she found that aid was gone,
For Jove, alas! had left her none:
Ah! now she burns! but 'tis too late,
For in his Eyes she reads her Fate.

A SONG.

If Calia too fondly contemns those Delights,
 Wherewith gentle Nature hath soften'd the Nights;
 Be so kind to present us with Pow'r,
 Fault is our own to neglect the good Hour:
 You gave thee this Beauty, ordain'd thou should'st be,
 And to thy Slaves, as the Gods were to thee.

If Calia no longer reserve the vain Pride,
 Wrongsing thy self, to see others deny'd;
 Be a Pleasure, alas! you will find,
 Both are not happy, when both are most kind:
 Women, like Priests, do in others reprove,
 Call that thing Lust, which in them is but Love.

If they thro' their Madness and Folly create,
 Poor silly Slaves still impute to our Fate;
 In such Distempers where Love is the Grief,
Calia, not Heaven, must give us Relief:
 Away with those Titles of Honour and Cause,
 Which first made us sin, by giving us Laws.

A SONG.

Set by Mr. WILLIAM TURNER.

lik'd, but never lov'd before
 I saw that charming Face;
 Every Feature I adore,
 And doat on ev'ry Grace:
 Ne'er shall know that kind desire,
 Which her cold Looks denies;
 'Tis my Heart that's all on Fire,
 Should sparkle through my Eyes:
 If no gentle Glance return,
 I'll silent Leave to speak;
 My Heart which would for ever burn,
 At last! must sigh and break.

A SONG in Valentinian.

WHERE would coy Amyntas run,
 From a despairing Lover's Story?
 When her Eyes have Conquest won,
 Why should her Ear refuse the Glory:
 Shall a Slave, whose Racks constrain,
 Be forbidden to complain;
 Let her scorn me, let her Fly me,
 Let her Looks, her Love deny me:
 Ne'er shall my Heart yield to Despair,
 Or my Tongue cease to tell my Care,
 Or my Tongue cease to tell my Care:
 Much to love, and much to pray,
 Is to Heav'n the only way.

SONG. Set by Mr. Pelham Humphreys.

Wife I do hate,
 For either she's False, or she's Jealous;
 But give me a Mate,
 Nothing will ask us, or tell us:
 She stands at no Terms,
 Chaffers by way of Indenture:
 Or loves for the Farms,
 Takes the kind Man at a Venture.

If all prove not right,
 About an Act, Process or Warning,
 From Wife for a Night,
 May be divorc'd the next Morning,
 Where Parents are Slaves,
 Brats can't be any other;
 Great Wits and great Braves
 Always a Punk to their Mother.

A SONG.

CHO.

TELL me ye Sicilian Swains,
 Why this Mourning's o'er your Plains;
 Where's your usual Melody?
 Are all your Shepherds mad,
 Your Shepherdesses sad?
 What can the mighty meaning be?
Sylvia the Glory of our Plains,
 'Tis the Love of all our Swains;
 That blest us with her Smiles:
 Ere ev'ry Shepherd had a Heart,
 Ev'ry Shepherdess a Part;
 Slights our Gods, and leaves our Isle,
 Slights our Gods, and leaves our Isle.

A SONG.

WHEN gay Philander left the Plain,
The Love, the Life of ev'ry Swain;
The Pipe the mournful Strephon took,
Some sad Bank and murm'ring Brook:
The list'ning Flocks forsook their Food,
And Melancholy by him stood;
The cold Ground himself he laid,
And thus the Mournful Shepherd play'd.

Jewel to all that's bright and gay,
More glad Night and chearing Day;
More the Sun will gild our Plain,
All the lost Youth return again:
When every pensive Heart that now,
With Mournful Willow shades his Brow;
All crown'd with chearful Garlands sing,
And all shall seem Eternal Spring.

O mighty Pan, if you did know,
All ye rural Gods below;
Amongst all Youths that grac'd your Plain,
How gay so beautiful a Swain:
Whose sweet Air and charming Voice,
The list'ning Swains did all Rejoyce;
Not only, O ye Gods! restore
Your Nymphs, and Shepherds ask no more.

By sporting with Dangers still longer and longer,
 The Fetters and Chains of the Captive grows thron
 He drills on his Evil, then curses his Fate,
 And bewails those Misfortunes himself did create
 Like an empty Camelion he lives on the Air,
 And all the Day lingers 'twixt Hope and Despair
 Like a Fly in the Candle he sports and he Games,
 'Till a Victim in Folly, he dies in the Flames.

If Love, so much talk'd of, a Heresie be,
 Of all it enslaves few true Converts we see;
 If hectoring and huffing would once do the Feat,
 There's few that would fail of a Vict'ry Comple
 But with Gain to come off, and the Tyrant subdu
 Is an Art that is hitherto practis'd by few;
 How easie is Freedom once had to maintain,
 But Liberty lost is as hard to regain.

 This wining and pining, and breaking of Hearts
 All pensive and silent in Corners to sit,
 Are pretty fine Pastimes for those that want Wit
 When this Passion and Fashion doth so far abuse
 It were good the State should for Pendulums use
 For if Reason it seize on, and make it give o'er,

 To hide my Passion from your view ;
 Conscious that I should be deny'd,

A SONG.

TO the Grove, gentle Love, let us be going,
 Where the kind Spring and Wind all Day are Woe;
 He with soft sighing Blasts strives to o'er-take her,
 She would not tho' she flies, have him forsake her;
 But in circling Rings returning,
 And in purling Whispers Mourning;
 She swells and pants, as if she'd say,
 Fain I would, but dare not stay.

A S O N G.

Set by Mr. FISHBURN.

TELL me no more of Blames in Love,
 That common dull pretence,
 Is in Romances use to move
 Soft Hearts of little Sense:
 Strepson, I'm not such a Slave,
 Loves banish'd Power to own;
 'Tis Interest and Convenience have
 So long usurp'd his Throne.

No

No burning Hope or cold Despair,
 Dull Groves or purling Streams,
 Sighing and talking to the Air
 In Love's fantastick Dreams,
 Can move my Pity or my Hate,
 But Satyrists I'll prove,
 And all ridiculous create
 That shall pretend to Love.

Love was a Monarch once, 'tis true,
 And God-like rul'd alone,
 And tho' his Subjects were but few,
 Their Hearts were all his own;
 But since the Slaves revolted are,
 And turn'd into a State,
 Their Int'rest is their only Care,
 And Love grows out of Date.

A SONG.

Set by Mr. FISHBURN.

Health breeds Care, Love, Hope and Fear;

What does Love our Business hear?

Bacchus merry does appear,
 Light on and fear no sinking,
 He it briskly to the Brim,
 The flying Top-sails swim,
 He the great Discovery to him
 Of this new World of Drinking.

Cabals that States refine,
 Their Debates with Wine;
 And the God o'th' Wine;
 Makes every great Commander.
 For Sots Small-beer subdue,
 Wise and valiant Wine does woe;
 Scyrrite had the honour to Be drunk with Alexander.

To your Arms, and now Advance
 Health to the English King of France;
 The next a bon Speranze,
 Bacchus and Apollo.

 In your Place by your right-hand Man,
 Drum! now March! Dub a dub, ran dan,
 A Whig that will not follow.

A SONG. Set by Mr. Fishburn.

 To those they Oblige by their Pow'r;
 For my Part, they ever have us'd me so ill,
 They cannot expect I'll adore:

After a Temple to Friendship I'll raise,
 Dedicate there all the rest of my Days,
 The Goddess accepted my Vows,
 The Goddess accepted my Vows.

 Will for your Service all Torments endure,
 What you but have all things you wish,

For the Goddess of Fools to despise,
 And I'm too much in her Power;
 Takes me go where 'tis in vain to be wise,
 Absence of her I adore:
 She then undoes me before I get back,

A SONG.

Set by Mr. Henry Purcell.

HE himself courts his own Ruin,
 That with too great Passion sues 'em:
 When Men Whine too much in VVooing,
 VVomen will like Coquets use 'em:
 Some by this way of addressing
 Have the Sex so far transported,
 That they'll fool away the Blessing
 For the Pride of being Courted.

Jilt and smile when we adore 'em,
 VVhile some Blockhead buys the Favour;
 Presents have more Power o'er 'em
 Than all our soft Love and Labour,
 Thus, like Zealots, with screw'd Faces,
 VVe our fooling make the greater,
 VVhile we cant long winded Graces
 Others they fall to the Creature.

SONG. Set by Mr. DAMASENE.

Oh lovely Stephon, cease to charm;
 Useless, alas! is all this Art;
 Needless you should strongly arm,
 To take a too, too willing Heart:

I hid my weakness all I could,
 And chid my prating tell-tale Eyes,
 For fear the easie Conquest should Take from the value of the Prize.

But oh ! th' unruly Passion grew
 So fast, it could not be conceal'd,
 And soon, alas ! I found to you
 I must without Conditions yield,
 Tho' you have thus surpriz'd my Heart,
 Yet use it kindly, for you know,
 It's not a gallant Victor's part
 To insult o'er a vanquish'd Foe.

Careless Seamen, hidden Rocks;
And human quiet Love.

A SONG. Set by Dr. STAGGINS.

WHEN first Amyntas charm'd my Heart,
 The heedless Sheep began to stray;
 The Wolves soon stole the greatest part,
 And all will now be made a Prey:
 Ah! let not Love your Thoughts possess,
 'Tis fatal to a Shepherdess;
 The dangerous Passion you must shun,
 Or else like me, be quite undone.

A SONG.

Set by Mr. RICHARD CROONE.

W happy and free is the resolute Swain,
 That denies to submit to the Yoak of the Fair;
 From Excesses of Pleasure and Pain,
 Her dazl'd with Hope, nor deprest with Despair:
 He from Disturbance, and calmly enjoys
 Pleasures of Love, without Clamour and Noise.

Shepherds in vain their Affections reveal,
 A Nymph that is peevish, proud sullen and coy;
 And do Virgins their Passions conceal,
 They boil in their Grief, 'till themselves they destroy the poor Darling lies under a Curse: (stroy, Check'd in the Womb, or o'erlaid by the Nurse.

by Mr. RAMONDON.

WHY so pale and wan fond Lover?
 Prithee, prithee, Prithee why so pale?
 Ill, when looking well can't move her,
 Looking Ill, looking ill prevail?
 Why so dull and mute young Sinner?
 Prithee, prithee why so mute;
 Ill, when speaking well can't win her,
 Saying nothing, nothing do't?
 Quit for shame, this will not move,
 This cannot, cannot, cannot, cannot take her;
 Of her self she will not love,
 Nothing can, nothing can make her,
 The Devil, the Devil, the Devil, the Devil take her.

THAT little Patch upon your Face
 Wou'd seem a Foil on one less Fair,
 Wou'd seem a Foil, wou'd seem a Foil,
 Wou'd seem a Foil on one less Fair:
 You it hides a charming Grace,
 And you in Pity, you in Pity,
 You in Pity plac'd it there;
 You it hides a Charming Grace,
 And you in Pity, you in Pity,
 You in Pity plac'd it there,
 You in Pity, Pity,
 And you in Pity plac'd it there.

A S O N G.

Set and Sung by Mr. LEVERIDGE at the THEATER.

Beware when Strepson pursues you,
 'Tis but to boast a Conquest won:
 His Designs are aim'd to undo you,
 Break off the Love he has begun:
 When he's Addressing, and prays for the Blessing,
 Which none but his Iris can give alone;
 Then beware, 'tis all to undo you,
 'Tis but to boast a Conquest won:
 That's believing, while he is deceiving,
 Like many already, will be undone;
 Beware when Strepson pursues you,
 'Tis but to boast a Conquest won.

CEASE whining Damen to Complain,
Of thy Unhappy Fate;
That Sylvia should thy Love disdain,
Which lasting was and great.

Nor Love so constant flames so bright,
More unsuccessful prove;
Than cold neglect and sudden flight,
To gain the Nymph you love.

Then only you'll obtain the Prize,
When you her Coyness use;
If you pursue the Fair, she flies,
But if you fly, pursues.

Had Phœbus not pursu'd so fast:
The seeming cruel she;
The God a Virgin had embrac'd,
And not a lifeless Tree.

John Eccles, Sung by Mrs. Hodgson.*

WHEN I languish'd and wish'd you wou'd something
You bad me to give it a Name; (bestow,
by Heav'n I know it as little as you,
tho' my Ignorance passes for Shame:
I take for Devotion each passionate Glance,
and think the dull Fool is sincere;
I never believe that I spake in Romance,
on purpose to tickle, on purpose, on purpose,
on purpose to tickle your Ear:
I please me than more, think still I am true,
and hug each Apocryphal Text;
I practice a Thousand false Doctrines on you,
I shall still have enough, I shall still have enough,
I shall still have enough for the next.

why do you distrust,
 so faithful and so kind a Heart:

 fixed Poles shall seem to move,

 All the Nymphs of the Air would have envy
 But we stand below Envy that ill-natur'd Fate,
 And above cruel Scorn is happy Estate.

A SONG.

Set to Musick by Mr. John Eccles.

Cupid roguishly one Day,
 Had all alone stole out to play ;
Muses caught the little, little, little Knave,
 captive Love to Beauty gave :
Muses caught the little, little, little Knave,
 captive Love to Beauty gave :
 Laughing Dame soon mis'd her Son,
 here and there, and here and there,
 and here and there distracted run ;
 and here and there, and here and there,
 and here and there, and here and there distracted runs:
 Still his Liberty to gain, his Liberty to gain,
 offers his Ransom,
 in vain, in vain, in vain ;
 willing, willing Prisoner still hugs his Chain,
 Vows he'll ne'er be free,
 Vows he'll ne'er be free,
 no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no,
 no, no, no, no he'll ne'er be free again,
 no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no,

With the Old Drake, that was the next Man
To Old Francisus, who first it began,
To sail through the Streights of Magellan,
Like an Old Soldier, &c.

That put the Proud Spanish Armado to wrack,
And Travell'd all o'er the old World, and came
In his old Ship, laden with Gold and old Sack,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

With an Old Cavendish, that seconded him,
And taught his old Sails the same Passage to Swi
And did them therefore with Cloth of Gold Tri
Like an old Soldier, &c.

Like an Old Rawleigh, that twice and again
Sailed over most part of the Seas, and then Travell'd all o'er the World with his Pen,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

With an Old John Norris, the General,
That at old Gaunt, made his Fame Immortal,
In sight of his Foes, with no loss at all,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

Like Old Brest Fort, an invincible thing,
When the old Queen sent him to help the French
Took from the proud Fox, to the World's wond
Like an old Soldier, &c.

Where an old stout Fryer, as goes the Story,
Came to push of Pike with him in Vain-glory,
But he was almost sent to his own Purgatory,
By this old Soldier, &c.

With an Old Ned Norris, that kep't Offend,
A terror to Foe, and a Refuge to Friend,
And left it Impregnable to his last End,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

That in the old unfortunate Voyage of all,
March'd o'er the old Bridge, and knock'd at the Lisbon, the Mistress of Portugal,

Like an old Soldier, &c.

an Old Tim Norris, by the old Queen sent,
Master in Ireland, Lord President,
His Days and his Blood in her service he spent,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

an Old Harry Norris, in Battle wounded
Knee, whose Leg was cut off, and he said,
Have spoil'd my Dancing, and dy'd in his Bed,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

an Old Will Norris, the oldest of all,
Went voluntary, without any Call,
Old Irish Wars, to's Fame Immortal,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

an Old Dick Wenman, the first in his Prime,
Over the Walls of old Calais did Clime,
There was Knighted, and liv'd all his Time,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

an Old Nando Wenman, when Brest was o'erthrown,
The Air, into the Seas, with Gunpowder blown,
Travely recovering, long after was known,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

an Old Tom Wenman, whose bravest delight,
In a good Cause for his Country to Fight,
Dy'd in Ireland, a good old Knight,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

a Young Ned Wenman, so valiant and bold,
The Wars of Bohemia, as with the Old,
Wishes for his Valour to be Enroll'd,
Like an old Soldier, &c.

Thus of Old Soldiers, ye hear the Fame,
For so many of one House and Name,
All of old John Lord Viscount of Thame,
The old Soldier of the Queens,
And the Queens old Soldier.

On the Tombs in Westminster Ab

You must suppose it to be Easter Holy-Days : At what Sisly and Dol, Kate and Peggy, Moll and Nan, marching to Westminster, with a Lease of Prentices
 'em ; who go rowing themselves along with their Arms to make more hast, and now and then with a g Muckender wipe away the dripping that bastes their heads. At the Door they meet a crowd of Wapping men, Southwark Broom-men, the Inhabitants of the B Side, with a Butcher or two prickt in among them. T a while they stand gaping for the Master of the Shew ring upon the Suburbs of their dearest delight, just a stand gaping upon the painted Cloth before they go in Puppet Play. By and by they hear the Bunch of Keys, t rejoyces their Hearts like the sound of the Pancake.
 For now the Man of Comfort peeps over the Spikes beholding such a learned Auditory, opens the Gate o radise, and by that time they are half got into the Chapel, (for time is very precious) he lifts up his among the Tombs, and begins his Lurrey in manna form following.

To the foregoing Tune; in Imitation of the Old Soldier

HERE lies William de Valence,
 A right good Earl of Pembroke ;
 And this is his Monument which you see,
 I'll swear upon a Book.

He was high Marshal of England,
 When Henry the Third did Reign ;
 But this you take upon my Word,
 That he'll ne'er be so again.

Here the Lord Edward Talbot lies,
 The Town of Shrewsbury's Earl ;
 Together with his Countess fair,
 That was a most delicate Girl.

next to him there lyeth one,
Richard Peckshull hight;
 whom we only this do say,
 he was a Hampshire Knight.

now to tell you more of him,
 There lies beneath this Stone:
 his Wives of his, and Daughters four,
 To all of Us unknown.

Bernard Brockhurst there doth lie,
 Lord Chamberlain to Queen Ann;
 when Ann was Richard the Second's Queen,
 he was King of England.

Francis Hollis, the Lady Frances,
 The same was Suffolk's Dutchess;
 the Children of Edward the Third,
 lie here in Death's cold Clutches.

his is the Third King Edward's Brother,
 Of whom our Records tell nothing of Note, nor say they whether,
 he be in Heaven or Hell.

his same was John of Eldeston,
 he was no Costermonger;
Cornwall's Earl, and here's one dy'd,
 Cause he could live no longer.

the Lady Mohun, Dutchess of York,
 And Duke of York's Wife also;
 Death resolv'd to Horn the Duke, she lies now with Death below.

the Lady Ann Ross, but wot ye well,
 That she in Childbed dy'd;
 the Lady Marquiss of Winchester,
 lies Buried by her side.

Now think your Penny well spent good Folks,
And that you're not beguil'd;
Within this Cup doth lie the Heart
Of a French Embassador's Child.

But how the Devil it came to pass,
On purpose, or by chance;
The Bowels they lie underneath,
The Body is in France.

Dol. I warn
the Pharisee
ed it away.

There's Oxford's Countess, and there also
The Lady Burleigh her Mother;
And there her Daughter, a Countess too,
Lie close by one another.

These once were bonny Dames, and tho'
There were no Coaches then,
Yet could they jog their Tails themselves,
Or had them jogg'd by Men.

men did, but

But woe is me! those high born Sinners;
That went to pray so stoutly;

In this fair Monument which you see,
Adorn'd with so many Pillars;
Doth lie the Countess of Buckingham,
And her Husband, Sir George Villers.

This old Sir George was Grandfather,
And the Countess she was Granny;
To the great Duke of Buckingham,
Who often topt King Jammy.

Robert Eatam, a Scotch Knight,
This Man was Secretary;
scrib'd Compliments for two Queens,
Queen Ann, and eke Queen Mary.

As was the Countess of Lenox,
Elep'd the Lady Marget:
James's Grandmother, and yet
Gainst Death she had no Target.

As was Queen Mary, Queen of Scots,
Whom Buchanan doth bespatter;
She lost her Head at Tottingham,
What ever was the Matter.

As Mother of our Seventh Henry,
This is that lyeth hard by;
As was the Countess wot ye well,
Of Richmond and of Derby.

As the Seventh lieth here,
With his fair Queen beside him,
As was the Founder of this Chapel,
Oh! may no ill betide him.

Therefore his Monument's in Brass,
You'll say that very much is;
The Duke of Richmond and Lenox,
There lieth with his Dutchess.

At here they stand upright in a Press
With Bodies made of Wax;
With a Globe and a Wand in either Hand,
And their Robes upon their Backs.

Dol. How came
she here then?
Will, Why ye silly
Oase could not she
be brought here, after she was Dead?

Rog. I warrant
ye these were no small Fools, in those days.

As lies the Duke of Buckingham,
And the Dutchess his Wife;
As Felton Stabb'd at Portsmouth Town,
And so he lost his Life.

Two Children of King James these are,
Whom Death keeps very chary;
Sophia in the Cradle lies,
And this is the Lady Mary.

And this is Queen Elizabeth,
How the Spaniards did infest her?
Here she lies Buried, with Queen Mary,
And now agrees with her Sister.

To another Chapel now we come,
The People follow and chat;
This is the Lady Cottingham,
And the People cry, who's that?

This is the Lady Frances Sidney,
The Countess of Suffolk was she;
And this the Lord Dudley Carleton is,
And then they look up and see.

Sir Thomas Brumley lieth here,
Death would him not reprieve;
With his four Sons, and Daughters four,
That once were all alive.

The next is Sir John Fullerton,
And this is his Lady I trow;
And this is Sir John Puckering,
Whom none of you did know.

That's the Earl of Bridgewater in the middle,
Who makes no use of his Bladder;
Although his Lady lie so near him,
And so we go up a Ladder.

Edward the First, that Gallant Blade,
Lies underneath this Stone;
And this is the Chair which he did bring,
A good while ago from Seene.

Kate. He

his same Chair, till now of late,
 our Kings and Queens were Crown'd;

 shal lie upon the Ground.

 that Chair. Tom.

that same Stone did Jacob sleep,
 instead of a Down Pillow;
 after that 'twas hither brought,
 by some good honest Fellow.

and the Second lieth here,
 and his first Queen, Queen Ann;
 and the Third lies here hard by,
 and there was a Gallant Man.

this was his two handed Sword,
 Blade both true and Trusty;
 French Men's Blood was ne'er wip'd off,
 Which makes it look so rusty.

he lies again, with his Queen Philip,
 Dutch Woman by Record,
 that's all one, for now alas!
 his Blade's not so long as his Sword.

Edward the Confessor lies within this Monument fine;
 sure, quoth one, a worser Tombl shal serve both me and mine.

the Fifth lies there, and there shal lie Queen Eleanor;
 our first Edward she was Wife,
 which was more than ye knew before.

the Third lies there Entomb'd,
 he was Herb John in Pottage;
 he did, but still Reign'd on,
 although his Sons were at Age.

Fifty six Years he Reigned King,
 E'er he the Crown would lay by;
 Only we praise him, 'cause he was Last Builder of the Abby.

Here Thomas Cecil lies, who's that?
 Why 'tis the Earl of Exeter;
 And this his Countess is, to Die
 How it perplexed her.

Here Henry Cary, Lord Hunsdon rests,
 What a noise he makes with his Name?
 Lord Chamberlain was he unto Queen Elizabeth of great Fame.

And here's one William Colchester
 Lies of a Certainty;
 An Abbot was he of Westminster,
 And he that saith no, doth lie.

This is the Bishop of Durham,
 By Death here lay'd in Fetters;
 Henry the Seventh lov'd him well,
 And so he wrote his Letters.

Sir Thomas Bacchus, what of him?
 Poor Gentleman not a Word;
 Only they Buried him here; but now
 Behold that Man with a Sword:

Humphry de Bohun, who though he were
 Not born with me i'the same Town;
 Yet I can tell he was Earl of Essex,
 Of Hertford, and Northampton.

He was High Constable of England,
 As History well expresses;
 But now pretty Maids be of good Chear,
 We're going up to the Presses.

And now the Presses open stand,
And ye see them all arow;
Never no more are said of these
Then what is said below.

Now down the Stairs come we again,
The Man goes first with a Staff;
Two or three tumble down the Stairs,
And then the People laugh.

This is the great Sir Francis Vere,
That so the Spaniards curry'd;
For Colonels support his Tomb,
And here his Body's Buried:

Statue against the Wall with one Eye, Dick. I warrant
Major General Norris;
He beat the Spaniards cruelly,
As is affirm'd in Stories.
ye be bad two, if he could have but kep'd 'em.

Six Sons there hard by him stand,
Each one was a Commander;
Shew he could a Lady serve,
As well as the Hollander.

And there doth Sir John Hollis rest,
Who was the Major General;
Sir John Norris, that brave blade,
And so they go to Dinner all.

Now the Shew is at an end;
All things are done and said;
The Citizen pays for his Wife,
The Prentice for the Maid.

A SONG Sung by Mrs. CAMPION, in the Comedy call'd, she wou'd and she wou'd not
By Mr. JOHN WELDON.

CÆLIA my Heart has often rang'd,
 Like Bees o'er Gaudy Flowers;
 And many Thousand Loves have chang'd,
 'Till it was fix'd, 'till it was fix'd on yours;
 But Cælia when I saw those Eyes,
 'Twas soon, 'twas soon determin'd there;
 Stars might as well forsake the Skies,
 And Vanish into Air:
 Stars might as well forsake the Skies,
 And Vanish into Air.

Now if from the great Rules I err,
 New Beauties, new Beauties to admire;
 May I again, again turn wanderer,
 And never, never, never, never, never, no, never
 Never, never, never, never, never, never, never
 Never, never, never, settle more:
 May I again, again turn wanderer,
 And never, never, never, never, never, no, never
 Never, never, never, never, never, never, never
 Never, never, never, settle more.

SONG made for the Entertainment of her
Royal Highness. Set by Mr. LEVERIDGE.
Sung by Mrs. LINDSEY in CALIGULA.

Ho' over all Mankind, besides my conquering Beauty, conquering beauty, my conquering beauty Reigns & conquering Beauty Reigns;
 him I love, from him I love when I meet disdain,
 killing damp, a killing damp comes o'er my Pride:
 fair and young, I'm fair and young,
 fair and young in vain:
 fair and young, I'm fair and young,
 fair and young in vain;
 no, no, let him wander where he will,
 him wander, let him wander,
 him wander, let him wander where he will,
 I have Youth and Beauty, Youth and Beauty,
 Youth and Beauty,
 I have Youth and Beauty, Youth and Beauty still;
 I have Beauty that can charm a Jove,
 Charm a Jove, and no fault,
 no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no fault, no, no, no fault,
 constant Love:
 my Arms then let him fly, fly, fly,
 my Arms then let him fly;
 I languish, pine, and dye?
 no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no not I.

A SONG in the Fair PENITENT. Set by ECCLES. Sung by Mrs HUDSON.

PILLS to Purge Melancholy.

235

AY, ah stay, ah turn, ah whither wou'd you fly?

Ah stay, ah turn, ah whither wou'd you fly?

Whither, whither wou'd you fly?

Charming, too Charming, too relentless Maid,

How not to conquer, not to conquer,

How not to conquer, but to dye :

Of the fearful, of the fearful are afraid,

Stay, ah turn, ah whither wou'd you fly?

Whither, whither, whither, whither, ah whither wou'd
(you fly?)

In, in vain I call, in vain, in vain I call,

Like the like fleeting, fleeting Air ;

When press'd by some tempestuous Wind,

Swifter from the voice of my Despair :

Cast a pitying, pitying, pitying, pitying look be(hind,

Not one, no not one, not one pitying, pitying look,

One pitying, pitying, pitying look behind,

Not one, no not one, not one pitying, pitying, pi-
(tying look behind,

Not one, no not one, not one pitying, pitying, pi-
(tying look behind.

*A new SONG. The Words by Mr. Tho. W
Set to Musick by Mr. Henry Eccles, Junio*

No more let Damon's Eyes pursue,
 No more let Damon's Eyes pursue,
 The bright enchanting Fair;
 Thousands, thousands, thousands can undo,
 And thousands more, and thousands more,
 And thousands more may still despair,
 And thousands more may still despair.

With her bright alluring Eyes,
 And Graces all admire;
 When the wounded Lover dies,
 Ev'ry Breast, and ev'ry Heart,
 And ev'ry Breast is set on Fire.

Oh poor Damon, see thy Fate,
 Never more complain;
 All a Thousand Hearts will stake,
 All may sigh, and all may die,
 And all may sigh and die in vain.

The DEAR JOY's Lamentation.

HO

HO my dear Joy, now what dost thou think?
 Hoop by my shoul our Country-men stink;
 To Ireland they can never return,
 The Hereticks there our Houses will burn:
Ah bone, ah bone, ah bone a cree.

A Pox on T—— l for a Son of a W——;
 He was the cause of our coming o'er;
 And when to Dublin we came to put on our Coat,
 He told us his business was cutting of Throats,
Ah bone, &c.

Our Devil has left us now in the Lurch,
 A Plague light upon the Protestant C——
 If P——s had let but the Bishops alone,
 O then the Nation had all been our own.
Ah bone, &c.

And I wish other Measures had been taken,
 For now I fear we shan't save our Bacon;
 Now Orange to London is coming down-right,
 And the Soldiers against him resolve not to Fight,
Ah bone, &c.

What we shall do, the Lord himself knows,
 Our Army is beaten without any blows;
 Our M——r begins to feel some remorse,
 For the Grey Mare has proved the better Horse.
Ah bone, &c.

If the French do but come, which is all our Hope,
 We'll bundle the Hereticks all up with Ropes;
 If London stands to us as Bristol has done,
 We need not fear but Orange must run.
Ah bone, &c.

But if they prove false, and to Orange they scow,
 By G—— all the M—— shall play from the Tower;
 Our Massacree fresh in their Memories grown,
 The Devil taunk me, we all shall go down.
A bone, a bone, a bone a Cree.

I live above Envy, and yet above Spight,
 And have Judgment enough for to do my self right
 Some greater and richer I own there may be,
 Yet as many live worse, as live better than me,

When Money comes in I live well 'till it's gone,
 So with it I'm happy, Content when I've none;
 I spend it Genteelly, and never repent,
 If I lose it at Play, why I count it but Lent:
 For that which at one time I Lose among Friends
 Another Night's Winnings still makes me amend
 And though I'm without the first Day of the Week
 I still make it out by Shift or by Tick:
 In Mirth at my Work the swift Hours do pass,
 And by Saturday Night, I'm as rich as I was.

 Let their Hours of Pleasure by Business be stay'd
 Let them venture their Stocks to be ruin'd by Trade

Then let's celebrate Crispin with Bumpers and Song
 And they that drink Foul, may it blister their Tongue
 Here's two in a Hand, and let no one deny 'em,
 Since Crispin in Youth was a Sent's-man as I am.

The Female Scuffla. To the foregoing Tune.

F late in the Park a fair Fancy was seen,
Betwixt an old Baud and a lusty young Queen;
Her parting of Money began the uproar,
She have half says the Baud, but you shan't say the Whore;
Why 'tis my own House,
I care not a Louse,
Th' three parts in four, or you get not a Souse.

I, says the Whore, must take all the Pains,
If you shall be damn'd e'er you get all the Gains;
The Baud being vex'd, straight to her did say,
Get off wi' your Duds, and I pray pack away:
Likewise your Ribbons, your Gloves, and your Hair,
Naked you came, and so out you go bare;

Then Buttocks so bold,
Began for to Scold,
For she was not able her Clack for to hold.

Pell-Mell fell to't, and made this uproar,
These Compliments, th'art a Baud, th'art a Whore;
The Bauds and the Buttocks that liv'd there around,
All to the Case, both Pockey and Sound,
See what the reason was of this same Bray,
It did so disturb them before it was Day;

If I tell you amiss,
Let me never more Piss,
The Buttocks so bold she named was Siss.

Striving with Cullies three Pound she had got,
But one part of four must fall to her Lot;
All the Bauds cry'd, let us turn her out bare,
As she will yield to return her half share;
She will not, we'll help to strip off her Cloaths,
Turn her abroad with a stir o' the Nose:

Who when she did see,
There was no Remedy,
Her from the Tyrannous Bauds to get free;

The Whore from the Money was forced to yield,
And in the Conclusion the Baud got the Field.

An Elegy on MOUNTFORT. To the foregoing Tune.

POOOR Mountfort is gone, and the Ladies do all Break their Hearts for this Beau, as they did for
And they the two Brats for this Tragedy damn (
At Kensington Court, and the Court of Bantam :

They all vow and Swear,
That if any Peer

Shou'd acquit this young Lord, he shou'd pay very Nor will they be pleased with him who on the Throne
If he do's not his part to revenge their Adonis.

With the Widow their amorous Bowels do yearn
There are divers pretend to an equal Concern ;
And by her Perswasion their Hearts they reveal,
In case if not gulty, to bring an Appeal :

They all will unite,

The young Blade to indite,

And in Prosecution will joyn Day and Night ;
In the mean-time full many a Tear and a Groan
Wherever they meet, for their departed Adonis.

With the Ladies foul Murther's a horrible Sin
Of one Handsome without, tho' a Coxcomb w
For not being a Beau, the sad Fate of poor Crab,
Tho' himself hang'd for Love, was a Jest to each

Then may Jering live long,

And may Risby among

The Fair with Jack Barkley, and Gulpepper throng
May no Ruffin whose Heart as hard as a Stone Kill any of those for a Brother Adonis.

Lady henceforth can be safe with her Beau,
 They think if this Slaughter unpunish'd should go;
 Their Gallants, for whose Persons they most are in Pain,
 No sooner be envy'd; but strait must be Slain:

For all B — shape,

None car'd for the Rape,

Whether the Virtuous their Lust did escape;
 Their Trouble of Mind, and their anguish alone is,
 The too sudden Fate of departed Adonis.

Not every vain Spark think that he can engage,
 The Heart of a Female, like one on the Stage;
 His Flute, and his Voice, and his Dancing are rare,
 Wherever they meet, they prevail with the Fair:

But no quality Fop,

Charms like Mr. Hop,

Winn'd on the Stage, and in East-India Shop;
 That each from Miss Felton, to ancient Drake Joan is,
 Meaning the Death of the Player Adonis.

Adonis in spite of this new Abjuration,
 Banter the lawful King of this great Nation:
 He call'd God's anointed a foolish old Prig,
 Both a base and unmannerly Whigg:

But since he is Dead

No more shall be said,

He in Repentance has laid down his Head;
 With each Lady, who in mournful Tone is,
 Charity Grieve for the Death of Adonis.

 Nor listen to the Syren's Song;

 but little means the thing she Sings.

In vain, in vain, in vain, in vain, in vain,
 In vain the God I ask,
 He'll ne'er remove the Dart;
 And still I love the pretty, pretty Boy,
 Altho', altho' he wound my Heart:
 Henceforth I'll be contented then,
 No more will I desire;
 No, no, no more, no, no, no more will I desire;
 I might her whom I love so much,
 That but creates the Fire:
 Well might I expect the Fate,
 As well as any other;
 For he ne'er spares the Gods themselves,
 Nor does he spare his Mother.

An Amorous SONG. To the Tune of, The bon Christ Church Bells.

SEE how fair and fine she lies,
 Upon her Bridal Bed ;
 No Lady at the Court,
 So fit for the Sport,
 Oh she look'd so curiously White and Red :
 After the first and second time,
 The weary Bridegroom slacks his Pace ;
 But Oh! she cries, come, come my Joy,
 And cling thy Cheek close to my Face :
 Tinkle, tinkle, goes the Bell under the Bed,
 Whilst Time and Touch they keep ;
 Then with a Kiss,
 They end their Blifs,
 And so fall fast asleep.

A SONG. Set by Mr. J. ISUM.

CORINNA if my Fate's to love you,
 Corinna if my Fate's to love you,
 Where's the harm in saying so?
 Corinna if my Fate's to love you,
 Where's the harm in saying so?
 Why shou'd my Sighs, why shou'd my Sighs,
 Why shou'd my Sighs and Fondness move you?
 To encrease, to encrease your Shepherd's Woe:
 Flame pent in still burns and scorches,
 'Till it burns a Lover's Heart:
 Love declar'd like lighted Torches,
 Wastes it self and gives less Pain;
 Love declar'd like lighted Torches,
 Wastes it self, wastes it self,
 Wastes it self, and gives less Smart.

*The Hopeful Bargain : Or a Fare for a Hack Coachman, giving a Comical relation, how Ale-draper at the Sign of the Double-toe Rake in or near the new Palace-yard, W minster, Sold his Wife for a Shilling, and she was sold a Second time for five Shilling
JUDGE; My Lord—— Coachman, and how Husband receiv'd her again after she had with other Folks three Days and Nights,
The Tune Lilly Bullero.*

HERE lives an Ale-draper near New-palace-yard,
Who used to Jerk the Bum of his Wife;
She was forced to stand on her Guard,
To keep his Clutches from her Quoiff;
Poor Soul the weaker Vessel,
To be reconcil'd was easily won;
He held her in scorn,
And the Crown'd him with Horn,
Without Hood or Scarff, and rough as she run.

A Shilling sold his Spouse,
And she was very willing to go;
He left the poor Cuckold alone in the House,
And he by himself his Horn might blow:
A Coachman he did buy her,
And was not this a very good Fun;
A dirty Pinner,
I am a Sinner,
Without Hood or Scarff, but rough as she run.

A Woman gladly did depart,
When three Men was handed away;
Her Husband did care not a Fart,
He kept her one whole Night and Day:
An honest Judge the Coachman bought her,
And was not this most cunningly done?
For her five Shilling,
And she was willing,
Without Hood or Scarff, &c.

A Cuckold to Judge, a Letter did send,
Wherein he did most humbly crave;
O he, I prithee, my Rival Friend,
My Spouse again I fain would have:
If you will But let me have her,
I pardon what she e'er has done;
By my Maker,
I will take her,
Without Hood and Scarff, &c.

He

He sent an old Baud to interceed,
 And to perswade her to come back;
 That he might have one of her delicate breed,
 And he would give her a ha'p'uth of Sack:
 Therefore prithee now come to me,
 Or else poor I shall be undone:
 Then do not forgo me,
 But prithee come to me,
Without Hood or Scarff, tho' rough, &c.

The Coachman then with much ado,
 Did suffer the Baud to take her out;
 Upon the Condition that she would be true,
 And let him have now and then a Bout:
 But he took from her forty Shillings,
 And gave her a parting Glas at the Sun;
 And then with good buyt' ye,
 Discharged his Duty,
And turn'd her a grazing, rough as she run.

The Cuckold invited the Coachman to dine,
 And gave him a Treat at his own Expence;
 They drown'd all Cares in full brimmers of W
 He made him as welcome as any Prince:
 There was all the Hungregation,
 Which from Cuckolds-Point was come;
 They kissed and fumbled,
 They touzed and tumbled,
He was glad to take her rough as she run.

Judge does enjoy her where he list,
 He values not the old Cuckold's Pouts;
 And she is as good for the Game as e'er pist,
 Fudge on his Horns sits drying of Clouts:
 She rants and revels when she pleases,
 And to end as I begun,
 The Horned Wife-acre,
 Is forced to take her
Without Hood or Scarff, and rough as she run.

MAIDEN LOTTERY : Containing 70 Thousand
 Tickets, at a Guinea each; the Prizes being Rich and Loving Husbands, from three Thousand to a Hundred a Year, which Lottery will begin draw on next VALENTINE's Day.

Then pretty Lasses venture now,
 Kind Fortune may her Smiles allow.

YOUNG

YOUNG Ladies that live in the City,
 Sweet beautiful proper and Tall;
 And Country Maids who dabling wades,
 Here's happy good News for you all:
 A Lottery now out of hand,
 Erected will be in the Strand;
 Young Husbands with Treasure, and Wealth o
 Will fairly be at your Command: (m
Of her that shall light of a Fortunate Lot,
There's Six of three Thousand a Year to be got.

I tell you the Price of each Ticket,
 It is but a Guinea, I'll vow;
 Then hasten away, and make no delay,
 And fill up the Lottery now:
 If Gillian that lodges in Straw,
 Shall have the good Fortune to draw
 A Knight or a 'Squire, he'll never deny her,
 'Tis fair and according to Law;
Then come pretty Lasses and purchase a Lot,
There's Ten of two Thousand a Year to be got.

The number is Seventy Thousand,
 When all the whole Lot is compleat;
 Five Hundred of which, are Prizes most rich,
 Believe me for this is no Cheat:
 There's Drapers and Taylors likewise,
 Brave Men that you cannot despise;
 Come Bridget and Jenny, and throw in your Guin
 A Husband's a delicate Prize:
Then come pretty Lasses and purchase a Lot,
There's Ten of one Thousand a Year to be got.

Suppose you should win for your Guinea,
 A Man of three Thousand a Year;
 Would this not be brave; what more would you
 You soon might in Glory appear:
 In glittering Coach you may ride,
 With Lackeys to run by your side;

Why should you spare it? Faith win Gold and wear
 now who would not be such a Bride? (it;

some pretty Lasses and purchase a Lot,
 Sixty, Five Hundreds a Year to be got.

Widows, and Maids above Forty,
 shall not be admitted to draw;
 five Hundred and Ten, as proper young Men,
 need, as your Eyes ever saw:

scorns for one Guinea of Gold,
 lodge with a Woman that's Old;
 Maids are admitted, in hopes to be fitted,
 with Husbands couragious and bold:

some pretty Lasses and purchase a Lot,
 are wealthy kind Husbands now, now to be got.

Men that are full of good Nature,
 flaxen, the black, and the brown;
 lusty and stout, and fit to hold out,
 prime and the top of the Town:
 ever in every part,

they'll please a young Girl to the Heart;
 kiss you, and squeeze you, and tenderly please you,
 Love has a conquering Dart:

some pretty Lasses and purchase a Lot,
 are Wealthy kind Husbands now, now to be got.

never be fearful to venture,
 Girls bring you Guineas away;
 merrily in, for we shall begin,
 draw upon Valentine's Day:

Prizes are many and great,
 each Man with a worthy Estate;
 come away Mary, Sib, Susan, and Sarah,
 Nancy, and pretty fac'd Kate:

is the time if you'll purchase a Lot,
 Wealthy kind Husbands they are to be got.

lest you I know there is many,
 shall miss of a Capital Prize:
 nevertheless, no Sorrows express,
 dry up your watry Eyes:

Yongg

Young Lasses it is but in vain,
 In sorrowful Sighs to complain;
 Then ne'er be faint hearted, tho' Luck be depar
 For all cannot reckon to gain:
 Yet venture young Lasses, your Guineas bring in,
 The Lucky will have the good Fortune to win.

A Young Man's WILL.

Young Man sick and like to die,
His last Will being written found ;
I give my Soul to God on high,
And my Body to the Ground :
To some Church-men do I give,
My Minds to greedy Lucre bent
And Ambition whilst they live,
This my Will and Testament.

To Poor folks brown Bread I give,
And eke bare Bones, with hungry Cheeks;
And Travel whilst they live,
And to feed on Roots and Leeks :
To Rich Men I bestow,
High Looks, low Deeds, and Hearts of Flint ;
That themselves they seldom know,
This, &c.

To stately Courtiers do I Will,
Two Faces in one Head to wear ;
Great Men Bribes, I think most fit,
Side and Oppression through the Year :
I give them leave to lose,
And Landlords for to raise their Rent ;
To Fawn, Collogue and glose,
This, &c.

To Soldiers for their Fees,
I give them Wounds their Bodies full ;
For to beg on bended Knees,
With Cap in Hand to every Gull :
I will poor Scholars have,
All their Pains and Travel spent :
To Jaggs and Taunts of every Knave,
This my Will and Testament.

To Shoemakers I grant this Boon,
 Which Mercury gave them once before ;
 Altho' they earn two Pence by Noon,
 To spend e'er Night two Groats and more :
 And Blacksmiths when the Work is done,
 I give to them incontinent,
 To drink two Barrels with a Bun,
 By this my Will and Testament.

To Weavers swift, this do I leave,
 Against that may beseem them well :
 That they their good Wives do deceive,
 Bring home a Yard and steal an Ell :
 And Tailors too must be set down,
 A Gift to give them I am bent ;
 To cut four Sleeves to every Gown,
 By this, &c.

To Tavern haunters grant I more,
 Red Eyes, Red Nose, and Stinking Breath ;
 And Doublers foul with drops before,
 And foul Shame until their Death :
 And Gamesters that will never leave,
 Before their Substance be all spent ;
 The Wooden Dagger I bequeath,
 By this, &c.

To common Fiddlers I Will that they,
 Shall go in poor and thread-bare Coats ;
 And at most places where they Play,
 To carry away more Tunes than Groats :
 To wand'ring Players I do give,
 Before their Substance be all spent ;
 Proud Silk'n Beggars for to live,
 By this, &c.

To Wenching Smell-smocks give I these,
 Dead looks, gaunt purrs, and crazy Back ;
 And now and then the foul Disease,
 Such as Gill gave to Jack :

To Parretors I give them clear,
For all their Toil and Travel spent;
The Devil away such Knaves to bear,
By this my Will and Testament.

Will that Cutpurses haunt all Fairs,
And thrust among the thickest Throng;
That neither Purse nor Pocket spare,
But what they get to bear along:
But if they Falter in their Trade,
And so betray their bad intent;
Give them Tyburn for their share,
By this, &c.

To serving Men I give this Gift,
That when their Strength is once decay'd;
The Master of such Men do shift,
As Horsemen do a Toothless Jade:
I give them leave to Pine,
For all their Service so ill spent:
And with Duke Humphry for to Dine,
By this, &c.

To Millers I Grant withal,
That they Spare, nor Poke, nor Sack;
But with Grist, so e'er befall,
They Grind a Strike, and steal a Peck:
Will that Butchers Huff their Meat,
And sell a lump of Ramish scent;
For Weather Mutton good and sweet,
By this, &c.

Will Ale Wives punish their Guests,
With hungry Cakes and little Canns;
And Barm their Drink with new found Yeast,
Such as is made of Pispat Grounds:
And she that meaneth for to Gain,
And in her House have Money spent,
Will she keep a pretty Punck,
By this my Will and Testament.

To jealous Husbands I do grant,
 Lack of Pleasure, want of Sleep;
 That Lanthorn Horns they never want,
 Tho' ne'er so close their Wives they keep;
 And for their Wives, I Will that they,
 The closer up that they are pent;
 The closer still they seek to Play,
 By this my Will and Testament.

For Swearing Swaggerers nought is left,
 To give them for a parting Blow;
 But leaving off of damned Oaths,
 And that of them I will bestow:
Item. I give them for their Pain,
 That when all Hope and Livelihood's spent,
 A Wallet or a Hempen Chain,
 By this, &c.

Time and longest Livers do I make,
 The Supervisor of my Will:
 My Gold and Silver let them take,
 That will dig for't in Malvein Hill.

Woman out-wits us, do what we can,
 We'll make a Fool of ev'ry Wise Man;
 Our Mother Eve did the Serpent obey,
 And has taught all her Sex that damnable way:
 Of Cheating and Couzening all Mankind,

The poor Man that Marries he thinks he does well,
 But his Condition, for sure he's in Hell;
 The Fool is a Sotting and spends all he gets,

duces us all in every thing,
 and makes, makes a Subject of a King;
 All the deny'd, and I reply'd,
 say she flew, I did pursue,
 At last I catch'd her fast;
 Oh! had you seen, but oh! had you seen,
 and you seen what had past between;
 I fear, I fear, oh! I fear, I fear, oh! I fear,
 I fear, I fear, I have spoil'd her Wast.

A SONG. Set by Mr. AKEROYD.

THE Devil he pull'd of his Jacket of Flame,
 The Fryer he pull'd off his Cowle;
 The Devil took him for a Dunc of the Game,
 And the Fryer took him for a Fool:
 He piqu'd, and repiqu'd so oft, that at last,
 He swore by the Jolly fat Nuns;
 If Cards came no better than those that are past,
 Oh! oh! I shall lose all my Buns.

New SONG. Translated from the FRENCH.

Pretty

PRETTY Parret say, when I was away,
 And in dull absence pass'd the Day;
 What at home was doing;
 With Chat and Play,
 We are Gay,
 Night and Day,
 Good Chear and Mirth renewing;
Singing, Lauging all, Singing Laughing all, like pretty (ry

Was no Fop so rude, boldly to Intrude,
 And like a sawcy Lover wou'd,
 Court, and Teaze my Lady:
 A Thing you know,
 Made for Show,
 Call'd a Beau,
 Near her was always ready,
Ever at her Call, like pretty, pretty Poll.

Tell me with what Air, he approach'd the Fair,
 And how she could with Patience bear,
 All he did and utter'd
 He still address'd,
 Still caress'd,
 Kiss'd and press'd,
 Sung, Prattl'd, Laugh'd, and Flutter'd:
Well receiv'd in all, like pretty, pretty Poll.

Did he go away, at the close of the Day,
 Or did he ever use to stay
 In a Corner dodging;
 The want of Light,
 When 'twas Night,
 Spoil'd my sight,
 But I believe his Lodging,
Was within her call, like pretty, pretty Poll.

SONG by a Person of Honour. Set by Mr.
JOHN WELDON.

AT Noon in a sultry Summer's Day,
 The brightest Lady of the May,
 Young Chloris Innocent and Gay,
 Sat Knotting in a shade:
 Each slender Finger play'd its part,
 With such activity and Art;
 As wou'd inflame a Youthful Heart,
 And warm the most decay'd.

Her Fav'rite Swain by chance came by;
 She had him quickly in her Eye,
 Yet when the bashful Boy drew nigh,
 She wou'd have seem'd afraid,
 She let her Iv'ry Needle fall,
 And hurl'd away the twisted Ball;
 Then gave her Strepson such a call,
 As wou'd have wak'd the Dead.

Dear gentle Youth is't none but thee?
 With Innocence I dare be free;
 By so much Trust and Modesty,
 No Nymph was e'er betray'd,
 Come lean thy Head upon my Lap,
 While thy soft Cheeks I stroak and clap;
 Thou may'st securely take a Nap,
 Which he poor Fool, obey'd.

She saw him Yawn, and heard him Snore,
 And found him fast a sleep all o're;
 She sigh'd—— and cou'd no more,
 But starting up she said,
 Such Vertue shou'd rewarded be,
 For this thy dull Fidelity;
 I'll trust thee with my Flocks, not me,
 Pursue thy Grazing Trade.

Go milk thy Goats, and Sheer thy Sheep,
 And watch all Night thy Flocks, to keep;
 Thou shalt no more be lull'd asleep,
 By me mistaken Maid.

A SONG. Set by Mr. Jeremy Clark.

WHILE the Lover is thinking,
With my Friend I'll be Drinking,
With Vigour pursue my Delight;
While the Fool is designing,
His fatal confining,
Bacchus I'll spend the whole Night:
With the God I'll be Jolly,
Without Madness or Folly.
Woman to Marry Implore,
Leave my Bottle and Friend,
For so Foolish an end,
If I do, may I never Drink more.

A Health to the TACKERS.

HERE's a Health to the Tackers, my Boys,
 But mine A—se for the Tackers about;
 May the brave English Spirits come in,

SINCE Calia only has the Art,
 And only she can Captivate,
 And wanton in my Breast;
 All other Pleasure I despise,
 Than what are from my Calia's Eyes,
 In her alone I'm blest.

Whene'er she Smiles, new Life she gives,
 And happy, happy who receives,
 From her Enchanting Breath;
 Then prithee Calia Smile once more,
 Since I no longer must adore,
 For when you frown 'tis Death.

A SONG.

H! how lovely sweet and dear,
Is the kind relenting Fair,
To Reprieve us in Despair;
That thus my Nymph wou'd say,
Come, come my Dear thy Cares repay,
Blest my Love, be mine to Day :
Come, come my dear, thy Cares repay,
Blest my Love, be mine to Day.,

KING and the Shepherd, and GILLIAN the Shepherd's Wife, with her churlish Answer to the KING.

Elder Time, there was of Yore,
When Guides of churlish Glee;
we us'd among our Country Earls,
though no such thing now be.

which King Alfred liking well,
forsook his stately Court;
in Disguise unknown went forth,
to see that jovial Sport.

Dick and Tom, in clouted Shoon,
and Coats of russet Grey,
seem'd themselves more brave than them,
that went in Golden ray.

Garments fit for such a Life,
the good King Alfred went,
ragg'd and torn, as from his Back
the Beggar his Cloaths had rent.

word and Buckler good and strong,
to give Jack Sauce a rap;
on his Head, instead of Crown,
wore a Monmouth Cap.

OL. V.

O

Thus

Thus coasting through Somersetshire,
Near Newton Court he met
A Shepherd Swain of lusty Limb,
That up and down did jet.

He wore a Bonnet of good Grey,
Close buttoned to his Chin ;
And at his Back a leather Scrip,
With much good Meat therein.

God speed, good Shepherd, quoth the King,
I come to be thy Guest ;
To taste of thy good Victuals here,
And drink that's of the best.

Thy Scrip I know, hath Cheer good store,
What then the Shepherd said ?
Thou seem'st to be some sturdy Thief,
And mak'st me sore afraid.

Yet if thou wilt thy Dinner win,
The Sword and Buckler take ;
And if thou canst into my Scrip,
Therewith an entrance make.

I tell thee, Roister, it hath store
Of Beef, and Bacon fat ;
With sheafs of Barly-bread to make
Thy Mouth to water at.

Here stands my Bottle, here my Bag,
If thou canst win them Roister ;
Against the Sword and Buckler here,
My Sheep-hook is my Master.

Benedicite now, quoth our good King,
It never shall be said ;
That Alfred of the Shepherd's Hook,
Will stand a whit afraid.

foundly thus they both fell to't,
And giving Bang for Bang;
every Blow the Shepherd gave,
King Alfred's Sword cry'd twang.

his Buckler prov'd his chiefeft Fence,
For still the Shepherd's Hook;
as that the which King Alfred could,
In no good manner brook.

last when they had fought four Hours,
And it grew just Mid-day;
and wearied both, with right good Will,
Desir'd each others stay.

Truce I cry, quoth Alfred then,
Good Shepherd hold thy Hand:
sturdier Fellow than thy self,
Lives not within this Land.

a lustier Roister than thou art,
The churlish Shepherd said,
tell thee plain, thy Thievish looks,
Now makes my Heart afraid.

sure thou art some Prodigal,
Which hast consum'd thy store;
and now com'st wand'ring in this place,
To rob and steal for more.

am not of me, then quoth our King,
Good Shepherd in this sort;
Gentleman well known I am,
a good King Alfred's Court.

the Devil thou art, the Shepherd said,
Thou goest in Rags all torn;
ou rather seem'st, I think to be,
some Beggar basely born.

But if thou wilt mend thy Estate,
And here a Shepherd be;
At Night to Gillian my sweet Wife,
Thou shalt go home with me.

For she's as good a Toothless Dame,
As mumbleth on Brown Bread;
Where thou shalt lie on hurden Sheets,
Upon a fresh Straw Bed.

Of Whig and Whey, we have good store,
And keep good Pease-straw Fires;
And now and then good Barly Cakes,
As better Days requires.

But for my Master which is Chief,
And Lord of Newton Court;
He keeps I say, his Shepherds Swains,
In far more braver sort.

We there have Curds, and clouted Cream,
Of Red Cows morning Milk;
And now and then fine Buttered Cakes,
As soft as any Silk.

Of Beef and reised Bacon store,
That is most Fat and Greasy;
We have likewise to feast our Chaps,
And make them glib and easie.

Thus if thou wilt my Man become,
This usage thou shalt have;
If not, adieu, go hang thy self,
And so farewell Sir Knave.

King Alfred hearing of this Glee,
The churlish Shepherd said;
Was well content to be his Man,
So they a Bargain made.

Penny round, the Shepherd gave,
In earnest of this Match;
Keep his Sheep in Field and fold,
As Shepherds use to watch.

Wages shall be full Ten Groats,
For Service of a Year;
Was it not his use, old Lad,
To hire a Man so dear.

Did the King himself (quoth he)
Unto my Cottage come;
Should not for a Twelvemonths Pay,
Receive a greater Sum.

Great the bonny King grew blith,
To hear the clownish Jest;
Saw silly sots, as custom is,
Do discant at the best.

Not to spoil the Foolish sport,
He was content good King;
Fit the Shepherd's humour right,
In every kind of thing.

Sheep-hook then, with Patch his Dog,
And Tar-box by his side;
With his Master, jig by jowl,
Unto old Gillian hy'd.

Whose sight no sooner came,
Whom have you here (quoth she)
Fellow I doubt, will cut our Throats,
So like a Knave looks he.

So old Dame, quoth Alfred strait,
Of me you need not fear;
Master hir'd me for Ten Groats,
To serve you one whole Year.

So good Dame Gillian grant me leave,
Within your House to stay;
For by St. Ann, do what you can,
I will not yet away.

Her churlish usage pleas'd him still,
Put him to such a Proof,
That he at Night was almost choak'd,
Within that smoaky Roof.

But as he sat with smiling cheer,
The event of all to see ;
His Dame brought forth a piece of Dow,
Which in the Fire throws she.

Where lying on the Hearth to bake,
By chance the Cake did burn ;
What can'st thou not, thou Lout (quoth she)
Take Pains the same to turn :

Thou art more quick to take it out,
And eat it up half Dow,
Than thus to stay till't be enough,
And so thy Manners show.

But serve me such another Trick,
I'll thwack thee on the Snout ;
Which made the patient King, good Man,
Of her to stand in Doubt ;

But to be brief, to bed they went,
The good old Man and's Wife ;
But never such a Lodging had
King Alfred in his Life :

For he was laid in white Sheeps Wool,
New pull'd from tanned Fells,
And o'er his Head hang'd Spiders Webbs,
As if they had been Bells.

this the Country Guise, thought he,
 Then here I will not stay;
 Hence be gone as soon as breaks
 The peeping of the Day.

He cackling Hens and Geese kept roost,
 And perched at his side;
 Thereat the last the watchful Cock,
 Made known the Morning Tide.

Then up got Alfred with his Horn,
 And blew so long a Blast,
 That made Gillian and her Groom,
 In Bed full sore agast.

Rise, quoth she, we are undone,
 This Night, we lodged have,
 Unawares within our House,
 A false dissembling Knave;

He Husband, rise, he'll cut our Throats,
 He calleth for his Mates,
 Give old Will our good Cade Lamb,
 He would depart our Gates.

At still King Alfred blew his Horn
 Before them, more and more,
 Till that a hundred Lords and Knights,
 All lighted at the Door:

Which cry'd all hail, all hail good King,
 Long have we look'd your Grace;
 And here you find (my merry Men all)
 Your Sovereign in this place.

He shall surely be hang'd up both,
 Old Gillian I much fear,
 The Shepherd said, for using thus
 Our good King Alfred here:

O pardon, my Liege, quoth Gillian then,
For my Husband and for me,
By these ten Bones I never thought
The same that now I see :

And by my Hook, the Shepherd said,
An Oath both good and true,
Before this time, O noble King,
I never your Highness knew :

Then pardon me and my old Wife,
That we may after say,
When first you came into our House,
It was a happy Day.

It shall be done, said Alfred streight,
And Gillian thy old Dame,
For this thy churlish using me,
Deserveth not much Blame.

For this thy Country Guise I see,
To be thus bluntish still,
And where the plainest Meaning is,
Remains the smallest Ill.

And Master, lo I tell thee now,
For thy low Manhood shown,
A Thousand Weathers I'll bestow
Upon thee for thy own.

And pasture Ground, as much as will Suffice to feed them all,
And this thy Cottage I will change
Into a stately Hall.

As for the same, as Duty binds,
The Shepherd said, good King,
A milk white Lamb once every Year,
I'll to your Highness bring.

And Gillian my Wife likewise,
 Of Wool to make you Coats,
 Will give you as much at New Year's Tide,
 As shall be worth ten Groats :

And in your Praise my Bagpipe shall Sound sweetly once a Year,
 For Alfred our renowned King,
 Most kindly hath been here.

Thanks Shepherd, thanks, quoth he again.
 The next time I come hither,
 My Lords with me here in this House,
 Will all be merry together.

A S O N G. Sung by Mrs. Bracegirdle.

CEASE, cease of Cupid to complain,
 Love, Love's a Joy even while a Pain ;
 Oh! then think! oh! then think ;
 Oh! then think how great his Blissess,
 Moving Glances, balmy Kisses,
 Charming Raptures, matchless Sweets,
 Love, Love alone, Love, Love alone,
 Love, Love alone, all Joys compleats.

A S O N G.

Sung by Mrs. BRACEGIRDLE.

COME, come ye Nymphs,
 Come ye Nymphs and ev'ry Swain,
 Come ye Nymphs and ev'ry Swain,
Galatea leaves the Main,
 To revive us on the Plain,
 To revive us, to revive us, to revive us on the Plain,
 Come, come, come, come ye Nymphs,
 Come ye Nymphs and ev'ry Swain,
 Come ye Nymphs and ev'ry Swain,
Gallatea leaves the Main,
 To revive us on the Plain,
 To revive us on the Plain,
 Come ye Nymphs and ev'ry Swain.

A SONG. Set by Mr. John Barret.

Anthia the lovely, the Joy of her Swain,
 By Iphis was lov'd, and lov'd Iphis again;
 He liv'd in the Youth, and the Youth in the Fair,
 Their Pleasure was equal, and equal their Care;
 No Time, no Enjoyment their Dotage withdrew;
 But the longer they liv'd, but the longer they liv'd,
 Still the fonder they grew.

A Passion so happy alarm'd all the Plain,
 Some envy'd the Nymph, but more envy'd the Swain;
 Some swore 'twould be pity their Loves to invade,
 That the Lovers alone for each other was made:
 But all, all consented, that none ever knew,
 A Nymph yet so kind, a Nymph yet so kind,
 Or a Shepherd so true.

Love saw 'em with Pleasure, and vow'd to take care
 Of the faithful, the tender, the innocent Pair;
 What either did want, he bid either to move,
 But they wanted nothing, but ever to love:
 Said, 'twas all that to bless him his God-head cou'd do,
 That they still might be kind, that they still might be kind,
 And they still might be true.

Ring out your Coney-Skins,
 Bring out your Coney-Skins Maids to me,
 And hold them fair that I may see,
 Hey, Black and Blue, for the smaller Skins.
 I give you Bracelets, Laces, Pins,
 And for your whole Coney
 Here's ready Money,
 Come gentle Joan, do thou begin
 With thy black Coney, thy black Coney-Skin,
 And Mary and Joan will follow,
 With their Silver-hair'd Skins and yellow ;:
 The White Coney-Skin I will not lay by,
 For tho' it be faint, it is fair to the Eye, :
 The Grey it is worn, but yet for my Money,
 Give me the bonny, bonny black Coney ;
 Come away fair Maids, your Skins will decay,
 Come and take Money Maids, put your Wares away :

 Ha'ye any Coney-Skins here to sell?

 (Lord! What is't you do?
 e'er met with one so uncivil as you;
 you may think as you please, but if Evil it be,
 wou'd have you to know, you're mistaken in me.
 Men now so rude, and so boistrous are grown,
 Woman can't trust her self with you alone:
 cannot but wonder what 'tis that shou'd move ye;
 you do so again, I swear, I swear, I swear,
 (I swear I won't love ye.

A SONG. Set by Mr. Motley.

DRAW Cupid draw, and make fair Sylvia know
 The mighty Pain her suff'ring Swain does for Convey this Dart into her Heart, and when she's
 Do thou return and let her burn, like me in chaste desire
 That by Experience she, may learn to pity me,
 Whene'er her Eyes do tyrannize o'er my Captivity
 But when in Love we jointly move, and tenderly
 Like Angels shine, and sweetly join to one another

P 2

Oh!

O H! how you protest and solemnly swear,
 Look humble, and fawn like an Ass;
 I'm pleas'd, I must own, when ever I see
 A Lover that's brought to this pass.
 Keep, keep further off, you're naughty I fear,
 I vow I will never, will never, will never yield to
 You ask me in vain; for never I swear,
 I never, no never, I never, no never,
 I never, no never will do't.

For when the Deed's done, how quickly you go,
 No more of the Lover remains,
 In hast you depart, whate'er we can do,
 And stubbornly throw off your Chains :
 Desist then in time, let's hear on't no more,
 I vow I will never yield to't ;
 You promise in vain, in vain you adore,
 For I will never, no never will do't.

JOCKEY'S Lamentation.

Jockey met with Jenny fair
 Betwixt the dawning and the Day,
 And Jockey now is full of Care,
 For Jenny stole his Heart away:
 Tho' she promis'd to be true,
 Yet she, alas, has prov'd unkind,
 That which do make poor Jenny rue,
 For Jenny's fickle as the Wind:
 And, 'Tis o'er the Hills, and far away,
 O'er the Hills, and far away,
 O'er the Hills, and far away,
 The Wind has blown my Plad away.

Jocky was a bonny Lad,
 As e'er was born in Scotland fair;
 Now poor Jockey is run mad,
 For Jenny causes his Despair;
 Jocky was a Piper's Son,
 And fell in Love while he was young:
 He all the Tunes that he could play,
 Was, o'er the Hills, and far away,
 And, 'Tis o'er the Hills, and far away,
 O'er the Hills and far away,
 O'er the Hills and far away,
 The Wind has blown my Plad away.

When first I saw my Jenny's Face,
 It did appear with like a Grace,
 With muckle Joy my Heart was fill'd;
 Now alas with Sorrow kill'd.

Oh! was she but as true as fair,
 'Twou'd put an end to my Despair;
 But ah, alas! this is unkind,
 Which sore does terrify my Mind;
'Twas o'er the Hills, and far away,
'Twas o'er the Hills, and far away,
'Twas o'er the Hills, and far away,
That Jenny stole my Heart away.

Did she but feel the dismal Woe
 That for her Sake I undergo,
 She surely then would grant Relief,
 And put an end to all my Grief:
 But oh, she is as false as fair,
 Which causes all my sad Despair;
 She triumphs in a proud Disdain,
 And takes Delight to see my Pain;
'Tis o'er the Hills, &c.

Hard was my Hap to fall in Love,
 With one that does so faithless prove;
 Hard was my fate to court the Maid,
 That has my constant Heart betray'd:
 A thousand times to me she swore,
 She would be true for evermore:
 But oh! alas, with Grief I say,
 She's stole my Heart, and run away;
'Twas o'er the Hills, &c.

Good gentle Cupid take my part,
 And pierce this false one to the Heart,
 That she may once but feel the Woe,
 As I for her do undergo;
 Oh! make her feel this raging Pain,
 That for her Love I do sustain;
 She sure would then more gentle be,
 And soon repent her Cruelty;
'Tis o'er the Hills, &c.

I now must wander for her sake,
 Since that she will no Pity take,

to the Woods and shady Grove,
And bid adieu to my false Love:
Since she is false whom I adore,
I ne'er will trust a Woman more,
From all their Charms I'll fly away,
And on my Pipe will sweetly play;
'Tis o'er the Hills, &c.

There by my self I'll sing and say,
'Tis o'er the Hills, and far away,
That my poor Heart is gone astray,
Which makes me grieve both Night and Day;
Farewel, farewel, thou cruel she,
I fear that I shall die for thee:
But if I live, this Vow I'll make,
To love no other for your sake.
'Tis o'er the Hills, and far away,
'Tis o'er the Hills, and far away,
'Tis o'er the Hills, and far away,
The Wind has blown my Plaid away.

The Recruiting Officer: Or, The Merry Volunteers: Being an Excellent New Copy of Verses upon raising Recruits.

To the foregoing Tune.

HARK! now the Drums beat up again,
For all true Soldiers Gentlemen,
Then let us list, and march I say,
Over the Hills and far away;
Over the Hills and o'er the Main,
To Flanders, Portugal and Spain,
Queen Ann commands, and we'll obey,
Over the Hills and far away.

All Gentlemen that have a Mind,
To serve the Queen that's good and kind;
Come list and enter into Pay,
Then o'er the Hills and far away;
Over the Hills, &c.

Here's Forty Shillings on the Drum,
For those that Volunteers do come,
With Shirts, and Cloaths, and present Pay,
When o'er the Hills and far away;
Over the Hills, &c.

Hear that brave Boys, and let us go,
Or else we shall be prest you know;
Then list and enter into Pay,
And o'er the Hills and far away,
Over the Hills, &c.

The Constables they search about,
To find such brisk young Fellows out;
Then let's be Volunteers I say,
Over the Hills and far away;
Over the Hills, &c.

Since now the French so low are brought,
And Wealth and Honour's to be got,
Who then behind wou'd sneaking stay?
When o'er the Hills and far away;
Over the Hills, &c.

No more from sound of Drum retreat,
While Marlborough and Gallaway beat,
The French and Spaniards every Day,
When over the Hills and far away;
Over the Hills, &c.

He that is forc'd to go and fight,
Will never get true Honour by't,
While Volunteers shall win the Day,
When o'er the Hills and far away;
Over the Hills, &c.

What

What tho' our Friends our Absence mourn,
We all with Honour shall return;
And then we'll sing both Night and Day,
Over the Hills and far away;
Over the Hills, &c.

The Prentice Tom he may refuse,
To wipe his angry Master's Shoes;
For then he's free to sing and play,
Over the Hills and far away;
Over the Hills, &c.

Over Rivers, Bogs and Springs,
We all shall live as great as Kings,
And Plunder get both Night and Day,
When over the Hills and far away,
Over the Hills, &c.

We then shall lead more happy Lives,
By getting rid of Brats and Wives,
That Scold on both Night and Day,
When o'er the Hills and far away:
Over the Hills, &c.

Come on then Boys and you shall see,
We every one shall Captains be,
To Whore and rant as well as they,
When o'er the Hills and far away:
Over the Hills, &c.

For if we go 'tis one to Ten,
At we return all Gentlemen,
All Gentlemen as well as they,
When o'er the Hills and far away:
Over the Hills, &c.

A Scotch SONG. Set by Mr. JOHN BARRETT.

AH! foolish Lads, what mun I do?
 My Modesty I well may rue,
 Which of my Joy bereft me;
 For full of Love he came,
 But out of silly shame,
 With pish and phoo I play'd,
 To muckle the coy Maid,
 And the raw young Loon has left me.

Wou'd Jockey knew how muckle I lue,
 Did I less Art, or did he shew,
 More Nature, how blest I'd be;
 I'd not have reason to complain,
 That I lue'd now in vain,
 Gen he more a Man was,
 I'd be less a coy Lads,
 Had the raw young Loon weel try'd me.

A SONG in the Comedy call'd Justice Buisy, or the Gentleman Quack: Set by Mr. John Eccles, Sung by Mrs. Bracegirdle.

NO, no ev'ry Morning my Beauties renew,
Where-ever I go, I have Lovers enough;
Dress and I Dance, and I Laugh and I Sing,
Am lovely and lively, and gay as the Spring:
Visit, I Game, and I cast away Care,
Find Lovers no more, than the Birds of the Air,
And Lovers no more, than the Birds of the Air.

A SONG. Set by Mr. WILLIS.

NOW my Freedom's regain'd, and by Bacchus I swear,
 All whining dull whimsys of Love I'll cashire :
 The Charm's more engaging in Bumpers of Wine,
 Then let Chloe be Damn'd, but let this be Divine :
 Whilst Youth warms thy Veins, Boy embrace thy full Damn Cupid and all his poor Profelyte Asses; (Glasses, let this be thy rule Tom, to square out thy Life and when Old in a Friend, thou'lt live free from all (Strife,
 Only envied by him that is plagu'd with a Wife.

Scotch SONG, the Words by Mr. Peter Noble,
 Set by Mr. John Wilford.

BONNY Scottish Lads that keens me weel,
 Lith ye what, ye what good Luck Ise fun;
Moggey is mine own in spight o'th' De'el,
 I alone her Heart has won:
 Near St. Andrew's Kirk in London Town,
 There Ise, Ise met my Dearest Joy;
 Shinening in her Silken Hued and Gown,
 But ne'er ack, ne'er ack she prov'd not Coy.

Then after many Compliments,
 Streight we gang'd into the Kirk;
 There full weel she tuck the documents,
 And flang me many pleasing Smirk:
 Weel I weat that I have gear enough,
 She's have a Yode to ride ont;
 She's neither drive the Swine, nor the Plough,
 Whatever does betide ont.

Fair

New SONG in the Play call'd, a DUKE and no DUKE. Sung by Mrs. CIBBER.

DAMON if you will believe me,
'Tis not fighting o'er the Plain;
Songs nor Sonnets can't relieve ye,
Faint Attempts in Love are vain :

Urge

Urge but home the fair Occasion,
 And be Master of the Field;
 To a powerful kind Invasion,
 'Twere a Madness not to yield.

Tho' she vow's she'll ne'er permit ye,
 Says you're rude, and much to blame;
 And with Tears implores your pity,
 Be not merciful for shame:
 When the first assault is over,
Chloris time enough will find;
 This so fierce and Cruel Lover,
 Much more gentle, not so kind.

A SONG. The Words made to a Tune of the late Mr. Henry Purcell's.

DRUNK I was last Night that's poss,
 My Wife began to Scold ;
 y what I cou'd for my Heart's Blood,
 Her Clack she wou'd not hold :
 us her Chat she did begin,
 Is this your time of coming in ;
 he Clock strikes One, you'll be undone,
 If thus you lead your Life :
 y Dear said I, I can't deny,
 But what you say is true ;
 do intend, my Life to mend,
 Pray lends the Pot to Spew.

e, you Sot, I ne'er can bear,
 To rise thus e'ery Night ;
 ho' like a Beast you never care,
 What consequence comes by't :
 e Child and I may starve for you,
 We neither can have half our due ;
 ith grief I find, you're so unkind,
 In time you'll break my Heart :
 that I smil'd, and said dear Child,
 I believe your in the wrong ;
 if't shou'd be you're destiny,
 I'll sing a merry Song.

The Gelding the Devil. Set by Mr. Tho. Wron

I Met with the Devil in the shape of a Ram,
 Then over and over the Sow-gelder came;
 I rose and halter'd him fast by the Horns,
 And pick'd out his Stones, as you would pick out Corn
 Maa, quoth the Devil, with that out he slunk,
 And left us a Carkass of Mutton that stunk.

chanc'd to ride forth a Mile and a half,
 Where I heard he did live in disguise of a Calf;
 bound him and Gelt him e'er he did any evil,
 er he was at the best but a young sucking Devil:
 aa, yet he cries, and forth he did steal,
 and this was sold after for excellent Veal.

ome half a Year after in the Form of a Pig,
 met with the Rogue, and he look'd very big;
 caught at his Leg, laid him down on a Log,
 er a Man could Fart twice, I made him a Hog:
 ah, huh quoth the Devil, and gave such a Jerk,
 that a Jew was Converted and eat of that Pork.

Woman's attire I met him most fine,
 at first sight I thought him some Angel divine;
 at viewing his crab Face I fell to my Trade,
 made him forswear ever acting a Maid:
 leaw, quoth the Devil, and so ran away,
 did himielf in a Fryer's old Weeds as they say.

walked along and it was my good chance,
 to meet with a Black-coat that was in a Trance;
 speedily grip'd him, and whip'd off his Cods,
 wixt his Head and his Breech, I left little odds:
 quoth the Devil, and so away ran,
 thou oft will be curst by many a Woman.

A SONG.

WHEN Jemmy first began to love,
 He was the finest Swain;
 That ever yet a Flock had drove,
 Or Danc'd upon the Plain:
 'Twas then that I, woe's me poor heart,
 My Freedom threw away;
 And finding sweets in every part,
 I could not say him nay.

For ever when he spake of Love,
 He wou'd his Eyes decline;
 Each Sigh he gave a Heart wou'd move,
 Good faith, and why not mine:
 He'd press my Hand, and Kifs it oft,
 His silence spoke his Flame;
 And whilst he treated me thus soft,
 I wish'd him more to blame.

Sometimes to feed my Flock with his,
Jemmy wou'd me invite;
 Where he the finest Songs would Sing,
 Me only to Delight:

Then all his Graces he display'd,
Which were enough I trow ;
To conquer any Princely Maid,
So did he me I trow.

But now for Jemmy I must Mourn,
He to the Wars must go ;
His Sheephook to a Sword must turn,
Alack what shall I do ?
His Bagpipes into Warlike sounds,
Must now converted be ;
His Garlands into fearful Wounds,
Oh ! what becomes of me ?

SONG; to the Tune of Woobourn Fair.

Vol. 4. Pag. 330.

MILTING is in such a Fashion,
And such a Fame,
Runs o'er the Nation,
There's never a Dame
Of highest Rank, or of Fame,
Sir, but will stoop to your Caresses,
If you do but put home your Addresses:
It's for that she Paints, and she Patches,
All she hopes to secure is her Name, Sir.

But when you find the Love fit comes upon her,
Never trust much to her Honour ;
Tho' she may very high stand on't,
Yet when her love is Ascendant,
Her Vertue's quite out of Doors :
High Breeding, rank Feeding,
With lazy Lives leading,
In Ease and soft Pleasures,
And taking loose Measures,
With Play-house Diversions,
And Midnight Excursions,
With Balls Masquerading,
And Nights Serenading,
Then Debauch the Sex into Whores, Sir.

A S O N G.

Set by Mr. P A C K.

FAREWEL ungrateful Traytor,
 Farewel my Perjur'd Swain:
 At never injur'd Creature,
 Believe a Man again:
 The pleasure of possessing,
 Surpasses all expressing;
 At Joys too short a Blessing,
 And love too long a Pain:
 At Joys too short a Blessing,
 And Love too long a Pain.

Is easie to deceive us,
 In pity of your Pain;
 At when we Love, you leave us,
 To rail at you in vain:
 Before we have descry'd it,
 There is no Bliss beside it;
 At she that once has try'd it,
 Will never Love again.

The Passion you pretended,
 Was only to obtain;
 At when the Charm is ended,
 The Charmer you disdain:
 Our Love by ours we measure,
 Till we have lost our Treasure;
 At dying is a Pleasure,
 When living is a Pain.

A SONG.

YOU I Love by all that's true,
 More than all things here below ;
 With a Passion far more great,
 Than e'er Creature loved yet :
 And yet still you cry forbear,
 Love no more, or Love not here.

Bid the Miser leave his Ore,
 Bid the Wretched sigh no more ;
 Bid the Old be young again,
 Bid the Nun not think of Man :
Sylvia thus when you can do,
 Bid me then not think on you.

Love's not a thing of Choice, but Fate,
 What makes me Love, that makes you Hate :
Sylvia you do what you will,
 Ease or Cure, Torment or Kill :
 Be Kind or Cruel, False or True,
 Love I must, and none but you.

A. SONG.

Note : You must Sing 8 lines to the first Strain.

ET's be merry blith and jolly,
 Stupid Dulness is a Folly ;
 'Tis the Spring that doth invite us,
 Hark, the chirping Birds delight us :
 Let us Dance and raise our Voices,
 Every Creature now rejoyces ;
 Merry Blasts and springing Flowers,
 Verdant Coverings, pleasant Showers :
 Each plays his part to compleat this our Joy,
 And can we be so dull as to deny.

There's no foolish surly Lover,
 That his Passions will discover ;
 No conceited fopish Creature,
 That is proud of Cloaths or Feature :
 All things here serene and free are,
 They're not Wise, are not as we are ;
 Who acknowledge Heavens Blessings,
 And our innocent Carelessings :
 Then let us Sing, let us Dance, let us Play,
 'Tis the Time, 'tis allow'd, 'tis the Month of May.

A New SONG, the Words by Mr. J. C. S
To Musick by Dr. Prettle.

NO Phillis, tho' you've all the Charms,
Ambitious Woman can desire;
All Beauty, Wit, and Youth that warms,
Or sets our foolish Hearts on fire:

Yet

Yet you may practice all your Arts,
In vain to make a Slave of me;
You ne'er shall re-engage my Heart,
Revolted from your Tyranny:
You ne'er shall re-engage my Heart,
Revolted from your Tyranny.

When first I saw those dang'rous Eyes,
They did my Liberty betray;
But when I knew your Cruelties,
I snatch'd my simple Heart away:
Now I defy your Smiles to win,
My resolute Heart, no pow'r th'ave got;
Tho' once I suck'd their Poyson in,
Your Rigour prov'd an Antidote.

*The Epilogue to the Island Princes, Set by Mr.
Clark, Sung by Mrs. Lindsey, and the Boy.*

Q:

Yet

NOW to you ye dry Wooers,
 Old Beaus, and no doers,
 So doughty, so gourty,
 So useless and toothless,
 Your blindness, cold kindness,
 Has nothing of Man;
 Still doating, or gloating,
 Still stumbling, or fumbling,
 Still hawking, still baulking,
 You flash in the Pan :
 Unfit like old Brooms,
 For sweeping our Rooms,
 You're sunk and you're shrunk,
 Then repent and look to't ;
 In vain you're so upish, in vain you're so upish,
 You're down ev'ry foot.

A Scotch SONG, Set by Mr. R. BROWN.

JOCKEY loves his Moggy dearly,
 He gang'd with her to Perth Fair;
 There we Sung and Pip'd together,
 And when done, then down I'd lay her:
 So pull'd her, and so lull'd her,
 Both o'erwhelm'd with muckle Joy;
 Mog. kiss'd Jockey, Jockey Moggy,
 From long Night to break of Day.

I told Mog. 'twas muckle pleasing,
 Moggy cry'd she'd do again such;
 I reply'd I'd glad gang with thee,
 But 'twould wast my muckle Coyn much:
 She lamented, I relented,
 Both wish'd Bodies might increase;
 When we'd gang next Year together,
 And my Pipe shall never cease.

A SONG, in the Lucky Younger Brother, or, the Beau Defeated; Set by Mr. John Eccles, and Sung by Mr. BOWMAN.

Mimicks an Old Woman.

Sings as himself.

Sbe.

DELIA tir'd Strephon with her Flame,
 While languishing, while languishing she view'd
 The well dress'd Youth despis'd the Dame, (him;
 But still, still; but still the old Fool pursu'd him:
 Give me pity on a Wretch bestow,
 That lyes at your Devotion;
 Perhaps near fifty Years ago,
 Perhaps near fifty Years ago,
 I might have lik'd the Motion.

you, proud Youth, my Flame despise,
 I'll hang me in my Garters;
 Why then make hast to win the Prize,
 Among loves foolish Martyrs:
 Can you see Delia brought so low,
 And make her no Requitals?
Delia may to the Devil go, Delia may to the Devil,
 Devil go, to the Devil, Devil, Devil, Devil, Devil, (Devil go for Strephon;
 Stop my Vitals, stop, stop, stop, stop, stop my Vitals.

A SONG, Set by Mr. John Weldon.

SWAIN thy hopeless Passion smother,
 Perjur'd Calia loves another ;
 In his Arms I saw her lying,
 Panting, Kissing, Trembling, Dying:
 There the Fair deceiver swore,
 As once she did to you before.

Oh! said you, when She deceives me,
 When that Constant Creatures leave me ;
 Ifs Waters back shall fly,
 And leave their Ouzy Channels dry :
 Turn your VVaters, leave your Shore,
 For perjur'd Calia loves no more.

A SONG in the Comedy call'd the BITER, Set
by Mr. John Eccles, and Sung by Mr. Cook.

CHLOE blush'd and frown'd and swore,

And push'd me rudely from her;

I call'd her Faithless, Jilting VVhore,

To talk to me of Honour:

But when I rose and wou'd be gone,

She cry'd nay, whither go ye?

Young Damon saw, now we're alone,

Do, do, do what you will, do what you will with Chloe:

Do what you will, what you will, what you will with (Chloe,

(Chloe,

Do what you will, what you will, what you will with

A SONG in Rinaldo and Armida : Set by Mr.
John Eccles. Sung by Mr. Gouge.

THE Jolly, Jolly Breeze,
That comes whistling through the Trees;
From all the blissful Regions brings,
Perfumes upon its spicy Wings:
With its wanton motion curling,
Curling, curling, curling the crystal Rills,
Which down, down, down, down the Hills,
Run, run, run, run, run o'er Golden gravel purling.

A SONG on the Punch Bowl. To the foregoing Tune.

THE Jolly, Jolly Bowl,
That does quench my thirsty Soul;
When all the mingling Juice is thrown,
Perfum'd with fragrant Goar Stone:
With it's wanton Toast too, curling,
Curling, curling, curling the Nut-brown Riles,
Which down, down, down, down by the Gills,
Run through ruby Swallows purling.

You've been with dull Prologues here banter' dso
 They signify nothing, or less than a Song; (long,
 To sing you a Ballad this Tune we thought fit,
 For Sound has oft nickt you, when Sence could not hit:
 Then Ladies be kind, and Gentlemen mind,
 Wit Capers, play Sharpers, loud Bullies, tame Cullies,
 Sow grumblers, Wench Fumblers, give ear ev'ry Man:
 Mobb'd Sinners in Pinners, kept Foppers, Bench-hop-
 High-Flyers, Pit-Plyers, be still if you can: (pers, You're all in Damnation, you're all in Damnation for (Leading the Van.

Ye Side-Box Gallants, whom the vulgar call Beaus,
 Admirers of Self, and nice Judges of Cloaths;
 Who now the War's over cross boldly the Main,
 Yet ne'er were at Seiges, unless at Campaign:
 Spare all on the Stage, Love in every Age,
 Young Tattles, Wild Rattles, Fan-Tearers, Mask-Fleer(ers;
 Old Coasters, Love boasters, who set up for Truth:
 Young Graces, Black Faces, some Faded, some Jaded,
 Old Mothers, and others, who've yet a Colt's Tooth:
 See us Act that in Winter, you'd all Act in Youth.

You Gallery Haunters, who love to lye snug,
 And maunch Apples or Cakes, while some Neighbour
 (you hugg;

Ye lofties, Genteels, who above us all sit,
 And look down with Contempt, on the Mob in the Pit,
 Here's what you like best, Jigg, Song and the rest,
 Free Laughers, close Graffers, dry Jokers, old Soakers,
 Kind Cousins, by Dozens, your Customs don't break:
 Sly Spouses with Blouses, grave Horners, in Corners,
 Kind No-wits, save Poets, clap 'till your Hands ake,
 And tho' the Wits Damn us, we'll say the Whims-take.

A SONG Set by Mr. JOHN BARRETT, and Sung
by Mrs. LINDSEY.

CÆLIA hence with Affectation,
Hence with all this careless Air ;
Hypocrisy is out of Fashion,
With the Witty and the Fair :

Natur

Nature all thy Arts discloses,
While the Pleasures she supplies;
Paint thy glowing Cheeks with Roses,
And inflame thy sparkling Eyes.

Foolish Calia not to know,
Love thy Int'rest and thy Duty;
Thou to love alone dost owe,
All thy Joy, and all thy Beauty;
Mark the tuneful Feather'd kind,
At the coming of the Spring;
All in happy Pairs are joyn'd,
And because they love they Sing.

A SONG, Set by Mr. CLARK.

HOW often have I curs'd that fable Deceit,
 For making me wish and admire;
 And rife poor Ovid to learn to intreat,
 When Reason might check my desire :
 For sagely of late it has been disclos'd,
 There's nothing, nothing conceal'd uncommon ;
 No Miracles under a Mask repos'd,
 When knowing Cynthia's a Woman.

Tho' Beauty's great Charms our Sences delude,
 'Tis the Centre attracts our Needle ;
 And Love's a Jest when thought to intrude,
 The design of it to unriddle :
 A Virgin may show strange coyness in Love,
 And tell you Chimera's of Honour ;
 But give her her Wish, the Man she approves,
 No Labour he'll have to win her.
